

DAN KELLAHER MAY BE EAST SIDE MAN IN RING

East Side Man Expected to Enter Mayoralty Race on Bull Moose Ticket.

ALBEE ALREADY IN FIELD

Decision of State Senator to Seek Nomination Will Precipitate Warm Contest in Third Party. No Democrat Yet Appears.

ALBEE FILES DECLARATION. H. Russell Albee filed with City Auditor Harbur his platform and slogan in his race for Mayor at 5 o'clock sharp yesterday afternoon. His platform follows: "If I am nominated, I will during my term of office give the best that is in me for the upbuilding of Portland. I strongly favor the commission form of government and shall work for its establishment on a basis which insures the proper supervision of the expenditures of the city's funds, amounting to many millions of dollars annually."

Dan Kellaher, State Senator, member of the Public Dock Commission, ex-Councilman, president of the East Side Business Men's Club and a Grand-avenue grocer, is expected to enter the race as a rival of H. Russell Albee, who announced himself positively as being in the race and who filed his platform and declaration of intention yesterday at the City Hall.

At the grocery store, where Mr. Kellaher is sometimes to be found, he said yesterday that he had heard rumor of his nomination by the Republican party. He said he would not affirm nor deny the statement that he will be a candidate. He may file his declaration today.

Kellaher's candidacy is being urged by those who are not in sympathy with Mr. Albee and who believe that Kellaher is a more illustrious leader, Colonel Roosevelt, and less his hat into the ring any day as a candidate for Mayor on the Progressive party ticket.

Should Kellaher become a candidate, the Progressive party vote will thus be divided between him and Mr. Albee. They will strive for the party nomination just as Mayor Rushlight, Gay Lombard and Councilman Maguire will strive for the nomination in the Republican primaries. No Democratic candidate for Mayor has as yet been brought out. In fact, the office is hunting the man with a vengeance in that party this time. Heretofore there have been no lack of candidates, but it is said that the commission charter, which looks so large on the horizon, is to blame for this condition. In cases where a charter is adopted, party designations will be abolished in city affairs, and the officers to be elected under its provisions will be chosen by the people and an Auditor.

The Progressives declare they will put up a complete city ticket for the primaries, to be taken up by the Councilmen, and they have already made some announcements of candidates. Ben Reiland and C. C. Craig are candidates for Councilmen. No Democratic candidates for Commissioners, if they are nominated in the primaries. J. B. Holbrook is a candidate for Councilman from the Second Ward. He will be nominated and the commission charter be adopted, as he says he cannot devote all his time to the office.

Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden is also a candidate for the Council-at-Large, and Len L. Parker has announced himself for the position of Municipal Judge.

LINER CARRIES AWAY GIRL

Mrs. McCormick Tardy Leaving Kansas City and Gets Ride. Discussing suffrage topics was responsible for Mrs. McCormick, an attractive miss who resides at Milwaukee, Wis., but at present is visiting at Astoria, being carried away from the latter city an unwilling passenger aboard the steamer Kansas City yesterday, and when, after three hours aboard the liner, it appeared as if she would have to make the trip to Portland, the steamer Larline here in sight and the young woman transferred for the return to Astoria.

that the Prosecuting Attorney make a further investigation of the death of Mrs. Bailey. It is believed that Prosecutor Moore will take action in the case tomorrow.

Mrs. Mary A. Moore, who long had been a friend of Mrs. Bailey, testified that Mrs. Bailey was attracted to Mrs. Hazard's method of treatment through the publicity given the Williamson case a year ago, when Mrs. Hazard was convicted at Port Orchard of manslaughter and sentenced to from two to 20 years' imprisonment for striking to death Miss Claire Williamson, a wealthy English spinster, who went to her for treatment.

PRICE OF SALMON IS HIGH

Warden Confiscates and Sells Fish for 25 Cents a Pound. What probably was the highest price ever paid for salmon by a Portland wholesaler was recorded yesterday, when, on the Alder-street dock, with Master Fish Warden Clanton as auctioneer, four royal chinook salmon were knocked down to Russell Walker, a market man, for 25 cents a pound, or $28.50 for the four.

Master Fish Warden Clanton had a "trip" that the salmon would arrive in Portland and when they were taken off the boat he was there to confiscate them. Several wholesale fish dealers witnessed the seizure, and began to hammer each other as to who would get the salmon, with the result that when they were offered for sale it took a record price to end the good-humored rivalry.

Montgomery, formerly cashier of the Allegheny National Bank at Pittsburg, who was convicted of embezzling $48,000, was released from Federal prison here.

STARVATION, IS VERDICT

East Cause of Mrs. Bailey's Death, Says Jury. SEATTLE, March 28.—The death of Mrs. Mary Bailey, who died Monday night at the Ollala Sanitarium of Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazard, the "starvation" doctor, caused by lack of nutrition or starvation, according to the verdict returned tonight by a coroner's jury at Port Orchard, Kitsap County. Three physicians who performed an autopsy on the body testified at the inquest that their investigation revealed nothing abnormal that would not be caused by the absence of food. The coroner's jury recommended

POOR PEOPLE GIVE FREELY

Contributions Pour in From Every Side for Aid of Flood Sufferers of East—Work of Obtaining Funds Will Go Ahead.

LITTLE BOY SENDS ALL HE HAS FOR RELIEF OF CHILDREN SUFFERING FROM FLOOD. The following letter was received yesterday by E. C. Giltner, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. It was accompanied by an order for $1, which was all the little philanthropist had.

"I am a little boy five years old," it reads, "and I send you a dollar to give to a poor little boy and I hope his house did not burn down. When I open my bank I will send two more dollars to another little boy." "I live with my grandpa at the Malloy Hotel. I hope all the little school children did not get very much drowned and I hope they will all get well. My name is "POOD RAN."

considerable sum by individual contributions, independent of those made by the firms with which they are connected. The question of sending food, clothing and other supplies received careful consideration.

"It is a pity that I cannot do more," said W. B. Ayer, "the greatest is money. If we send the cash back there to the proper authorities they can spend it in the manner that will result in the most good. They know what is needed and can buy supplies on the ground cheaper than we can procure them here and ship them, even if the railroads haul them free. They will have the advantage also of getting them when they need them most."

Soliciting Funds Discouraged. Ben Selling discouraged the idea of soliciting contributions from the merchants, also the plan of holding a public concert and asking people to buy tickets. He said voluntary contributions should be obtained in sufficient amounts and predicted that they would be obtained. The experiences of the afternoon bore out the correctness of his opinion.

J. P. O'Shea expressed the opinion that the committee could easily raise $10,000 through voluntary offers. O. C. Hortsmeyer, president of the Ohio Society of Portland, and Charles L. Weaver, president of the Indiana Society of Oregon, attended and promised hearty co-operation. Weaver said that he had had no reply to his telegram sent a few days ago to Governor Ralston offering aid.

With the least of a huge mass of contributions, each member is expected to give at least $1. More than $500 had been subscribed last night. It is certain that the fund will be increased as word of this avenue alone. Members of the Portland Fire Department have arranged to give $1 each from their fund for the relief of the sufferers.

These figures do not include $1000 subscribed by the Portland Chamber of Commerce and $3500 additional collected by the Ohio Societies and the Oregon Journal. Of this latter amount $1000 was forwarded to Governor Ralston for the relief of the sufferers. Another telegraphic money-order will go forward this morning.

In addition to these contributions the Portland Chamber of Commerce has subscribed $1000 through its grand lodge officers, the Eagles $500 and the Rotary Club has given $500. The Rotary secretary, J. P. O'Shea, is in Milton with the National organization at Chicago. Officials of the local Masonic lodges have been in frequent communication with the Portland Chamber of Commerce and their offers of cash probably will be accepted. Masons throughout the country have volunteered relief work being conducted in the flood field by the Masons.

Individuals Give Toward Fund. A subscription list has been opened at the Chamber of Commerce for the relief of the sufferers. Each member is expected to give at least $1. More than $500 had been subscribed last night. It is certain that the fund will be increased as word of this avenue alone. Members of the Portland Fire Department have arranged to give $1 each from their fund for the relief of the sufferers.

City Treasurer Collects $420. Following is a list of the subscriptions received yesterday by City Treasurer Adams, the three first items also being accounted for in the Chamber of Commerce fund: Members Portland fire department $320.00, Members fire department band $50.00, Mayor A. G. Rushlight $10.00, Carl G. Liebes $5.00, Colonel Weider $2.50, Cash $1.00, H. Hohannsen $1.00, H. P. Denman $1.00, F. A. Hempman $1.00, Total $420.50

Partly on account of an almost universal demand from theater patrons to witness a return production of "The Politics," staged Thursday night by the theatrical managers, the Chamber of Commerce has decided to assist in the relief work, the "actors" who participated in the recent performance have volunteered to repeat their show at the Hall Theater tonight. Seats will be sold at $1 each, and every cent derived will go to the Chamber of Commerce relief fund.

Captain J. J. Reynolds, secretary of the Oregon, Washington & California Salmon Packers' Association, has telegraphed Governor Cox, of Ohio, for instructions regarding the relief of the sufferers in Oregon. A donation from the salmon packers' association. The car will contain 750 cases, 37,500 cans, valued at $4 a case. Salmon will be sent to the canneries at Astoria, Coquille, Aberdeen, Hoquiam, South Bend, Willow Falls, Tillamook and Portland. Mr. Reynolds says the food is such as to keep any length of time and in his estimation is a much more valuable donation than money.

All the express companies have found the railroads in the offer to carry goods consigned to flood victims free. The people of Corbett, in Eastern Multnomah county, have collected a ton of food products and will forward them at once. From all parts of Oregon are coming offers of food products, parties, and a variety of goods. The citizens of Albany already have loaded three cars with a variety of goods. The citizens along the Estacada line have notified E. C. Giltner that they have assembled three cars of potatoes. Although the Chamber of Commerce committee is not advising food contributions, they have advised communities that are collecting them in carload lots to forward them to the Governor of either of the stricken states. A benefit concert will be given at the Army by the Third Regiment Band Thursday evening, April 3. This will give the general public, including such persons as have not given to the Chamber of Commerce fund a chance to assist in the relief work.

Information by Telephone

PEOPLE are not leaving so much to chance in these days of universal telephone service. Instead of risking disappointment they telephone and get the facts.

Will school be held on a stormy morning, will your friend be in if you call, what does the weather man predict, and when does the train leave—are samples of myriads of questions constantly passing over the wire, and being answered by the proper authorities.

There are also questions to be asked about the telephone service, how somebody can be reached over the Bell Long Distance Telephone and what it will cost, and similar questions, which are being answered by the information operators.

Y.M.C.A. CIRCUS EVENT OF ALL AGES

Jarum & Bingham Present Colossal Aggregation in Tip-Top Tomfoolery. PEANUT VENDERS AT WORK. SURE-ENOUGH BAND, Village Fire Department, Clowns, Menagerie Herds and Acrobats Turned Loose—2 Repeater Today.

Startlingly stupendous, deliriously dazzling, monstrously magnificent, was the Jarum & Bingham Greater Circus, the most colossal aggregation of acrobatic agility and tip-top tomfoolery ever done under one canvas—beg pardon, one skylight—which appeared under the auspices of the physical department of the Portland Y. M. C. A. in the big gymnasium of that institution last night. The performers numbered 200—count 'em—200, and it seemed like there was at least 'seven times that many.

There were whole flocks of clowns and bear-clowns, solid platoons of acrobats, skads of solid-ruled tumblers, and a horde of shrill-voiced popcorn, peanut and lemonade vendors, who ever did their prototype of those smaller attractions, Barnum & Bailey's and Ringling's. The big gymnasium had been transformed into a bona fide circus ring-around-the-arena, where there was something doing every minute on two rings and a platform. The seats and the gallery were well filled and the applause was almost continuous throughout the performance.

Circus Band Makes Hit. A sure-though circus band—or rather, one a whole lot better than that carried by any of the other circuses that have come to Oregon to contribute to the glittering introductory pageant to the grand finale. All the performers and ring attendants, together with the entire menagerie, took part in the pageant. The procession had to go twice around the arena to show its full length. The burning sands of Arabia there had been brought a number of graceful courtesans, who vied in spirit with a herd of shaggy ponies from the frozen steppes of Siberia. Elephants from Hindustan, Central Africa and a number of Portland homes, lumbered ponderously along. A shy giraffe bumped her horns against the ropes, and an ostrich made a ludicrous mistake when he attempted to bury his head in the sawdust.

Consternation filled the "gym" when the fun was at its height, a "fire" breaking out in one end of the arena. A panic and a stampede were narrowly averted by the timely arrival of a fire department complete with engine and hook-and-ladder equipment.

The Audience Is Mystified. "The Midway Trio" gained even more than the usual share of applause for their cleverness as acrobats and equilibrist. The three boys weigh fully 175 pounds each, and are, respectively, Tellerman, the Great, and daughter performed the marvelous Monte Christo act to the mystification of the entire audience. The little girl who assisted the big man of magic was tied tightly in a black bag, but after a few moments in the black cabinet came out smiling with the bag by her hands and an ostrich made a ludicrous mistake when he attempted to bury his head in the sawdust.

Griffin's Fine Not Increased. M. H. Griffin, a real estate dealer who was fined $20 for leaving his auto in the street on the corner of Third and Broadway streets last Thursday longer than the time allowed by a city ordinance, criticized the court yesterday. Griffin said he was fined on the ground that others were fined for the same offense. He was fined $20.00.

RANSACKED HOUSE FIRED

Police Think Benton-Street Blaze Was Intended to Cover Theft.

With clothing and household effects scattered over the floor, evidently in the search for valuables, the home of Mrs. A. Collins, a widow, at 290 Benton street, was found on fire last night about 10 o'clock. The police are working on the theory that the house was first robbed, then fired to cover the traces of the robbery. Quick work by engine companies 8 and 13 put out the blaze before it had gained much headway and revealed traces of theft. The damage to house and fittings is less than $2000.

A sudden flare of fire in the kitchen of the house, which is of frame and two stories high, brought an alarm. The thickness of the smoke prevented firemen from entering except in the rear, where was the bed of the flames, and these they quickly conquered.

Plain-clothesman August Schirmer, sent to investigate, of this place, discovered the condition of the personal property. Mrs. Collins, who is said by neighbors to be a recent arrival, with two children, was not to be found at the time of the blaze.

RECALL PETITIONS FILED

The checking of the names will require some time. The checking will be thorough, to avoid possible duplications and to verify all signatures before action is taken toward a final election. Mayor Gilbert refused to talk of the matter, but said he would have a statement to make public after the names had been checked up.

Pasco School Board Has Vacancies. PARCO, Wash., March 28.—(Special.)—There are two unexpected vacancies in the Board of School Directors of Pasco School District D. W. Fahr was elected to succeed himself for a term of three years and J. H. Sylvester was elected to a term of one year in the recent election after a hard-fought campaign. Both of these candidates have failed to qualify within the required time and therefore cannot take the offices to which they were elected.
