Steady Pressure Against Steel Makes It One of Weakest Points in List - Active Curb Trading in Oil Shares.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. - Wall street was inclined to look on the bearish side of things today, and the market was sluggish with a heavy tone.

Perhaps the news for which the street waited most eagerly was definite word whether the Balkan war was to be resumed.

Losses among most of the leading stocks, however, were not continued in the market made a showing of strength.

The steady pressure against steel made it the most completely unloved of the day's trading and forced it down to a point at which it was a dividend on standard.
