Many of the children have to walk two miles to school, and when they are compelled to eat a cold lunch, it is not at all attractive to attend school. With the innovation of the district furnishing a free hot dish daily, their lunches will taste much better. It is probable that each school patron will furnish his share of food to be served. In the Ritchen, at recess, the food to be served hot will be prepared by Miss Eberle, who will instruct the children in cooking. The children will be given dishes ing.
