DAMAGES WANTED FOR SHOOTING.—An attempt was made to shoot Albert H. Hornbaker, aged 17, while on a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Rippen, who live in Kllickit County, Washington, 25 miles from Lyle, A. B. Hornbaker, the boy's father, has started suit in Circuit Court to recover $25,000 from the Rippen family. One of his sons' legs was amputated six inches below the hip as a result of the accident, the plaintiff declares. The shooting was done by a 22-caliber rifle the mechanism of which Cent Rippen, a son of the defendants, is said to have been explaining to his boy guest. Hornbaker declares that the defendants took his boy with them to their home in Washington without asking his permission.

VACANT PROPERTY CAMPAIGN ON.—Campaign to secure some of the vacant property between the North Portland Library on Killingsworth avenue and Congress street and the Jefferson High School was started Thursday night at a meeting of the women's auxiliary to the North Portland Commercial. After a talk from Mrs. F. H. Nichols explanatory of the object sought a committee was appointed to visit on the Park Board and urge the land be secured. A half block adjoining the library site on the south owned by William M. Findley, the pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. A. Spear, Mrs. Tate, who was a pioneer of 1852, died Thursday evening at the residence of her son, Dr. J. T. Tate, 312 Sixth street. The body will be taken this morning to Albany, where she resided for over 40 years before coming to Portland in 1886. The surviving members of her family are: Dr. G. W. Price, of Los Angeles, a son by a former marriage; Dr. J. T. Tate and Miss Laura Tate, of this city. Her late husband, Dr. J. P. Tate, was a pioneer physician of Albany.

M. O. EVANS TALKS OF GARDEN CONTEST.—M. O. Evans, of the Oregon Agricultural College, and director of the Portland school garden contest, addressed the Parent-Teachers' Club yesterday in the Richmond school. Mr. Evans told of the arrangements that are being made for this contest, the prizes that will be given and that all school children be encouraged to take part. He said that according to reports received more school children will be in the garden contest this year than last, and there will be several community gardens, along the lines of the Woodlawn gardens of last year.

A. A. KADDERLY WITNESSES INCAUTION.—A. A. Kaddery, of Portland, saw the inauguration of President Wilson. He wrote friends that it cost him $5 a night while in Washington, but that the money was well spent. He saw the parade on inauguration day, and got close enough to hear the President's address. Mr. Kaddery had talks with Senator Chamberlain in behalf of some of his Portland friends who are looking for jobs. Mr. Kaddery has now gone to Chicago where with some other heirs he has started in some project in the heart of the city valued in the millions.

$1,000,000 BOND ISSUE FAVORED.—"Park bonds to the amount of $1,000,000 are favored in North Portland, Peninsula district, but a $2,000,000 issue will be opposed," said Mrs. C. F. Nichols, president of the Portland Association of Women. Mrs. Nichols has been attending recent meetings held on the Peninsula, and particularly the meeting held at Parkside in the afternoon. "Our campaign will be thorough and systematic, and we certainly ought to win by a safe margin."

BODY OF WALTER COCHRAN ARRIVES.—The body of Walter Cochran, who died in Tacoma, March 12, arrived in Portland Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. Cochran. Besides the widow, Mr. Cochran is survived by a daughter, Kathleen, and a sister, Mrs. George Farrell, of Santa Cruz, Cal. Mr. Cochran was a member of the Portland club of the Hammond Lumber Company at Stella, Wash., and later was manager of the Kelso, Wash., water plant. He recently made Portland his home.

CONTEST TO START

Y. M. C. A. Teams of Portland and Seattle Rivals.

FIGHT IS ON FOR MEMBERS

Ten Teams of Ten Men Each Will Conduct Campaign and Results Will Be Tallied and Compared by Telegraph Daily.

The Oregonian will publish tomorrow the full text of the official charter, providing for a commission form of municipal government, together with an outline introduction of its most salient features. The proposed charter is to be submitted to the people for adoption or rejection at the primaries, May 7. If adopted it will take effect July 1, and officers under its provisions would be selected June 3 at the general municipal election. The introduction and full text will be found on pages 1 and 3 of section 5 of The Sunday Oregonian.

Two hundred men, expressing determination to defeat Seattle in a Young Men's Christian Association membership contest to be launched next Monday, held an enthusiastic rally and dinner last night at the Portland Y. M. C. A. These men comprise the teams that will represent the Portland association in the campaign, which promises to be the most spirited ever conducted by the Portland organization.

The contest is for total points, based on new memberships and renewals. Each membership on renewal will count five points and in addition one point will be scored for each dollar of membership fees paid. At the end of the week the 10 men of the winning association will be given a trip to the other city, where they will be entertained. If Portland wins, two boy members will be included in the 10 to visit Puget Sound.

The Portland membership squad is divided into sides of 10 each, headed by Mr. J. A. Kaddery and Mr. E. J. Stone. Each side, in turn, is divided into 10 teams of 10 each, and there is a captain and coach for the individual teams.

Seattle has 1000 men pledged to work next week, but her organization for the campaign does not compare with Portland's, declared Mr. Stone, who has just returned from Seattle. "Our campaign will be thorough and systematic, and we certainly ought to win by a safe margin."

The members' teams will dine at the association at 6:15 o'clock every night of the week. At 6:30 o'clock telegrams will be exchanged with Seattle, telling of the results. Each team will have a table and there promises to be spirited rivalry.

BANK HAS OPEN HOUSE

COMMERCE SAVINGS & TRUST RECEIVES IN NEW HOME.

Officers Are Hosts to Hundreds of Visitors in Modern Quarters at Park and Morrison Streets.

Coely settled in its handsome new home at the northwest corner of Park and Morrison streets, the Commerce Savings and Trust Bank yesterday, between the hours of 4 and 9 P. M. played the host to hundreds of friends who were shown through the institution and admired its wonderful lighting and up-to-date appointments. Cashier Bortmeyer and his assistants acted as a reception committee. Many the congratulations of other financial institutions of Portland, were much admired.

The bank is finished in red mahogany, with mottled black marble baseboards. The walls are finished in a light tan tint, as are also the massive octagonal columns. The ceiling is finished in white, and the night illumination is provided by 14 large chandeliers, with the tungsten lights concealed and reflected from the ceiling. This provides so fine a glow, with the lights that are arranged in ground-glass globes around the columns, that no lights are required in any of the accounts' cases. With windows on the east and south, there is an abundance of daylight for regular banking hours.

The entire arrangement of the interior elicited many congratulatory comments from the visitors.

LHEVINNE'S MAGIC.

Tone-Paintings of Russian Pianist Here Tomorrow.

"Josef Lhevinne is a wonderful pianist in every respect. His musical renditions are tone-paintings. He carried the audience with him from first to last as though by magic," says the Baltimore Star. And the Chicago Chronicle says: "Lhevinne was accorded an ovation. He is magnetic, brilliant, resembling Rubinstein not a little. Under his hands the piano finds a voice with which to sing." Seats are now selling for Lhevinne's recital at the Bungalow, Twelfth and Morrison, tomorrow afternoon at 8 o'clock, under the direction of Edna Steers-Wynn Conan. Piano students will find Lhevinne's playing an inspiration.

HERO OF SEA ARRESTED

JOHN SEGALOS ACCUSED OF FOLLOWING WOMEN.

Man Rewarded by Government for Bravery When Valencia Foundered. Declares Charge Is Unjust.

John Segalos, heralded all over the country as the hero of the wrecked steamer Valencia, when she foundered off the Vancouver coast, January 23, 1906, was arrested by Patrolmen Griffith and Martin late Wednesday night, with a companion, M. Gatos, and was placed in the City Jail on a charge of following two women. The arrest was made at Sixth and Washington streets, according to the records at headquarters.

Segalos declared that he has been wrongfully treated, deprived of his position through the ignorance of the police and their actions, and he said last night that he intended to remain here, supported by his friends, and that he would demand an investigation.

Segalos declared that he and his companion were absolutely innocent of the charge placed against them; that they had just left the boat, which was then in the harbor, and were in their work-clothes. He says that he and Gatos were arrested without just cause, were arrested by the policemen at the time and that the policemen refused to read the letters of reference Segalos carried.

Segalos was employed on the Valencia at the time her rescue was effected, and for his heroic action in making a desperate attempt to take a line ashore, he was awarded a medal by the Federal Government.

TRUE BILLS ARE RETURNED

Byron Jenison Held to Answer for Shooting Divorced Wife.

As predicted yesterday, an indictment was reported by the grand jury against Byron Jenison, charging him with an assault with intent to kill on his divorced wife, Ida Montgomery. Jenison shot the woman through a lung in front of the octagon building on November 21, 1912, the day her divorce decree, carrying restoration of her maiden name, was signed. Miss Montgomery is now in California. The prosecution will endeavor to have her return as a witness for the state, but Deputy District Attorney Murphy believes he could convict even without her.

A second true bill returned charges J. B. Byers with obtaining property, a suit of clothes of the value of $26.25, from Buffum & Pendleton by false pretenses. It amounts to a charge of bigamy will be preferred against him later.
