TARIFF REVISERS NEED INCOME TAX

Added Source of Revenue Essential to Democratic Reduction Plans.

HEARING FINISHED

Mohair, Now Luxury, to Be Held Necessity, With Reduced Rate, if Chairman Underwood's Views Prevail.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28,-A feature of the tariff revision programme of the extra session of Congress may be the raising of $100,000,000 from an intax, including the corporation Representative Hull, of Tennessee, a Democratic member of the committee on ways and means, who has been active in income-tax problems. plans to introduce a bill which would provide such a source of revenue.

provide such a source of revenue.

This would be considered by the committee in connection with contemplated early ratification of the constitutional amendment to sanction income tax legislation. Of the necessary number of states required for ratification, only two are lacking. Mr. Hull expects these to be drawn from New Jersey, Wyoming, New Mexico or West Virginia, or possibly Florida, whose Legislature, however, will not meet until April.

Excise May Be Renewed.

The Democratic majority of the com-mittee favors an income tax, but in the event of fallure of ratification will renew the excise tax plan as an ex-tension of the present corporation tax law.

went over for a day to allow the gathering of a fifth special venire.

An unexpected attack was made on Jurer George C. Robins, who took the final cath last week, and when Judge Conley refused to excuse him for cause the peremptory challenge, which the defense attenuously resisted. Assistant District Attorney Ford asserted that Robins had expressed an opinion that the second trial of the former chief counsel for the Menamaras was an unwarranted waste of the county's funds and an effort to "break" Darrow.

Robins stoutly denied having expressed any such opinion. The defense finally used a peremptory challenge on John Farley, the aged Civil War veteran, whose disqualification was sought early last week because

Mr. Murray further declared many members of the insuriar committee were wondering if it is wise to commit ourselves and the party to support of the Jones bill, which would give the Filipinos independence in cight years. He declared the United States should not withdraw from the Philippines until it had made treaties of neutrality with other nations, so Japan could not selze the islands.

The Speaker declared the House, appealing to them to attend sessions regularly and aid in getting through important business before March 4.

The Speaker declared it would be a reflection upon the Democratic majority if the great supply measures should go over to the extra session.

Mr. Jones, "that the government which the United States has laid upon the Filipinos and under the dominance of which they are forced to live is an oligarchy of the most intolerable, des-potic and unrestricted character,

Supply Bills Fail to Pass.

Supply Bills Fail to Pass.

Twice the Legislature failed to pass supply bills," Mr. Jones said, 'because the lower branch insisted upon reducing the salaries of members of the Philippine Commission and because the Commission insisted on the right to appropriate large sums for the Benguet road, a highway built at a cost of several million dollars, through a mountain gorge, to a resort called Baguio, to which the Government is transferred from Manila several months each year.

There, he continued, United States officials had handsome homes, clubhouses, polo grounds and other sources of amusement and recreation.

He charged that when the supply bills failed the Governor-General ordered the appropriation of sums equal to the total appropriations for the previous years.

"Baguio and the Benguet road were liberally provided for," said Mr. Jones, "new offices were created and the salaries of existing offices increased."

In that action, he declared, Governor-General Forbes acted without the advice of the Solicitor-General and Attorney-General of the islands, and over the protect of Charles B. Elliott, a former member of the Commission.

"Nothing that our Government has done in the Philippines," he added, "has aroused more feeling and created more resentment on the part of the helpicss Filipinos, It has shaken, if not destroyed, the confidence of the Filipino people in the United States' sense of justice and fair dealing, and removed every vestige of sentiment which may have existed in favor of United States

The committee finished today hearings on wool and it is likely the plane embodied in the two previous Democratic wool bills will be undisturbed. This is true of all the so-called "fighting" schedules on which the Democratis went on record in this Congress—wool. cotton, metal, chemical, sugar and the farmers' free list—so far as the Democratic loaders now foresee. The last of the 14 schedules, "sundisting," will be taken up tomorrow.

Mehair to Be Reduced.

Mohair, used in the manufacture of clothing for felt, plushes and other purposes, bids fair to be reduced from 18 to 29 per cent ad valorem. Johnston Robertson, of Del Rio, Tex., an Angora goat producer, pleaded today for a specific rate of 12 cents a pound, equivalent to the present 40 per cent duty.

Chairman Underwood pointed out that it was the raw material for great industries, and although now a luxury, it was becoming a necessity.

Representative Longworth, of Ohio, and Frank P. Bennett, of Boston, a witness, had a lively little till. Longworth accused Bennett retorted that evidently Longworth's constituents "had not thought much of his services," referring to his defeat in November.

Credit Expansion Brings Pante.

A chart produced by Mr. Berry purported to show that panic followed an expansion of credit to a point where it was beyond the support of the available cash reserves.

"That is the situation now," he continued. "The credits granted have been extended to a point where the reserves are but $.2 per cent of the outstanding obligations of the banks. Unless these reserves are extended in some way a panic inevitably will follow. That $2 per cent was about the breaking point of 1907."

A chart produced by Mr. Berry purported to show that panic followed an expansion of credit to a point where the it was beyond the support of the Eighth Cavalry to clear up the country near Jolo. An expedition was organized under Patrick McNally, Captain of the Philippine Scouts, who lost his tife in the fight.

The expedition consisted of the Fourteenth, Thirty-First and Fortieth companies of Philippine Scouts, a detachment of American troops, with a field gun and some of the Moro Philippine Constabulary, making practically a full battalion.

This force was sent against a cotta, is miles west of the way a panic inevitably will follow. That $2 per cent was about the breaking point of 1907."

This force was sent against a cotta, six miles west of Jolo, where a large band of Moros had been a standing menace to the city and garrison at Taglibi. The Moros had not hesitated to attack the American troops in camp, and it was decided to break the power of their chief. Sahipa. The Moro postition was strongly defended by walls, bamboo entanglements and deep ditches. bamboo entanglements and deep ditches.

General Pershing reported that the attack, was handled with great skill and that the final assault, which carried the cotta, was characterized by many individual acts of gallantry.

It has been surmised, according to Navy officers, that either at Honolulu or Mare Island the hull of the cruiser was subjected to strong, steady pressure by some vessel that came alongside and that the deat, which Admiral Southerland says is not 109 feet long, was the result. An investigation is not expected.

The accident to the cruiser occurred before Admiral Southerland became commander of the Pacific fleet, but just how or when, no one, it is stated, seems to know.
