VETERAN LAWYERS GUESTS OF HONOR

Multnomah Bar Association Banquets Seven of Longest Service in City.

SUPREME JUDGES SPEAK

Passion of People for Legislation, Familiarity of Attorneys With Courts and Inflexibility of Constitution Decried.

The seven oldest lawyers of Portland from the standpoint of admission to the bar, three of whom were present in spirit but absent in person. ent in spirit but absent in person however, were the guests of honor at the seventh annual banquet of the Mulinomah Bar Association in the crystal banquet hall of the Oregon Hoenystal banquet hall of the Oregon Hotel hast night. They are: Richard Williams, 1857; Rufus Mallory, 1860; J. H. Woodward, 1860; Cyrus A. Dolph, 1866; J. C. Moreland, 1867; P. L. Willis, 1866; J. C. Moreland, 1860; Cyrus A. Dolph, 1866; J. C. Moreland, Mallory were not there, but sent messages of regret because of their inability to be on hand.

Speakers of the evening included Judge Stophen J. Chadwick, of the Supreme Court of Washington; J. C. Moreland, clerk of the Oregon Supreme Court; George N. Davis, Judge of the Multnomah County Circuit Court, and District Attorney vis. Judge of the Multnomah County Circuit Court, and District Attorney Evans. C. E. S. Wood, who was to have spoken on the topic, "The Recall of After-Dinner Speakers," was absent on advice of his physician, he stated in a note explaining his failure to appear. "What we need is a reformatory where young men may be sent and turned away from idleness and victousness and led into the upward path, free from the degrading influences of the ordinary penitentlary," said District Attorney Evans.

"After two or three convictions, when 'After two or three convictions, when a defendant had demonstrated his in-corrigibility, he should be sentenced to a really, truly penitentiary."

Legislation Passion Decried.

Judge Stephen J. Chadwick devoted his speech largely to decrying what he termed the "passion for legislation" and tracing the growth of the police power in law and the corresponding decrease of the idea that the law must protest individualistic rights, no mai-

Familiarity Is Deerfed. Judge Moreland recalled many inci-dents of early times, one being that a Justice of the Peace had "tipped" him Justice of the Peace had "tipped" him to demand a jury, as he had promised to decide a case against Judge Moreland's client. On another occasion a Justice had gravely declared unconstitutional a law requiring a Justice to live in the precinct in which he held court. There were also interesting sidelights on famous early day cases and pioneer lawyers.

Judge Davis decried the tendency of attorneys to be too familiar with the court and explained that the reason he requires strict decorum and the observance of all the little niceties in his department is because the judge on the bench represents the majesty of the law. Proper respect of the court the law. Proper respect of the court on the part of an attorney does more than anything else to impress a lay-man spectator with the dignity of ju-dicial proceedings, he declared.

My deciaration to the voters two years ago is on file in the office of the City Auditor. The principles expressed therein are the principles of sound and honest municipal government. Briefly they are:

Economy without parsimony.

No special privilege without adequate compensation therefor.

Elimination of street improvement abuses which worked such hardships on a large class of small home owners during previous administrations.

Efficiency in Police Planned, An efficient police department, which should be conducted for all the people and not for any particular class.

An honest city engineer who could not be used or infinenced by one class to exploit and rob another.

An administration for all the people, in which every interest should be represented and in which every man should have some voice.

When he was in Portland Mr. Griffin was agent for the Chiengo & Northwestern. The office then was at First and Oak streets, in a frame shack. The frame buildings were all around. By a strange coincidence the present agent of the Northwestern line is a man of the same name—E. C. Griffin.

Most of the time since leaving Portland Mr. Griffin has resided in Philadelphia and other Eastern cities. He is making a tour of the Coast now and probably will come here soon to remain permanently.

"When I came to Portland the first time I didn't think it was much of a place," he said yesterday, "but as soon as I got away from it I found that it wasn't such a bad town after all. It seems that I never learned to appreciate Portland until after I got away and couldn't come back."

In his early days Mr. Griffin was associated with A. L. Maxwell, who is now retired and lives here. The two used to hustle baggage in Kansas City and came to Portland together.

If the voters put in good officials, they will have much better results under commission government than under the present charter; if they neglect to put in good officials, it may be worse.

"As far as I am concerned," Mr. Lombard declared, "I want good government more than I want office. I am trying to tell the voters what the commission government is and about Week Arrive in Portland.

The eagerly awaited librettos of the various operas which will be presented at the Orpheum Theater next week have at last arrived, and are on sale at the Sherman-Clay store, and at the Steers-Coman offices in the Columbia building.

Perhaps the most anxiously antici-Perhaps the most anxiously anticipated opera to be given during the season of three days is the "Jewels of the Madonna." which has been selected on account of its charming music and wonderfully tragic and interesting story, as the opening bill for the Chicago Grand Opera Company, and the principal role will be sung by Mme. Carolina White, who originated it in Chicago last season. The opera itself was such a tremendous success in Europe last season that the rights of presentation in this country were eagerly sought for, and finally secured over all competitors by Andreas Dippel. The sale of seats for the entire season is on at the Sherman, Clay & Company store, Sixth and Morrison streets, and it is amusing to stand near and hear nearly everyone of the buyers designate their preference for seats, not by the evening of the performance but, for instance, by "The Jewels," as the demand for the seats for the opening night is remarkable.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup than You Can Buy

A Family Supply, Saving $2 and Fully Guaranteed.

A full pint of cough syrup—as much es you could buy for $2.50—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of an obstinate cough more quickly, usually ending it inside of 24 hours. Excellent, too, for croup, whooping cough, sore lungs, asthma, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fity cents' worth) in a pint bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This is just laxative enough to help cure a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which is usually upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe is now used by thousands of housewives throughout the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or founded ones with this Thousands are unable to digest certain kinds of food. In most cases it is not the fault of the food, nor the stomach. It is probable that the stomach has been abused. Many resort to predigested foods and various kinds of medicines to get relief from dyspopsia, indigestion and heartburn, but without permanent benefit.

indigestion and heartburn, but without permanent benefit.

If your stomach was in perfect condition, you would not need medicine to digest the foods you eat. Jayne's Tonio Vermifuge is a stomach regulator. It gets the stomach in such a condition that it will digest food without other assistance. It overcomes the acidity and atimulates the coating of the stomach and intestines so that they will properly absorb and assimilate the nutriment from the food eaten. Sufferers from dyspepsia and indigestion will find permanent relief in a short time after beginning the use of the tonic. For children, the addition of a little sugar will make it most palatable.

Many forms of supposed indigestion Many forms of supposed indigestion are the result of intestinal parasites, for which Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed. Insist upon Jayne's; accept no other. Millions have praised it for more than eighty years. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.
