MOTOR FINES ARE IMPOSED

Dr. Sommer Makes Unprofitable Suggestion Which Costs $40. Because Harvey O'Bryan, insurance broker, is very accommodating about going into Municipal Court and sitting as a juror whenever needed, for a stipend of $1 a day, all his past offenses are forgiven, but he mustn't do it again. That, in effect, was the attitude of the court when Mr. O'Bryan came up yesterday on a charge of allowing his automobile to stand in the congested district. In consideration of his ill-represented services as a juror on repeated occasions, he was given a continued sentence without costs, but if he trespasses again, under the rules of the court he will have to pay the full $20 fine. Dr. E. A. Sommer was convicted of the same offense and in ordinary course would have escaped with the imposition of $10 costs, but he asked for a fine upon which he could base an appeal and $50 was imposed. Later yesterday Dr. Sommer said he had about decided to let the case drop, so he is out just $40. C. E. Belds and T. W. Swanton paid $10 costs and were given continued sentences for the same offense.

ACTRESS ESCAPES ARREST

Empress Manager Rescues Madame Berio Just in Time. Madame Berio, 43-year-old swimmer, barely escaped arrest at the entrance to the Empress Theater Monday. Her part of "The Diving Girls" performance requires her to make believe she is one of the audience, and E. A. Skillings, the doorman, not knowing her, refused to allow her to pass without a ticket. Madame Berio, to draw the attention of Manager Pierong, who was inside, rapped on the glass doors with a ring and in her anxiety not to be late for her act, she ran to and fro, appealing to every theater attaché in sight to recognize her as one of "The Diving Girls." None of the employees in the front of the house knew her and Chief Usher Hill called Patrolman Thompson in the midst of the excitement. The bluecoat had Madame Berio by the arm to lead her to the police station for examination as to her sanity when Manager Pierong arrived and explained the situation. Madame Berio says she had the same experience in other cities in her vaudeville tour, but the Portland incident represents her closest escape from jail. Eastern floods are responsible for the delay of one Northwestern League player in reporting. Leo Strait, ex-Portlander but now with Seattle, is the man in question.

ROSEBURG REJECTS BONDS

Measure Providing Improved Fire Department Defeated. ROSEBURG, Or., April 1.—(Special.)—The voters of Roseburg Monday rejected the bond issue of $15,000 for modern fire-fighting apparatus by a mill tax with which to maintain a paid fire department, 445 to 448; and the establishment of Roseburg as a separate road district, 676 to 215. Spirited strife resulted over the proposition to purchase fire-fighting equipment and maintaining a paid department. These issues were opposed by heavy property-owners, Mayor Mitchell and a majority of the Council. Of the votes cast about one-fourth were women. Mrs. George E. Houck was the first woman to vote in Roseburg. It is said that many firemen will resign on the grounds that the present fire-fighting equipment is inadequate. Eugene Gets New Factory. EUGENE, Or., April 1.—(Special.)—A factory for the manufacture of rag rugs will be opened here within a month by John W. Vaughan, who has already secured a location in the manufacturing district and has placed the order for his looms and other machinery. From 15 to 20 operatives will be required.
