

CATS SHOW OFF IN LUXURIOUS BOUDOIR

On Cushions of Silks and Satin, Embanked With Roses, Feelines Are Exhibited.

STRAY ONE PURRS IN STRAW

Exposition at Meier & Frank Store
Greatest in History of Oregon
Club—Judging of 170 Contestants Put Under Way.

From early morning until late last night the fifth floor of the Meier & Frank store was crowded with the throngs who had come to view the third annual show staged by the Oregon Cat Club.

In every respect it was a record one, not only from the numerical strength of the entries which were far in excess of previous years, but also from the quality of the animals entered, the number of handsome cups and other prizes, and the interest taken in the show by the public.

Every conceivable kind of cat, from the aristocratic Persian down to the humblest stray tabby had a clean white cage, stuffed with fresh straw, and there were 170 representatives of their race gathered together, for in addition to those listed on the programme 20 cats came in from the program before the show opened. Under the rating of the American Cat Association the show will rank as a two-point one, four points being the highest awarded to those where over 250 cats are in evidence.

Sir Ko Ko Notable.

Among the most notable long-haired cats shown were Sir Ko Ko, a beautiful blue; Flying Fox, a noted champion silver, and two blacks, Donna and Onyx, of Avonlea. The first is owned by Mrs. G. F. Miller, Flying Fox of course is the representative of the famous stud of that name owned by Mrs. Paul Janney, of Medford, last year's judge, while the Avonlea cats are owned by Mrs. F. D. Clark.

Another promising kitten is Geneva Cream Puff, who honored her mother, Geneva Princess, by carrying off all three firsts for female cats. Though not judged as yet Mrs. C. M. Le Valley's silver cats are sure to carry off honors, for there is real quality about them. Short-haired and the long and short neuters and all the specials will be judged today.

Efficient Judge in Charge.
Two striking features of the show are the efficient judging of Mrs. Elbert E. Besse, secretary of the national body, and the decoration of many of the pens or cages.

Though not starting in until 1 o'clock Mrs. Besse, secretary of the national body, and the decoration of many of the pens or cages. Though not starting in until 1 o'clock Mrs. Besse, secretary of the national body, and the decoration of many of the pens or cages.

One kitten brought up which had been placed in the long-haired class provided a striking example. One sweep of the hand against the fur and she said, "Take that away. It is only half Persian." Yet to the ordinary observer and to many of the local cat experts it would have been impossible to tell that it was not a pure long-haired kitten.

Luxurious Boudoirs Shown.
Mrs. Besse said yesterday that local fanciers had made wonderful progress considering the short time which had been in existence. In contradistinction to most Eastern shows greater interest was shown in short-haired cats, while in numerous cases they had been entered wrongly through insufficient knowledge of colors. There were no outstanding "smokes," while the silvers were not well represented except for one cat, which would have been remarkable but for a blemish.

The decorations of many of the pens were wonderful. One cat had a boudoir of pale blue satin and silk, with cunning pillow and basins all of the same color; another, Bob De Lacy, a stray cat which had found a luxurious home, reclined at ease in a bower of yellow roses and a black and yellow basket while a lovely tawny animal was seated on an O. A. C. pillow which formed an excellent background. Pink, purple and gold and black velvet formed many of the decoration color schemes. Nina Heata, a short-haired tabby with seven kittens, owned by Mrs. H. L. Clark, attracted much attention.

One cat, Beauty Mittens, a double-pawed animal, had boxing gloves in his cage, with a challenge to any other Tom, some gold fish swimming about unmolested, and a photograph of himself, while in another cage Jack Johnson stalked about disdainfully refusing the challenge hurled at him. The prize-winners adjourned to the Silver female open.

"MACHINE" IS LOST

Mayor Seeking for Useful Political Device.

CANDIDATE'S VISIT IS TOLD

Chief Executive Admits He Pays No Taxes on Mechanism but Declares Collector Has All His Other Possessions Listed.

Mayor Ruhlright says he is diligent seeking a political machine, which he says he is credited with having somewhere in his possession, but of which he declares he knows nothing. A rumor was afloat yesterday that he would put several secret agents out to hunt down the elusive mechanical device, but he would neither deny or confirm it.

"Is it true that you own a political machine?" the Mayor was asked when he was caught in his office, buried behind a pile of contracts, ordinances and other public documents.

"All I know about it," he replied, hesitatingly, "is that I am credited with owning such a device; personally I know nothing of it."

"Are you required to pay taxes on this machine?" he was asked.

"If I do not, then it is the only thing upon which I do not have to pay taxes," he replied with a broad grin, while the Mayor, in connection with this alleged political machine, during the recent campaign, a young man who aspired to a judicial position, appeared in the Mayor's office and the following conversation is said to have taken place.

Aspirant—Your honor, I am here to ask if I can get the help of your machine to elect me.

Mayor—I would be glad to let you have it, but it's in the garage just now; I tried to run it up a telephone pole the other night.

Mrs. Elbert E. Besse, of Chicago, Judge of Cat Show.

Aspirant—Pardon me, but I hardly think you understand me; I want to see if you will consent to your political machine being wheeled into line to help me in my election.

Mayor—I see you have been misled by public reports. I thought you wished to use my automobile in your campaign. I have no political machine that I know of, but while I do not know you very well personally, I have heard that you are a good man and I will promise you my own vote.

Very much crestfallen and somewhat skeptical the young man left the Mayor's office.

"I hardly know what to do to find

CONVICT SCORN PARDON

FEDERAL OFFICERS BAFLED BY MAN WANTED.

T. E. York Refused to Leave Oregon Penitentiary and Authorities Cannot Force Him Out.

WHY DRINK WATER WHEN YOU CAN GET SALEM BEER

"I know my legal rights and I absolutely refuse to accept that pardon," was the statement made Wednesday afternoon by T. E. York at the Oregon State Penitentiary, when the warden read him a pardon granted by Governor West, which was conditioned that he be turned over to the Federal authorities, by whom he was to be taken to Chicago to answer a charge of perjury in connection with the issuance of some passports. The prisoner had been convicted of swindling a Klamath Falls bank and had been sentenced to serve from two to 20 years in the penitentiary.

The two years had expired and, as the Chicago authorities were anxious to get possession of the man, United States Marshal Scott took the matter up with Governor West and the conditional pardon was issued. Deputy United States Marshal Fuller went to Salem after the man and when he was brought out into the warden's office and the pardon read to him, he positively refused to accept it, also refusing to leave the penitentiary unless forcibly thrown out.

COGHILAN SAIL FOR EUROPE.
VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 23.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. John Coghilan, who were married in New York a few days ago, left yesterday on the Mauretania, bound for Liverpool and Europe, to be gone for several months, according to a telegram received today by R. F. Guerin, brother of the bride. Dr. and Mrs. Coghilan will be at home to their friends at the Portland Hotel, Portland. The members are advised to land after July 1.

For the first time in many months, Lelia, the dusky maid who has captivated all visitors to the Good Samaritan Hospital, is able to walk, though still wearing a plaster cast. In a few days that will be removed, and then Lelia will find she has a perfectly straight pair of legs, in place of the crooked and twisted ones she had when she entered the hospital.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly, ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dya-pepsin get this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. Do difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

And yesterday every one in the hospital was astonished to see a real, live, chubby Lelia walking about, gingerly, of course, but really walking. Lelia herself was so surprised she didn't know what to do, except shriek out, time after time "Watch me walking, watch me do."

York refused to talk to either the warden or Deputy Marshal Fuller as to the grounds for his refusal, except to say that the Klamath County officials had made him promises, when he pleaded guilty there, that they had not kept, and his refusal to accept the pardon was the result of legal advice. Having been pardoned, even conditionally, he cannot be carried on the books of the penitentiary as a prisoner and can only be considered as a guest until such time as he consents to go to Chicago, and this may continue indefinitely, without reference to the length of his original sentence.
