Governor Says He Will Do Duty as He Sees It, Despite More Vetoes.

STEAM ROLLER ROLLING

When Representative Upton is Too Busy to Act as Engineer, Olson of Multnomah Takes Throttle and Agony Continues.

BILLS PASSED OVER THE GOVERNOR'S VETO

- House bill 884, requiring depot agents to post at once information received as to delayed trains for the convenience of the traveling public. House bill 119, requiring abutting property-owners on country roads to destroy thistles and other noxious weeds, and providing a penalty for not doing so. Senate bill 179, requiring school directors to pay for material and labor when, through their own carelessness, contractors leave unpaid bills. Senate bill 129, prohibiting expenditures over and above the sums appropriated for any public institution or department of the state and creating an emergency board to look after such work. Senate bill 127, a companion bill to 129, providing that no expenditure shall be made before an appropriation is made.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 31.

(Special).—"I don't care what the House does; I will do my duty as I see it, and that is all I can do," said Governor West this afternoon, when told that bills had passed over his veto, the number being left-overs from the celebrated session of 1911. Apparently, the members of the House care equally as much as to what the Governor does, for all day long, from 10 A. M. until after 10 P. M., the steam roller was run along in the historic chamber of the Capitol as smoothly as any machine was ever rolled over soft pavement when putting on the finishing touches. The engineer was Representative Upton, of Multnomah, and the committee on vetoes bills. Only two companions were his assistants. Then Conrad P. Olson, also of Multnomah, relieved him at the wheel for a time.

All it required to roll the machine over the West vetoes was time, backed with a little energy, entirely oratorical. Nearly everyone who cared to talk had word or motion when the bill was liberally and not very exciting. It had been determined what to do and it was done. The alignment was so strong that Governor West's friends did not even try to stop the action, but sat by and let the machine run along as fast as possible, in order to have the agony over.

Upton was on the floor much of the time, it being his business to enlighten the members of the House as to the reasons why the bills had not passed over the veto of the Governor. On each bill several speeches were made, for and against, but when the vote was announced the vetoes were overridden by an overwhelming majority.

The slaughter, as it was referred to by Representative Upton's friend, Multnomah, reputed to be the Governor's closest friend in the House, continued all day and will be resumed Monday at 3 P. M., when Senator Upton is expected to fish hatchery on Spring Creek, Klamath County, and House bill 239, relating to swamp lands, will be discussed. That the bills passed over the veto seems as certain as that the sun will rise that day.

Unnecessary Burden Assented.

Senate bill 179, vetoed because the Governor said it would place an unusual and unnecessary burden on school directors, was declared by Mr. Upton to be necessary to protect material men and laborers. He said that there have been cases where the directors have left unpaid bills in various localities. Laborers were left in the lurch and with no redress because school officials refused to exact from the directors what he had heard that the Governor had, since vetoing the bill, decided it might be all right.

Hagood, of Multnomah, replied to say that the Governor had not relinquished on any of these bills. His vetoes all stand. General speeches were made for and against, but the bill was passed, 56 to 2.

Senate bill 129 was the next bill considered this afternoon. It provides that there shall be an emergency board, consisting of the Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, President of the Senate, Speaker of the House and the chairman of ways and means committee of the Senate, and House committee on emergency bills.

Olson Champions Bill.

Representative Olson took the floor to champion the bill, which he said is aimed at the deficiencies which have been rolled up in past years. He spoke at length on it. He congratulated his colleague, Mr. Upton, on getting Mr. Olson to talk of this part of his arduous duties, said Representative Hagood. "It must be useful to have to die up a lot of dope on all of these bills. Let the slaughter go on."

The bill was passed by a vote of 53 to 2. Senate bill 127, a companion bill to 129, also vetoed, was passed over the veto. The veto was made because the Governor said that the bill would beg for funds to run any institution, in case the same should be burned down, he said. Mr. Olson declared this argument unavailing.

Rescue to Reach Bills is Denied.

Representative Upton, of Multnomah, chairman of the committee on vetoes bills, said that there had been no desire on the part of its members to rush bills in for action; they had considered the bills well, he said, and made their recommendations solely on the merits of each bill. The Governor had declared that House bill 358 is a good one. He pointed out the convenience that would result to the traveling public by the posting of notices when late Governor West said in vetoing this bill that the burden of posting notices falls on the employees and that there is no penalty on the employer or the companies. This Mr. Upton denied, saying that $1000 penalty extends to them, but that this is an effort to impress personal responsibility on depot agents who are to be fined $25 for failure to post bulletins received.

Reames of Jackson was opposed to the passing of the bill because he said

APPROPRIATIONS HAVE LIGHT WEEK

Only $647,415 Asked in Documents Introduced in Past Six Days.

BIG PRUNING EXPECTED

Fully $4,000,000 May Have to Be Cut Off Request to Keep Amount Down to $5,000,000 Mark of Preceding Session.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 31.

(Special).—Appropriation requests made during the past week of the legislative session reached a total of $647,415, by far the lightest week so far. This brings the total of requests up to $4,106,853 and a general appropriation bill even in eight. This makes it certain that the amount of the requests will go well up to the $9,000,000 mark.

The House during the past week received appropriation bills totaling $399,000, while bills amounting to only $34,000 were introduced in the Senate.

So far the total amount of the appropriation bills which have been introduced in the House is $2,639,000, and in the Senate $1,358,845.

With the total of $8,000,000 or more for requests in sight it will mean a pruning of something over $4,000,000 to keep the amount down to the $5,000,000 mark of the preceding session.

Some of the members say that the appropriations for this session will be lower than three years ago while others assume the amount of the appropriations this session is growing rapidly this should be no criterion, but the appropriations should be passed as to their merits and not where the total might lead the session.

Those appropriation bills which have been introduced so far this session are as follows:

Table listing various bills and their amounts, including Senate bills for Panama-Pacific Exposition, Oregon Library Commission, and various county and city projects.

Board of Control

Table listing various bills and their amounts, including Board of Control, Indian War Veterans, and various county and city projects.

Marriage Bill Affects Men Only.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 31.—(Special).—The Senate bill providing for the examination of men prior to a marriage contract passed that body today. It was labeled by many of the Senators who spoke on it as one of the most important bills of the session which has so far appeared. It provides that prior to the performing of the marriage ceremony the male party to the contract shall be examined by a physician as to his physical fitness to enter the marital state.

REAL ESTATE MEN'S TAX AIM

Portland Realty Board Drafts Plan for Advertising Oregon.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 31.—(Special).—Senator Moser will introduce a bill Monday to provide for the advertising of Oregon. It will provide a license for real estate agents in the state. The Portland Realty Board is favorably looking upon the bill. Certificates of registration are provided for which an original fee of $10 is paid. They may be renewed annually at a cost of $5 a year. After expiration of the license the fee is deducted the money left goes to a fund to be used for advertising Oregon.

AURORA ASKS $250,000 GRANT

Commercial Club Says Adequate Representation Should Be Made.

AURORA, Or., Jan. 31.—(Special).—The Aurora Commercial Club telegraphed the chairman of the joint ways and means committee of the Legislature as follows: Aurora Commercial Club urges an appropriation of not less than $250,000 for the Panama-Pacific Exposition that Oregon may be adequately represented at the great fair. Results will amply repay the commonwealth in attracting population and capital. Our rank as a great growing state demands the great fair. Results will amply repay the commonwealth in attracting population, people, wealth and growth.

SENATOR SMITH, of Coos and Curry, has had the misfortune mainly to introduce bills that have been sailing on troubled seas. They have been coming in for adverse reports and almost defeat. He says he is satisfied to get the Senators on record.

WHEN a vote is being taken on a motion in the Senate the side that has Farrell with it has an undue advantage. He has a lusty pair of lungs, and when he votes the sound is like the rushing of mighty winds.

FATHER WATERS, of Astoria, made a most telling speech on the appropriation asked for the Panama Canal. It was full of enthusiasm, sound sense and sympathy. He was loudly applauded.

SENATOR DAY has a hobby. It is workmen's compensation. He never rises to speak on a bill but sooner or later his talk drifts to that subject. He says that there must be some workmen's compensation bill introduced before he will vote in favor of final adjournment.
