

SHERIDAN WINS MISS MCGUNNIGLE

Descendant of Illustrious General of Civil War to Wed in Hawaii.

DOUBLE WEDDING PLANNED

Miss Josephine Smith, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith, Will Pledge Troth to Lieutenant Joseph Andrews Same Day.

From far-away Hawaii comes the news of a double engagement—the betrothal of two of the most charming girls who have ever been a factor in the life of Portland's most exclusive set.

Miss Josephine Smith went across the seas with Miss Isabelle McGunneigle a short time ago for a visit of a few months in the islands and now friends in this city hear that both she and her lovely hostess have decided to spend the ranks of the young matrons, and that next April on the very same day, both girls will pledge their troth with two of the Army officers who are now stationed in Hawaii.

Miss Smith is to become the bride of Lieutenant Joseph Andrews, and Miss McGunneigle will wed Lieutenant Phil Sheridan, descendant of the illustrious General of Civil War fame. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith and is most popular. Miss McGunneigle is beautiful and vivacious and has an individuality of style and unaffected manner that is a great factor in her social success. She is the daughter of Colonel McGunneigle, who was in command for some time at Vancouver, but who was lately transferred to the Hawaiian Islands.

Lieutenant Sheridan is a dashing cavalry officer and his own popularity, together with the great distinction of his family, makes the engagement of more than ordinary note. Miss Smith's fiancé, Lieutenant Andrews, is of the artillery, and is one of the prominent young men of the post.

The young people have decided to have a double wedding and to remain on the islands for three years, and so it will be regretted by Portland society that there will be no opportunity for them to entertain in honor of these two interesting brides-elect.

Miss Jean Morrison, youngest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Morrison, was the inspiration for a tea yesterday at which her sister, Mrs. Thomas Sharp, presided at the rectory. Mrs. Sharp is here from her home, a pretty country place near Eugene, for a visit to her relatives, and yesterday's event brought together many of her girlhood friends and others of the younger set who were invited to greet the guest of honor.

The affair was informal, with only Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Donald Green (Dorothy Morrison), receiving with the hostess, and Miss Jean Morrison, tea. The table was prettily decorated with Enchantress carnations and pink blossoms were used in the drawing-room. Those who presided in the dining-room were Mrs. C. W. Clark, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Thomas Robertson, Mrs. G. Kirkham Smith, Mrs. Joseph Bradley, Mrs. Lee Hawley Hoffman, Mrs. Robert Lewis and Mrs. C. W. Clark.

Yesterday's function was one of the many interesting affairs that have been given for Miss Morrison, who is one of the season's debutantes. An interesting luncheon planned for Saturday will be given by the Portland members of the Alumnae Delta Gamma, who will entertain a hearty repeat in the annex of the Olds, Wortman & King tea-room at 11:30. Among the prominent members of the sorority are Mrs. J. C. Elliott King, Mrs. M. Leiter, Mrs. William Belcher, Miss Agnes Murdock, Miss Agnes Beach, Miss Louise Brace, Miss Wood Johnson, Mrs. Earl Parker, Miss C. E. Knight, Mrs. Harry Kimball, Miss Alta Haywood and Miss Emma Goddard.

Mrs. B. O. Case will entertain informally tomorrow at tea. Her guests will include a number of the members of St. Stephens Pro-Cathedral, of which Mrs. Case is a member.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett left Tuesday for New York, from where they will sail February 12 for Panama, returning on the 15th. On March 12, they will visit at the home of Mrs. Corbett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoyt, in New York City, before returning to Portland. Mrs. Corbett is Miss Gretchen Hoyt, one of the most popular belles in society in the metropolis, and is always the inspiration for lavish entertaining.

At a quiet ceremony on Tuesday evening, Miss Muriel J. Crouch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Crouch, became the bride of John Rohrer, an attorney of this city. The marriage took place at the home of Rev. W. O. Shank in the presence of a few relatives and close friends. Mr. and Mrs. Rohrer will make their home at a pretty new bungalow on East Seventh street.

The ball at the Multnomah Club tonight will be largely attended and will be one of the most important events of the pre-Lenten season. About 150 couples have signified their intention of being present. The committee have arranged the details in a capable way and the dance will be a fitting finale for the club's season. Those in charge of the affair are Mr. H. Allen, G. Ralph Knight, Morris Whitehouse, Edward Morris, Harry Stephenson, Melville Ogden.

"Sudermann's Heroines of His Novels and Dramas," was the subject of the discussion at the recent meeting of the German department of the Women's Club on Monday. Schiller's "Maria Stuart" will be the subject at the next meeting.

The various societies of Lincoln High School are planning to give an entertainment on February 27, in the school auditorium. An interesting program will be presented. Among the societies taking part will be the Music, Tolo, Philolexian, Adelphean, Photarian and Daleth Nun and the boys' and girls' glee clubs, the orchestra, the Dress Reform Club and the Scribblers, or staff of the cardinal.

A musical event eagerly anticipated will take place at Trinity Church tonight, when the choir of the church, under the direction of W. H. Boyer, will present Dudley Buck's beautiful cantata, "The Coming of the King." The affair has been arranged by a number of society women who are devotees of music and who were anxious to give the public an opportunity to hear this cantata rendered. A large gathering of society folk and lovers of the best in music will be in attendance. The soloists are: Mrs. Rosa Bloch Bauer, soprano; Mrs. Delphine Young, contralto; Joseph Mulder,

PORTLAND YOUNG MAN GOES EAST TO STUDY LANDSCAPE GARDENING.

George H. Otten, son of George Otten, a prominent landscape gardener and architect of Portland, will leave tomorrow for New York, where he will enter Columbia University to take up a course in landscape gardening under Professor Vitale. After completing his course in Columbia University, he contemplates a trip to Europe further to pursue his studies in landscape gardening. Mr. Otten is a graduate of the University of Oregon, class of 1911, and for the past year has been in the employment of the City of Portland in the engineering department. His thesis on which he received his degree in the University of Oregon was a description and design for landscape gardening for the Hampton home, which is one of the finest residences in Eugene.

sell Sewall will preside with Mrs. Bates as the especially honored guest.

Mr. and Mrs. I. L. White will make their home at the Hotel Multnomah for the remainder of the winter. The board of managers of the Domestic Service Bureau met Tuesday at the office, 206 Central building, and reviewed the work of the bureau since its beginning five months ago. The institution was found to be prospering and has accomplished much good in the short time it has been in existence. Out of 167 girls placed recently, 168 have proved satisfactory. Mrs. R. M. Lombard is president of the Domestic Service Bureau and has the assistance of a corps of enthusiastic workers.

The attractive home of Mrs. Johnston P. Porter was the scene of an elaborate reception Tuesday evening when prominent women of the Westminster Presbyterian Church were hostesses, entertaining several hundred of their friends. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In the dining-room the table was banked with red carnations, mingled with greens and the most delicate floral decorations. An excellent programme added to the success of the evening. Mrs. Max Shillock and Mrs. Sara Glance Bowman contributed several solos.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Caldwell, who will leave soon for a visit to New York, Mrs. F. I. Fuller will entertain tomorrow evening at her hospitable home in Spring street. There will be six tables for progressive bridge after which supper will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Henry are planning to leave about February 15, for a trip to California.

TEACHERS APPROVE BILL

Portland Association Addressed by Members of Women's Club.

Mrs. F. Egert, president of the Portland Women's Club, addressed the Portland Grade Teachers' Association at its regular meeting at Unitarian Church yesterday, speaking briefly on the aims to be attained in endeavoring to place the teaching profession on a plan of merit. Mrs. Millie Trumbull, chairman of the legislative committee of Women's Federated Clubs of Oregon, presented the following legislative bills, which were approved as recommended: Providing for medical examination for securing marriage license; widows' pension bill; Dr. Owen-Adair's sterilization bill; industrial commission; moral's court bill. Other bills of educational interest read were voted to be discussed at the next regular meeting.

An announcement was made of a lecture to be given under the auspices of the Women's Club of Portland at the Lincoln High School Friday evening, by Professor Sanford, formerly of Swarthmore College, and the University of Minnesota. Her subject will be "Literature for Everybody."

A communication was read from Miss La Mont, of the Y. W. C. A., announcing the beginning of a domestic science class for February.

Deer Slayers Fined.

ESTACADA, Or., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Everett Surfus and Matt Dibble, Jr., well-known residents of Elwood, were arraigned before Justice Givens Monday on a charge of killing deer out of season. They pleaded guilty and were fined $50 each and costs.

FILM CENSORS ARE STIRRED BY CHARGE

Criticism by G. Grombacher, of Independent Western Exchange, Resented.

CHAIRMAN MAKES REPLY

Mrs. E. B. Colwell, of Voluntary Board, Declares Other Managers Approve of Method and in Various Ways Co-operate.

The members of the Portland Board of Censorship for moving picture shows feel that they have a grievance. After working gratuitously for the past two years and giving of their best thought, their time and efforts, they are now discredited by the Independent Western Film Exchange. George Grombacher, one of these managers, states in a circular letter sent broadcast through the Northwest, West Coast and the Portland Board of Censorship, that they "find that the persons appointed for such duties assume a great deal of authority and are rather abusive in their attitude toward the board thus maligned includes Mrs. E. B. Colwell, representing the Associated Charities; Mrs. A. C. Newell, of the Women's Club; Mrs. Morrison, chairman of the Council of Jewish Women, and Mrs. Millie Trumbull, of the Child Labor Commission.

Quites the reverse of the criticism of the Independent Western Film Company's opinion is that offered by the representatives of the other two exchanges. Melville Ogden, general manager of the Peoples Amusement Company, said in referring to the subject: "I am amazed that there should be any criticism of the local Board of censorship."

"My associates and I have come in daily contact with Mrs. Colwell and other official members of the board and have at all times met her with courteous, considerate, patient and broad-minded. Occasionally we have differed in our judgments, but matters have in every instance been decided carefully and conscientiously, and after most mature deliberation we state that the board's work has been helpful and uplifting and that its continued existence is necessary for the moral and social advancement of the city."

Board Considered Fair. H. B. Stevens, head of the General Film Company, said that he felt sure that the board had the true interests of the people at heart and that his firm had the same opinion. He added that there had never been any friction and that the members of the board had been most helpful and that they were a great influence for good and were at all times fair minded.

Mrs. E. B. Colwell, chairman of the Board of Censorship, yesterday said: "I have read the persons appointed to the charge brought against this board by the Independent Western Film Exchange, through Mr. Grombacher and through him spread broadcast throughout this Northwest. I would not dignify the charge with a reply were it not for the fact that it is calculated to do much harm, and create an altogether wrong idea of this board and its work among the picture theaters of Portland."

"Let us see what he charges: He says, first, that the persons appointed have assumed a great deal of authority and his second charge is that we are rather abusive in determining what should and what should not be shown."

Disinterested Woman Named. "Regarding the first indictment, I beg leave to state that we have had considerable discussion at meetings, to which Mr. Grombacher and his associates, in which his representatives did much discussion, and it was agreed by him, in combination with the Film Exchange managers of this city, that we should have this authority. We, by no means, assumed it of our own volition. I am satisfied that the other Film Exchange managers and the proprietors of other reputable theaters will say that this is the truth, that as the chairman of this board I have appointed none but the most clear-headed and most disinterested women of this city. They have given their time every day since this agreement was entered into to do this work, and I think that I can say, without fear of contradiction, that all of their work has been marked with a liberality and broad-mindedness which should call for commendation rather than adverse criticism. We have ever there has been a doubt which did not go to the assistance of wrong or viciousness we have decided that doubt in favor of the picture man, and realizing the facts as they appear from the picture man's point of view. We have assumed no authority which has not been voluntarily accorded to."

"Referring to the second that we have been rather abusive, we deny this. After Mr. Grombacher and the rest of the film people agreed to let their voluntary board of censorship rather than a politically appointed body, we felt that they meant it sincerely, and when after mature consideration we saw the exhibition of which we thought were detrimental to the public good, we took a stand and we felt that our judgment should be respected and at all times have respectfully insisted upon this course."

INSURANCE OFFICIAL DIES

Amzi Dodd, of Mutual Benefit Life, Succumbs at Age of 90.

Arnold S. Rothwell, general agent of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, N. J., has received word of the death of Amzi Dodd, ex-president of that company. He was 90 years old.

In speaking of him Mr. Rothwell said: "Mr. Dodd was a remarkable man in many ways and was one of the pioneers of mutual life insurance, who stood strictly to the principle that such a company was only operated in the interests of its members. He was such a conspicuous figure in the life insurance business as the result of his 30 years' fight against the methods of the big insurance companies that in 1905 he was selected by Governor
