

WOMAN INCENDIARY SENTENCED TO JAIL

Judge Says Sex Has Forfeited Presumption of Impossibility of Crime.

PRISONER DEFIES COURT

Hunger Strike Threatened and as for Costs Miss Wharry Says She Will Never Pay — Golden Rule Also Broken.

LONDON, March 7.—Miss "Joyce Locke," a militant suffragist, whose real name is Olive Wharry, was sentenced today at the Old Bailey Sessions to 18 months' imprisonment. She was found guilty of setting fire to a pavilion in the Kew Botanical Gardens on February 20.

When arraigned in Police Court on the day of her arrest she hurled a book at the magistrate and fought desperately against removal to a cell.

The court today ordered her to pay all costs and to deposit a $1000 bond to insure her good behavior for two years after the completion of her sentence.

Hunger Strike Threatened.

The Judge warned Miss Wharry that she would be sentenced to an additional year if she did not keep the peace after finishing her prison sentence.

Miss Wharry declared that she would not pay the costs of the prosecution and would immediately start a "hunger strike."

The Judge, in summing up, struck a serious note as to the general effect of the militant movement on the status of women. He said:

"Not very long ago it would have been unthinkable that a well-educated young woman could have committed a crime like this. One would have heard appeals from juries to acquit her on the ground that it was inconceivable that she could have committed such an outrage."

Presumption Is Forfeited.

"Unfortunately, however, women as a class have forfeited any presumption of that kind in their favor. We unfortunately know that well-educated and well-brought-up women have committed these crimes. Consequently it is impossible to approach these cases from the standpoint of a few years ago."

"Acts such as these cause loss and injury to the poor and struggling as well as the rich. In addition to breaking man-made laws, the militants are breaking another law, which says: 'Do ye unto others as ye would that they should do unto you.'"

When sentence was pronounced, Miss Wharry retorted:

"I refuse to pay these costs. You can send me to prison, but I will never pay a penny. Nor do I intend to stay in prison. As for sentences—never!"

"If you do not care to give sentences, you will be further imprisoned for a period not exceeding a year," replied the Judge, gravely.

At a meeting of the National Union Suffragist Societies, a non-militant organization, it was announced that the union had decided to embark on an active constitutional campaign against Premier Asquith's government, concentrating its opposition on the anti-suffrage members of the ministry and maintaining a truce with those friendly to the cause.

Support was pledged the labor party as the only party which as a whole favors woman suffrage. The policy of the union towards the Unionists will be neutral.

Iowa Legislature for Suffrage.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 7.—The State Senate of the Iowa Legislature adopted the resolution for a woman suffrage amendment today by a vote of 31 to 15. Having been adopted by the House the woman's suffrage resolution will now be submitted to the people.

ALSBERG CUTS RED TAPE

Federal Chemistry Chiefs Called to Discuss Food Problems.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Chief of Federal chemistry laboratories from all parts of the United States discussed pure-food questions here today in the office of Dr. Carl Alsberg, chief of the bureau of chemistry and chairman of the pure food board. The meeting will continue tonight until next week.

"We hope to eliminate much red tape," said Dr. Alsberg. "With personal exchange of opinions and experience by the men who are charged with carrying out the pure food laws, there will be developed greater unity, economy and efficiency of work. It will show the men throughout the field the best and most effective methods of dealing with the legal sides of the problem in securing the proper enforcement of the pure food law."

FAMOUS WORKS SCORCHED

Paintings Go Through Great Chicago Fire Only to Be Ruined This Week.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Three famous sunsets by the American painter, Kelso, were more than $1,000,000 greater than February a year ago and the greatest for that month in the history of this port.

The big importations are accounted for in part it is said, by the fact that dealers desired to increase their stocks on the chance that there might be an advance in duties by the new Congress.

SUGAR SUIT HALTS ACTION

Defendants Cannot Acquire Stock in National Refining Company.

NEW YORK, March 7.—A stipulation in the Government's Sherman law suit against the American Sugar Refining Company and others, signed by counsel for the defendant company, the Franklin Sugar Refining Company and the Spreckels Sugar Refining Company and filed by Government counsel today, provides that the defendants shall not during the pendency of the suit acquire any interest in the National Sugar Refining Company of New Jersey.

Of the $20,000,000 stock of the National Sugar Refining Company, the $10,000,000 preferred became eventually the property of the American Sugar Refining Company and the late H. O. Havemeyer acquired the block of common stock, which upon his death was known as the Havemeyer family stock. As a result of litigation in New Jersey the Havemeyer stock was canceled and recently the American Sugar Refining Company decided to sell half of the National company's preferred stock.

The stipulation prevents the officers and directors of the three companies from acquiring the $5,000,000 of National company stock soon to be disposed of.

"HIGHER-UPS" ON GRILL

WASHINGTON POLICE OFFICIALS PUT ON DEFENSIVE.

Conditions Surrounding Suffrage Parade Admitted, Responsibility Is to Be Fixed.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Suffragist leaders and Senator Jones, of Washington, chairman of the Senate special committee investigating police misconduct in connection with Monday's suffrage parade, were busy today preparing for tomorrow's hearing, at which Major Richard Sylvester, superintendent of police, has been summoned to appear. District Commissioner Johnson, in charge of the Police Department, and several other police officials also will be examined.

Suffragist leaders are desirous that Secretary Stimson, of the War Department, and Assistant Secretary of War Robert Oliver be summoned.

Letters from suffragists and others, stirred by the indignities to which the women marchers were subjected, continued to pour in on the Senate committee today. Senator Jones indicated that the committee had sufficient evidence on which to proceed, which prevailed along Pennsylvania avenue during the parade and that their efforts from now on would be directed toward finding out whether it was true, as charged by Senator Pennington before the committee, that officials "higher up" were to blame.

Skeleton of Giant Lizard Is 3,000,000 Years Old

Bones of Mammoth Saurorophus, Remnant of Canada's Sub-Tropical, Cretaceous Period, Found Near Calgary.

CALGARY, Alta., March 7.—(Special.)—Three million years ago, in the Cretaceous period, when Calgary was in a sub-tropical country, a dying saurolophus dragged its several tons of flesh and bones out of a lake near where Calgary now stands, and, shaking its huge, leathery crest for the last time, stretched out its webbed feet, and with a farewell sigh to its friends and near relatives, which sounded like the exhaust on a locomotive, lay down on the warm sands and died.

Last week this identical saurolophus, or crested lizard, whose full name is Saurorophus Osborni, in honor of Professor Fairfield Osborn, was shown at private view to a number of newspaper men in the American Museum of Natural History, New York, by its discoverer, Barnum Brown.

The saurolophus was found by Mr. Brown while making an expedition from the museum, on the bank of the Red River, just north of Calgary, before the river on its eastward course unites with the Saskatchewan. Only about four feet of the vertebrae back of the head were visible above the sandstone in which it was encased. This was quickly chiseled away and a perfect skeleton revealed. Parts of the skin were still sticking to the rib bones.

It was carefully packed and placed in the dinghy used by Mr. Brown and his party, and mounted on a panel in which the fossil remains of the bull-rushes, as shown in the sandstone, were carefully reproduced. The specimen, which is a rare and valuable one, was shipped to New York and will be exhibited to the public soon.

LAW VIOLATION ALLEGED

Ex-Cigar Dealer Charged With Not Destroying Revenue Stamps.

Charged with a violation of the internal revenue law in that he used cigar boxes after the contents had been removed without destroying the stamps, J. C. Lamonte was given a hearing before United States Commissioner Cannon yesterday and bound over to await the action of the next Federal grand jury under $500 bonds, which he furnished.

He had been the proprietor of a cigar stand at 122 Grand avenue that he sold to Charles Gerlach on March 2 for $800, but when the latter took possession he found that the boxes were dummies, filled with cement and vegetables, but the stamps had not been cancelled. Lamonte alleged that he left one or two cigars in each box but the preponderance of testimony was to the effect that in many of the boxes no cigars were found.

OREGON MAN DROPS $5000 IN "FAKE" POOLROOMS.

Easy Money on Horse Race Attracts, but Promised Settlement in Portland Is Not Made.

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—(Special.)—Chief of Police Sebastian this afternoon said that he had just received a letter from H. G. Dean, of Cove, Or., declaring that the writer had lost $5000 in a fake poolroom at Redondo last August.

Dean offers to help the police trace the men, saying that he could identify them on sight. He wrote:

"I went down to Los Angeles on a short pleasure trip and fell in with a man who told me he knew a way to make some easy money on horse racing. I went to Redondo with him, where we met another man who took our money. I first won, but after giving him the $5000 I never saw him again. He told me I would receive my winning in Portland, but I have never got it."

Earlier in the day Attorney Baker, counsel for many of the buncoed men, said he expected a climax in the case soon. Just what the startling developments are to be he refused to say, but intimated they would be of an unexpected nature.

HOMES HAVE SALT WATER

San Francisco to Enjoy Unique Luxury With New System.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—(Special.)—The introduction of the salt water auxiliary fire system, which will be in operation in two months, provides an opportunity for giving San Francisco homes a luxury that is enjoyed by dwellers in no other city in the world.

That is, an unlimited supply of pure salt water from the Pacific Ocean for baths in private houses.

The auxiliary system, with its tremendous pressure, is for protective purposes only, in case of fire, but this water may be carried through the residence districts and by means of valves the flow may be regulated. As it is now, only large athletic clubs and several big bathing places have salt water on tap for plunge, shower and tub baths, but at this extension of the system every home may enjoy this luxury at a small expense.

City engineers say it will pay the municipality also, as moving salt water will not corrode the pipes as stagnant sea water does.
