

AMERICAN KILLED IN REBEL ATTACK

Federals at Cananea Defend Town All Day Against Superior Odds.

MINERS AVOID CONFLICT

Battle Waged With Hand Grenades and Artillery, but 350 Hold Camp Against 1000 Until Armistice Is Called.

NACOA, Ariz., March 24.—That the dead and wounded might be removed from the field after a day of desperate fighting with no advantage, state troops attacking and federal a defending Cananea agreed tonight to an armistice until noon tomorrow.

The defenders lost 49 killed, while the state troops' dead number 29 in the battle, which lasted from 7 this morning until 6 o'clock tonight, when the armistice took effect.

While the superior numbers of the attacking forces, it seems improbable that the defenders can withstand for another day. Colonel Moreno's federal soldiers hold strong positions and during the day demonstrated their ability to withstand the artillery and rifle onslaught of the insurgents. The idle miners failed to take sides in the struggle, but it is understood that before the armistice is ended either side will have scheduled in recruiting them.

The Cananea Club, home of an American social organization, has been converted into a hospital. The wounded are many. The mining town tonight is in great excitement.

In today's fighting, I. Bushnell, believed to be a member of the North-west mounted police, was killed while manipulating a howitzer for the state troops. Robert C. Charney, an American mining man from New York City, was fatally wounded while watching the battle from the roof of a building.

Abilio Soto, an American-Mexican merchant from Arizona, was killed by a stray bullet. Another American, named Foster, was slightly wounded.

"STARVATION CURE" DOCTOR WHO FACES NEW INQUIRY AS TO PATIENT'S DEATH.

LINDA BURFIELD HAZZARD.

FAST PATIENT DIES

Mrs. Hazzard's Practice Again Causes Coroner's Inquest.

SEATTLE, March 24.—The Prosecuting Attorney's office today ordered that an inquest be held tomorrow on the body of Mrs. Ida J. Anderson, aged 37, of Stanwood, Snohomish County, who died in this city March 23, while receiving "fast cure" treatment from Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, and who succumbed to "neglect and starvation," according to the coroner's certificate.

Mrs. Hazzard was tried in Kitsap County charged with the murder of Miss Claire Williamson, a wealthy English woman with a fortune of $500,000 and was convicted of manslaughter February 1, 1912, and sentenced to two to 20 years in the state penitentiary. She appealed to the Supreme Court and retained her starvation practice.

A chemist who examined the contents of the stomach of Mrs. Anderson found alum, Mrs. Anderson is the ninth patient of Mrs. Hazzard who has died under peculiar circumstances. Mrs. Hazzard is not a licensed physician, but her treatment of the sick by inducing them to abstain from food has not only cost lives but has also caused the courts to be vexed.

H. C. Anderson, husband of the dead woman, and her brother, P. A. Iverson, sought out Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Crawford E. White, and asked that the circumstances of the death be investigated.

White told the deputy prosecutor that he knew of a year-old baby that had been starved to death by the fast cure methods and that he had pleaded with his wife, who was suffering from nervous troubles, to seek the advice of orthodox physicians, but that she had been inspired with a perfect belief in the efficacy of Mrs. Hazzard and her system of treating disease.

Anderson declared that he did not know that his wife had placed herself in Mrs. Hazzard's hands until she was dead.

STORM CLAIMS 225 DEAD

city and rain and sleet were dashed by it into the faces of belated pedestrians and those who were driven into the streets by the partial wrecking of their homes.

After the storms had passed the wind died to a gentle breeze, the sun shone brightly and the warmth of Spring pervaded the air.

Monetary Loss High.

Tonight the number of known dead within the area covered by the storm is placed at 225, of whom 152 were residents of Omaha. The remaining dead are scattered over a considerable range of territory, with Council Bluffs reporting 12; Yutan, Neb., 14; Berlin, Neb., seven; Glenwood, Ia., five; Neola, Ia., two, and Bartlett, Ia., three; New-haven, one; Rock Bluff, one, and Des Moines, one. The same cities and towns report an aggregate of 440 injured and 450 homes demolished. Perhaps 1500 persons are homeless.

Panic All But Sets In.

Aside from this, 3000 buildings were more or less damaged many of these being church edifices and school buildings. Eight of Omaha's public schools were wrecked.

All forms of communication were almost annihilated by the wind and only two or three wires were in working condition when daylight relieved a night of high tension, which at times almost became panic. Soldiers, state and National troops, poured into the city during the day to aid in bringing order out of what for 19 hours had been chaos. Tonight these guardians of the peace are patrolling the residence districts, aiding the police to maintain order and relieve such cases of suffering as come to their notice.

Cathedral Is Coffee House.

No such catastrophe has ever before visited the city, and it was overwhelmed by it. They quickly rose to the situation, however, and measures of relief were organized promptly.

PRESIDENT FAVORS ONE TARIFF BILL

Underwood Has Same Idea, but Others Would Revise Schedule by Schedule.

PARTY CAUCUS TO DECIDE

Some Fear Sectionalism Would Defeat a Single Measure, While They Think Republicans Would Aid Segregated Process.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—President Wilson started work in earnest tonight on what he considers the foremost task of his Administration—revision of the tariff. He had a long conference with Representative Underwood, the Democratic leader among congressmen, not only in the details of the tariff bill drawn by the ways and means committee, but considered also the strategy necessary to steer the tariff question speedily through Congress.

The question admittedly uppermost among members of Congress is whether the tariff should be revised by schedule or in a single bill. The party caucus will decide, but the wishes of the President are being consulted.

Wilson Likes Single Bill.

The idea of agreeing on a single measure approved by the Administration has appealed strongly to the President as more expeditious way and other questions during the extra session. Close friends and supporters of Mr. Wilson, both in the House and Senate, however, have openly questioned the advisability of a single bill. They fear that sectional interests might cause enough defections among Democratic senators to defeat the measure. They have urged that by the schedule-by-schedule plan, enough Republican volunteers can be enlisted on schedules where there are Democratic votes to pass them without difficulty.

Leaders Oppose Underwood.

While Representative Underwood has been understood of late to favor the single tariff bill idea, it is known that the Democratic House leaders and members of the ways and means committee hold the opposite view.

The President discussed the tariff question with the Democratic House leaders and members of the ways and means committee last night. The President is believed generally here that Judge Godman, of Seattle, will succeed Lee on the Public Service Commission; that E. W. Olson, of Walla Walla, will succeed Labor Commissioner Charles F. Hubbard; that Frank C. Morse, of Tacoma, stands a chance of landing the Board of Control position, and that there is a possibility, though just a possibility, that Sheriff Mike Toner, of Walla Walla County, will step into the shoes of Warden Reed, who goes to Minnesota's reform school.

It is believed generally here that Judge Godman, of Seattle, will succeed Lee on the Public Service Commission; that E. W. Olson, of Walla Walla, will succeed Labor Commissioner Charles F. Hubbard; that Frank C. Morse, of Tacoma, stands a chance of landing the Board of Control position, and that there is a possibility, though just a possibility, that Sheriff Mike Toner, of Walla Walla County, will step into the shoes of Warden Reed, who goes to Minnesota's reform school.

How to Cure Croup—A Remedy That Never Fails.

Croup is easily cured when properly treated. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed with each bottle and quick relief is sure to follow.

Mrs. Wm. H. Coxy.

"My little boy, now six years old, was both a great deal with croup, and until we learned of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and began using it, this was much of an annoyance and alarm to us. This remedy cured the complaints he has been free from it for the past three years."

LISTER HOLDS COUNSEL

APPOINTMENTS DUE APRIL 1 OUT "WHEN TIME COMES."

Many Good Plums May Be Distributed When Washington Governor's Mind Is Made Up.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 24.—(Special.)—With a number of appointments under the new administration due to become effective April 1, little more than one week away, Governor Lister is silent on the question save to say that "when the time comes, I'll take action on these matters just as I have on other matters that have come up."

He declares that no decisions as to appointments are definitely made.

Many of the offices that will become vacant immediately through the expiration of the terms of the incumbents are those of Labor Commissioner and chairman of the Board of Control. By the resignation last week of George A. Lee, the chairmanship of the Public Service Commission becomes vacant April 1, while the resignation of Warden Reed, of the state penitentiary, is to take effect at the pleasure of the Governor, not later than April 15.

It is believed generally here that Judge Godman, of Seattle, will succeed Lee on the Public Service Commission; that E. W. Olson, of Walla Walla, will succeed Labor Commissioner Charles F. Travel Needs Worth Knowing

You know you can board a through train bound for the East, no matter which route you follow, but there's more to know about your journey than that; there's to know about the way you're to go—whether a monotonous way or a way of magnificent scenery and interesting cities, with a choice of routes that will include many of them—St. Paul, Minneapolis, Denver, Omaha, St. Joseph, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago. There's to know about the railroad that's to carry you, its through trains, its equipment, its organization, its mechanical power, the integrity of its roadbed. Will it deliver a dollar's worth of service for a dollar? Will you arrive in the East "On Time"? When you think of such things in travel, that mean so much to you, you may conclude to have your ticket read "Burlington."

Four Electric Lighted Complete Trains Daily to the East. Two via Minneapolis, St. Paul, alongside the Mississippi. Two via Billings and Direct Line Southeast.

Let the initial agent, or the undersigned, explain to you how well any of these through trains can serve you.

TRY IT! SAYS SAGE TEA DARKENS AND BEAUTIFIES FADED, GRAY HAIR.

Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft and Luxuriant and Removes Dandruff.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is coming in vogue again, says a well-known downtown druggist. It was our grand-mother's treatment and hundreds of women and men, too, are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is the most popular because nobody can discover that it has been used. Simply dampen a soft brush or sponge with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight, and by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application it is restored to its natural color.

What delights the ladies with besides beautifully darkening the hair is that it produces a soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Here, you gray-haired folks, get busy look years younger. Agents, The Owl Drug Co.
