

WOMEN DECLARE UNCEASING FIGHT

Suffragettes Continue Window Smashing, Despite Imprisonment of 31.

FIERY PACKAGES IN MAIL

Mrs. Despard's Fine Paid by Unknown Person—She Leaves Jail Declaring More War—Those in Prison Refuse Food.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Imprisonment under a 14-day sentence for Mrs. Drummond and 30 other militant suffragettes today failed to put an end to the depredations in London, although when the suffragettes resumed their window-smashing and postbox outrages tonight they were not on as large a scale as yesterday. Their endeavors, however, were sufficient to bring about a state of nervous apprehension among the shopkeepers and the large bodies of police and private watchmen guarding the streets and buildings.

One of the latest means of annoying officials resorted to by the suffragettes developed tonight when many packages were found in the various post-offices which, on being opened, burst into flames. Some of them were addressed to Premier Asquith and Chancellor Lloyd-George.

Windows Are Smashed. The windows in some of the government offices, as in the Hamburg-American Packet Company were broken and a few arrests were made.

Mrs. Despard, a leader of the militant suffragettes who, with two women companions, was sentenced yesterday to 14 days' imprisonment on the charge of restoring the police, was released tonight, some unknown person paying her fine of $10. Mrs. Despard, who is a sister of General Sir John French, had refused to accept the option offered by the magistrate of paying a fine and was sent to jail.

On being notified of her release tonight, the suffragette leader said: "Whoever paid that fine was my friend of mine. But I am going out to fight again."

The 31 suffragettes sentenced today immediately declared a "hunger strike." When choice between going to jail and paying a fine was offered, all the women promptly said they would go to jail and promised future reprisals. They were sentenced as a result of their determination to force David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to receive them in the House of Commons last night.

Mrs. Drummond was especially bitter upon being sentenced. She told the magistrate that the police had handled her roughly when arrested and said one patrolman had thrown her in the mud.

"It is now war to the knife," she said. "You and Mr. Lloyd-George have lots of trouble ahead of you. You will have to do the dirty work and you will have plenty of it to do." Among the women sentenced today were window smashers and letter box draggers, as well as the women who tried to enter the House of Commons. They entered Bow-street station fully prepared to go to jail. Boxes, bags, blankets and even fur-lined coats formed part of their equipment, but none had any food with them and all joined in declaring that they would not touch a morsel of food as long as they remained in jail.

TRIAL OF BEACH PRESSED

New Yorker and His Wife in South Carolina to Face Ordeal.

AIKEN, S. C., Jan. 29.—The case of Frederick O. Beach, of New York, charged with assaulting his wife, Mrs. Caroline Beach, here a year ago, probably will be called for trial in the general sessions court next Tuesday.

Mr. Beach was indicted by the Aiken County grand jury after an investigation of an attack on Mrs. Beach in which she was cut on the throat. It was announced at the time that she had been attacked by a negro who had called at the winter home of the family to deliver a message. The officials refused to accept the explanation and the investigation and indictment of Beach followed.

Accompanied by their attorneys Mr. and Mrs. Beach arrived here today. They came from Hot Springs, Va., where they have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt.

'LIE' ENGLISH, SAYS COURT

Federal Judge Rules in Favor of Shorter and Uglier Word.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Federal Judge Mack ruled in favor of the shorter and uglier word today. Counsel for the defendant, cross-examining A. L. Wiesner, on trial with John J. Meyers for alleged misuse of the mails in promoting stocks, forced the witness to admit he had misinterpreted the Postoffice Department statement concerning his enterprises. This the prosecutor characterized as "lies," Counsel for the defense thereupon made stout objection. Here the court interrupted.

"The witness has admitted," said Judge Mack, "that he made those statements knowing them to be false and they were therefore, if I understand the English language, lies. The prosecutor may use the word 'lies' as to such statements."

PENALTY BILL RECALLED

Senate Finds by Oversight It Has Almost Let Condemned Men Free.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Several persons sentenced to 30 years in the District of Columbia had managed to escape death had President Taft signed the bill recently passed by the Senate and House providing for hanging as a method of capital punishment in the district.

The Senate, discovering that the new law, which was to have become effective immediately, abolished the penalty in pending cases, adopted today a joint resolution recalling the bill from the White House, where it awaited the President's signature.

Farm Animals More Valuable. WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Farm animals on farms and ranges in the United States on January 1, were valued at $5,501,732,000, compared with $5,005,237,000 last year. The Department of Agriculture announced today. They include horses, mules, mules, cows, sheep, cattle, sheep and swine and numbered 24,410,000, compared with 23,992,000 last year.

RED FLAG ASSAILED

Socialists, Defending Use, Repudiate I. W. W.

VETERANS SUPPORT BILL

Massachusetts, With Occurrences at Lawrence in Mind, Considering Measures to Suppress Use of Sanguinary Emblem.

BOSTON, Jan. 29.—A little party of Grand Army veterans climbed Beacon Hill today and made "one more stand for the old flag—this time to prevent what they described as its desecration."

Bills providing that only the Stars and Stripes, except in international courtesy, might be displayed in the streets of Massachusetts, are before a legislative committee. All are directed toward the suppression of the red banner, the appearance of which in the streets of Lawrence at the time of the recent strike of mill operatives provoked the legislation that has spread throughout the state.

Socialists Repudiate I. W. W. Prominent Socialists defended the exhibition of a flag of red because that color happens to be the symbol adopted by their political party, but wishes it understood that their organization did not approve the methods of the Industrial Workers of the World, who conducted the Lawrence strike.

George R. Hooley, department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Edward Skelton, assistant commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, likewise supported the bills.

Representatives of a committee of citizens from Lawrence said the time had come to uphold the American flag and compel respect for it.

Professor Ellen Hayes, of Wellesley College, addressed the committee as a lay defender of the red banner.

"There is no chance whatever between the Stars and Stripes and the red flag," she said, "because they all must come in time to what the red flag stands for. The red flag is the flag of humanity and the flag of peace."

The allies are agreed on all questions, being fully cognizant of the fact that their power lies in maintaining and strengthening their compact. Thus it has been arranged in general terms that Salonski shall be under the domination of Bulgaria, Serbia and Greece, and that if differences arise between the members of the alliance which cannot be arranged amicably, the contending parties must defer to arbitration.

Rumanian Protocol Signed. Dr. Danoff, head of the Bulgarian delegation, and M. Mishu, the Rumanian Minister to Great Britain, signed a protocol today embodying the views of both nations on the Rumanian claims for territory which would give her Silistria. The protocol will furnish the basis for the negotiations.

Rumania bases her demands on the argument that the war has occasioned such changes in the political equilibrium that guarantees for the future friendship of the two nations have become necessary. The Bulgarians declare that Rumania has increased her demands since a renewal of the war has been threatened and assert that to Bulgarian government could grant the cession of territory for which Rumania asks.

SAVOFF ADDRESSES TROOPS "Prepare for Fresh Victories," Is Bulgarian General's Command.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 29.—General Savoff, commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army, addressed today the following words to the men under his command:

"From the course taken by the peace negotiations it becomes evident that the enemy is unwilling to yield an inch of the territory conquered by our victorious armies. The Turks wish by a stroke of the pen to destroy all that you and your brave brothers who have fallen in battle have won."

"Will the heroes of Kirk-Kiliseh, Rumarbissar, Lule-Burgas and Tchatalja allow this affront to the glorious army of Bulgaria to go unanswered? Prepare then for fresh victories and with your irresistible movement forward show the enemies and the whole world that Bulgaria, our fatherland, deserves more respect."

TROOPS REPORTED RIOTING Lines of Wounded Indicate Trouble on Tchatalja Lines.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—A Constantinople dispatch to the Post, sent by way of Constantia, says it is evident that something is happening at Tchatalja, as wounded men are arriving from there constantly.

Unconfirmed reports say that 14,000 Circassian troops have mutinied and rioting also is reported among the troops at the Dardanelles.

A dispatch to the Chronicle from Constantinople giving similar reports says that the advance of the army is impossible, as half of the 60,000 transport animals are either dead or suffering from lack of proper food.

The roads are in a deplorable condition because of the heavy rains.

REAL COME ASKED FOR OLD SOLDIERS

Senate Sub-Committee Finds Conditions at Santa Monica Deplorable.

INVESTIGATION IS WANTED

Best of Care for Veterans So That They Shall Bless Nation for Its Bounty Rather Than Upbraid it for Neglect, is Urged.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Management of the Pacific branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers at Santa Monica could hardly be any worse, according to a report to the Senate today of the subcommittee of the Senate military affairs committee appointed under the resolution introduced in Congress on December 14, 1911, charging maladministration and calling for an investigation of the home.

The report states that many old soldiers have been discharged from the home because of complaints made against the management; that there is not sufficient attention between the inmates, and quarters are inadequate; inmates are allowed to use intoxicants; the mess arrangements are bad and not sufficient attention is given to the needs of the old soldiers are forced to wear "dead men's" clothing; they are not paid fair wages for work performed and punishments are excessive.

Transfer suggested. Accompanying the report is a bill to transfer the home to the War Department.

"The bill is recommended," says the report, "in the hope that a little more and a little more comfort may come to the 2000 members of this branch who are tottering toward the grave. We would have them bless the Nation for its bounty rather than upbraid it for its neglect. They should have the best of care. The people want them to have it and Congress will do only its duty by providing for it."

"Some fear that the discipline will be more rigid than now if the branch were transferred to the War Department. This would be a military institution. This branch should not be treated as a camp of soldiers on duty or preparing to march to the front. It should not be conducted as a military institution, nor a camp of charity, nor a guardhouse, but as a home in all that that word implies, so far as it is possible to make it during the declining years of the defenders of the Nation's life and honor.

Few Rules Are Necessary. "This, in the judgment of your committee, can be best accomplished by the War Department by a governor, with other officials designated by the Secretary of War, acting with wide discretion under a few simple rules and regulations and held accountable for the welfare, happiness and contentment of the members under his care."

The subcommittee began its inquiry at Los Angeles November 12, 1912, occupied several weeks in taking testimony which fills two large volumes, and has since been working on the report filed today.

Besides the bill to put the home in the hands of the War Department, accompanying the report are recommendations for improvement of conditions at the institution.

Recommendations that the food should be greatly improved and the mess system completely changed, and the overcrowding now prevailing should be reduced, and the barracks system, small cottages should be erected, wards ought to be set apart for alcoholics, and the feeble and chronically illing old veterans should be segregated from the others.

COURTESY ISSUE ARISES

President Urged to Fill Federal Position in New Jersey.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—A little question of Presidential courtesy arose today in the United States Attorney General's office.

Senator Briggs urged him to nominate Thomas F. McCran, speaker of the lower house of the New Jersey Legislature, as United States Attorney for the state. The incumbent, John B. Vreeland, wishes to retire and the New Jersey Republicans want McCran named.

President would like to leave the appointment to President-elect Wilson, since it is a New Jersey vacancy, but he announced officially some time ago that he believed it was his duty to make an effort to fill such positions.

WHY 200,000 PEOPLE NOW BATHE INTERNALLY

When you are ill, the first step your physician takes is to clean out the large intestine.

He does this because the chances are 10 to 1 that if you had no accumulated waste in the large intestine you would not have been ill at all.

The new process of Internal Bathing by means of the "J. B. L. Cascade" thoroughly cleanses the lower intestine, removes all waste and poisonous matter, and keeps it as pure as Nature demands it to be for perfect health.

It is Nature's own way of curing Constipation—simply warm water properly applied.

Enlightened physicians everywhere are using and prescribing it. And instead of waiting to be ill, over 200,000 delighted Americans are warding off disease and increasing their efficiency and energy by its use.

Woodard, Clarke & Co., Alder street at West Park, Portland, now have "J. B. L. Cascade," and it will be well worth your while to call and let us explain it to you in detail.

Also ask us for booklet, "Why Man of Today is Only 50% Efficient."

Logging Camps to Resume. ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Several of the logging camps in the Lower Columbia River district are to resume operations today, much of the snow having disappeared. Unless the weather conditions turn bad again, the camps will be running in full force after the first of the month. The supply of logs in the water is rapidly being reduced and it is absolutely necessary that the camps start up at the earliest possible moment.

An Important Sale of the Newest Spring Models in Handmade Lingerie Blouses From Paris

—Ever since the opening of our new store women have marveled at the humble prices of our imported French blouses, and this sale is another example of the many bargains to be found here. The women who have been to Paris will at once recognize the distinctive Parisian style of these waists, and will wonder how such dainty garments can possibly be sold for so little. The clearance prices range as follows:

$4.45—$5.83—$6.72—$7.60—$7.95—$10.00 $12.00—$13.50—$15.00—$20.00 and $22.50

—Every style of lingerie blouse indorsed by the fashion dictators of Paris is in this sale.

—Blouses made from the finest of white batiste and mulls, with every seam and little tuck made by hand. In fact, there is not a stitch taken but what was made by hand.

It will be to you a refreshing break in the monotony of "sales" to find that an event of this kind—with us—involves always garments so distinctly different to the ordinary run.

—The blouses in this offering display the best talents of the designers—they are beautiful—the laces used in their adornment are of the most pleasing patterns, such as real Cluny, Irish crochet and Valenciennes in narrow and wide effects. Combined with these laces are wonderful sprays and clusters of exquisite hand embroidery. The seams are joined by fine French beading and the trimming is shown on the sleeves as well as on the back and front of every waist.

—There are long sleeves and sleeves in the three-quarter length and high standing collars that are made to fit.

—We can do no more here than give you a general idea of their style, and you have but to see them to be convinced of their attractiveness.

RANGERS DEFY REBELS

FOUR MEN ATTACK FORCE ON BOUNDARY LINE.

Cavalry Troop Hastening to Scene Gets Assurance That Mexicans Meant No Offense.

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 29.—Rebel forces on the Texas border at Guadalupe during the past week evacuated that town today and began moving along the border toward Juarez, 30 miles to the west of this city. United States Army officers estimate the rebel force to exceed 1000 while other groups are reported moving in from below Juarez.

Four Texas rangers today defied the rebel army eight miles west of Fabens, Tex., when the rebels invaded American soil. The state police opened fire on what appeared to be hundreds of rebels in the bush of the rough country along the river, shooting two rangers from their horses and capturing one of the wounded. A troop of the Thirteenth Cavalry rushed to the place and its commander talked with General Antonio Rojas, who appeared to be in command of the detachment of the rebels. The rebel chief declared that he did not know his men were on the American side of the border.

Federal officers declare that government troops are on the way from Chihuahua City to reinforce the weak Juarez garrison, which contains only about 600 men, two cannon and two machine guns. The reinforcements must march, as both railways are out of commission, with the rebels continuingly cutting the wires. By hard marching the rebels could arrive at Juarez early tomorrow morning. General Salazar is in command, with Colonel David de la Puente as chief of staff.

CLEAN YOUR LIVER AND 30 FEET OF BOWELS WITH "SYRUP OF FIGS"

More Effective Than Calomel, Castor Oil or Salts; Gently Cleanses the Stomach, Liver and Bowels Without Nausea or Gripping—Children Dearly Love It.

You know when your liver is bad, when your bowels are sluggish. You feel a certain dullness and depression, perhaps the approach of a headache, your stomach gets sour and full of gas, tongue coated, breath foul, or you have indigestion. You say, "I am bilious or constipated and I must take something tonight."

Most people shrink from a physician, they think of castor oil, calomel, salts or cathartic pills.

It's different with Syrup of Figs. Its effect is as that of fruit; of eating coarse food; of exercise. Take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight and you won't realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the clogged-up waste matter, sour bile and constipation poisons move on and out of your system, without gripe, nausea or weakness. Nothing else cleanses and regulates your sour, disordered stomach, torpid liver and thirty feet of waste-clogged bowels like gentle, effective Syrup of Figs. Don't think you are drugging yourself. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, it can not cause injury.

If your child is cross, sick and feverish, or its little stomach sour, tongue coated, give Syrup of Figs at once. It's really all that is needed to make children well and happy again. They dearly love its pleasant taste. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look on the label for the name—California Fig Syrup Company. The name that only is the genuine. Refuse any other fig syrup substitute with contempt.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN FADED AND GRAY

Mixed With Sulphur, Makes Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. When her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the Sage-to-use product—called "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyneth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur, because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. Agents: The Owl Drug Co.
