

MARRIAGE DELAYED FOR BIRTH PROOFS

Hitch in Wedding of Lillian Graham to French Millionaire Reported.

RENTON RECORDS UNKEPT

Church Records in Seattle Hoped to Aid Actress Acquitted of Shooting W. E. D. Stokes, and Later Disinherited by Father.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 6.—(Special.)

Inquiries sent to her attorney and important messages to friends here today brought out the information that the marriage of Lillian Graham, the "shooting show girl," to a French millionaire depends on her ability to produce a birth certificate.

Lillian Graham, Actress, Whose Marriage to French Millionaire in Reported Delayed by Lack of Birth Certificate.

light to lead. Did Repsold try to swim the bay to Richmond? Did he wander and stumble into the marshes? Was it suicide?

Warden Hoyle does not believe that Repsold committed suicide and the belief is shared by the coroner. The warden said tonight he thought that the fleeing convict, groping in the dark through the marshy point skirting the bay west of the prison, became mired. He was unable to extricate himself from the mud and died there of exposure.

Allimony of $40,000 Secured.

Mrs. Singleton secured allimony of $40,000 when she obtained a divorce six months ago and the sisters have been living in Paris in comfort.

Wedding arrangements are now in abeyance until a record can be found. She was a girl of rare beauty, but after the excitement of the Stokes trial she denied herself to possible suitors until she finally capitulated to a prominent and wealthy member of an old French family.

Affidavits May Be Secured.

County officials believe that no vital statistics were kept in the little mining town when Miss Graham was born and are of the opinion that it will be necessary to rely on affidavits of pioneers of the town who were neighbors of the Graham family at the time of Lillian's birth.
