

BUDD MAY GET JOB

Superintendent for O. W. R. & N. Water Lines to Be Named.

CHOICE MADE IS BELIEF

Present Superintendent of Ilwaco Railroad Wanted, Is Rumor, as He Is Looked Upon as Especially Fitted for Position.

E. R. Budd, superintendent of the Ilwaco Railroad Company, will be superintendent of water lines for the O. W. R. & N. unless negotiations of the waterfront fraternity count for naught. Mr. Budd has been named in connection with rumors for the place during the last 10 days and, while an official circular is lacking, it is firmly believed that when March opens his will be the directing hand in the water lines office.

The vacancy was caused by the recent death of Captain George Conway and up to the present Henry Pape, in charge of machinery details for the service, has acted as superintendent. His appointment Friday to the berth of superintendent of machinery for the San Francisco & Portland Steamship Company leaves the water lines responsibility for another to shoulder.

ALTERNATE STOPS ARGUED

East Side Delegation Are For and Against New Car System.

After two hours of argument among citizens opposing the alternate stop system inaugurated on the East Side streetcar lines, the special street railway committee of the Council went into executive session for 30 minutes yesterday afternoon to discuss the matter. A decision probably will be made today and will be reported to the Council tomorrow.

Sunnyside sent a big delegation to the meeting yesterday to urge that the alternate stop system on that line be abandoned, and a delegation from Mount Tabor district was equally insistent in its demands that no change in the alternate stop be made. South Portland representatives are also complaining against the new schedule in that district.

In addition it has been his lot to be held responsible for the tug Nahcotta, running from Astoria to Megler, and thereby he has gained a knowledge of river traffic and its requirements, so in shifting his quarters from the beach to Portland he will be no stranger to the general details.

TIME GIVEN LAVEY TO PAY

Indicted Man's Effort to Clear Up Claims Wins Court.

P. C. Lavey, under indictment for using the mails for fraudulent purposes in connection with real estate operations, appeared in United States District Court yesterday and pleaded guilty to the charge, his former plea of not guilty being withdrawn.

Assistant United States District Attorney Johnson stated to the court that the defendant had made representations that he was endeavoring to liquidate the claims upon which the indictment was based, and for this reason he believed that his sentence should be deferred until he had a fair opportunity to do so. The claims are stated to be close to $20,000, but Lavey has reason to believe that within 30 days he can show the court clearances on all of them and the sentence was deferred until March 31, he being released until that time under the same bonds as have existed in his case.

No immunity or agreement has been made with Lavey of any kind, his effort to correct his mistakes undoubtedly will have weight with the court when the sentence is pronounced.

HERMAN TRENKMAN IS ILL

Pioneer Portland Contractor Is Taken to Hospital.

One of Portland's earliest business men, Herman Trenkman, is lying seriously ill at St. Vincent's Hospital, suffering from complications of disease. He was 79 years old on February 5, and retired from business 23 years ago.

Coming from San Francisco by stage-coach 45 years ago, Mr. Trenkman opened his first shop as contractor on Front and Ash streets. Shortly afterward he went into partnership with F. Wolff, and the firm moved to Third and Flanders streets. Before he sold out his partnership to Wolff & Zwicker Mr. Trenkman had built a great deal of the penitentiary building at Salem.

He was born in Germany, where he learned his profession. On arrival in America he worked first in New York, then in Chicago and afterward in San Francisco. He has one son, Ben, whose machine works are at 104 North Fourth street.

REQUEST DENIED BY COURT

H. J. Shaw, Charged With Extortion, Offers to Leave City.

In a manner which indicated that he felt he was conferring a favor upon the court, H. J. Shaw, alleged extortioner, when arraigned in Municipal Court yesterday, offered to plead guilty if the court would allow him three days in which to pack his effects and leave the city. The offer was rejected when Patrolman Long explained that the man had a suspended sentence of one year hanging over him, and, regardless of it, had victimized a young girl. His case was set over for trial.

COAST GETS NEW VESSEL

"The Congress" Ready by July 1 for Pacific Coast Company Fleet.

"After 17 years' absence from Portland its growth appears to me to be marvelous," said William Barnum, president of the Pacific Coast Company, at the Multnomah last night. "I was last here to assist in the reorganization of the Oregon Improvement Company, which resulted in the formation of the company of which I am now president and includes a number of subsidiary organizations, all being of the Pacific Coast, although its head offices are in New York."

"One of these companies is the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, operating lines of steamers between Puget Sound, San Francisco and Alaska, and it is a pleasure to announce that in addition to this fleet is being constructed in the East. The new vessel is the Congress, which will be the latest thing in shipbuilding and equipment and far superior to any steamship now in operation on this coast. It will be laid down during the coming month and ready for operation in connection with our fleet here by July 1."

Mr. Barnum is traveling in his private car and is accompanied by J. C. Ford, president of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, whose headquarters are in Seattle.

DEER KILLER FINED $150

Springfield Physician Admits Guilt but Others Will Be Arrested.

Dr. J. R. Barr, of Springfield, was arrested and fined $150 on Saturday for killing deer out of season. Dr. Barr is a member of a party of ten hunters which the State Game Warden was informed had killed two deer, and had used a number of dogs to trail the game.

The arrest was made on Tire Creek, and one of the carcasses was confiscated. Dr. Barr pleaded guilty. The deputy warden at Springfield will arrest all the members of the party, as it is believed that Dr. Barr made his plea in hopes of clearing up the matter.

MEAT CUTTER MAIMS BOY

Hand of L. Klein Mangled So That Amputation Is Necessary.

While operating a meat-cutting machine at the East Broadway Street Market, East Burnside and East Tenth streets, yesterday morning, the right hand of L. Klein, a boy, was drawn into the machine and fearfully mangled, so that it had to be amputated above the wrist. Several of the fingers were cut off and remained in the chopper.

The boy was removed to Good Samaritan Hospital, where his injuries were attended to.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klein, living at 420 East Couch street.

SUBSTANTIAL ESTATE LEFT

"Liverpool Liz" Will Be Most of Property to Relatives in Wales.

The will of Elizabeth Hutchinson, nee Young, better known as "Liverpool Liz," which was drawn up and died February 17, was filed in Probate Court yesterday by C. Henri Labbe, an attorney who is named as executor. The will was executed July 19, 1903. With the exception of $150 left to James Derbyshire, everything is left to relatives in Wales, Great Britain.

They are Mrs. Mary Roberts, niece; Mary Ann Thomas, a cousin, and Tom Williams, a nephew. The estate is estimated to be of the value of $15,000, probably more.

Irish Revival Is Lecture Topic.

Continuing his lectures under the auspices of the Educational Association of Portland, Seumas MacManus last night at the Lincoln High School discussed "The Irish Revival." This lecture dealt among other things, with the movement which has grown to such important proportions in the past few years to restore in Ireland the Gaelic tongue and the arts and folkways that made Ireland famous in the past. Miss Pauline Chapman, head of the department of vocal music of Pacific University, gave several vocal selections.

Miss Gleason Speaks Tonight.

Miss Caroline Gleason, of the Consumers' League, will speak on "Housing Conditions in Portland," before the Civic Club, tonight at 8 o'clock, in room 226 Medical building. Men and women interested are especially invited. The lecture by Samuel Hill, on "Good Roads" has been postponed, due to Mr. Hill's enforced absence from the state.

The Meador Northwestern Railroad is said to have lost approximately $1,000,000 in the Meador and Orozco revolutions.
