the run and saved the Oaks from a defeat.

Four runs and eight hits were chalked up for the Beavers by the register before Henley was taken out in the seventh, and three of the eight hits were home runs, with three more good for doubles. Henley had good control, not walking a batsman, but there was not enough on the ball to prevent the Portlanders from swatting the horsehide in about every direction that was possible and still make base hits.

14-INNING TIE AT SACRAMENTO

Darkness Ends Oaks-Wolves Game With Score One to One. SACRAMENTO, April 6 .- Fourteen in-

SACRAMENTO, April 6.—Fourteen in-nings of Nip-and-Tuck baseball, with a crowd of 7800 skirting the field and causing several delays in the game, was what Sacramento and Oakland put up for the wind-up of the series today. When it was all over and the sun had been out of sight for half an hour, the diamond warriers quit the field with the honors standing even, at one Not a run was scored for ten innings. A fluke bounce on a throw-in from the outfield gave the Caks a tally in the first of the elev-enth, but when Yan Buren went in as ich hitter for Moran in the last half pinch hitter for Moran in the last half of the inning he started the Wolves on the read to a taily, which tied the score, at one all, and from then on te the finish it was an airtight game. Munsell and Gregory were the rival Munsell and Gregory were the rival pitchers and each stayed the limit. Van Buren, who replaced Moran from the eleventh to the end, was the only change in either line up. Gregory weakened perceptibly toward the end, after holding the locals to two hits for eight limings. Munsell, on the other hand, grew better as the game went on, and after being found for seven hits in eight innings, he held the Cuks hitless for the last six frames, and fanned the last two men up in and fanned the last two men up in Among exhibitors who will leave to-day for Seattle are: McCarthy and West with the two prize winners, Rodney Merley and Lansdowne-Currock-Billy; Alfred A, Hampson, president of the Portland Kennel Club, with a bull terrier puppy; Dr. Alan Welch Smith, with his famous setter; Charles Campion, the largest handler in Portland, who will take 17 or 13 dogs to the North, and C. D. Nairn, of Amity, the largest breeder of collies in Oregon.

"All told, close to 30 dogs will enter the Seattle Bench Show," said J. J. McCarthy, secretary and treasurer of the Portland Club, last night. "The conflict in dates will hurt both shows considerably, but I expect that about 15 dogs will compete at San Francisco."
