

RUSHLIGHT TALKS TO UNION WORKERS

Mayor Expresses Pleasure at Activity Shown by Women in Present Campaign.

REFORMS FOR POOR CITED

Policy of Administration on Playgrounds, Supervision of School Children's Health and Free Dental Clinic Emphasized.

Mayor Rushlight last night addressed a large number of men and women in Oddfellows' Hall, Grand avenue and East Pine street on the issues of the campaign, making the second speech the executive has thus far made since announcing his candidacy for re-election.

The Mayor expressed himself as being well-pleased with the activity of the women in the present campaign, complimenting them on the large registration which they made during the time when the books were open. He declared that the interest of the women, including those who have to work for a living, are taking a larger and more active part in the present administration.

Take the playgrounds. We are taking the children off the streets and giving them the advantages which the poor children of large cities are denied. Playgrounds are being installed in every section of the city and the policy of this administration is to give to the children the best of everything.

Executive Board Member Denies He Found Fault With Various City Bureaus.

SELLWOOD MEETING SCENE

Member of Mayor Rushlight's Staff Contends That System and Not Individual Most to Blame—Argument Finished on Walk.

A meeting at which Gay Lombard, Republican candidate for Mayor, spoke last night at Sellwood was enlivened when C. W. Hodson, a member of Mayor Rushlight's Executive Board, appeared and asked to have time in which to make his recent statements about purchasing supplies by city departments made clear to those present.

JOE DAY IS DISCOVERED

PORTLAND SLEUTH CAPTURED BY ST. LOUIS REPORTER.

Full Page of Sunday Edition of Newspaper Devoted to Career, Imaginary and Otherwise.

St. Louis has discovered Joe Day. To the tune of a whole page in a Sunday newspaper, with half a page of photographs and half a page of reading matter, the police of the Portland police force has achieved prominence, and great is the glee down in room 11, Alnsworth building, where a copy of the paper arrived yesterday.

Every time Joe Day goes away from town he starts something. The last time it was his celebrated exploit of driving behind a motor car and being entangled with Judge Ronald in Seattle over his being summoned to appear in connection with the Wapinitia graft. No one in the great back East, where the police reporters are not easily moved, and they throw him down and take away from him a full page of newspaper space.

How the St. Louis scribe accumulated such a mass of information and misinformation is a mystery to Joe Day's comrades here, as the subject of the report is notorious for his disinclination to being interviewed. Whatever the facts, the "demigod of Chinatown" is in for a terrific wiggling when he gets back home.

Dead Man Identified as L. Anderson.

A man who died Tuesday night in a cell at the City Jail after being picked up unconscious on the street, has been identified by the Coroner as Lewis Anderson. He was a janitor in a rooming-house at Third and Burnside streets, but nothing beyond that fact could be learned concerning him.

EMPRESS ACTRESS HAS WRINKLE-PROOF RECIPE

Marie Russell—No Relative of Lillian—Defends Use of Grease Paints and Tells Their Advantages When Accompanied by Little Work.

SISTERS in the mad chase for youthful skins of the pink and white variety, satin texture with age or freckle and the sun kisses warranted not to wrinkle, yellow with age or freckle here is a recipe. "I was given me by Marie Russell—no relation to Lillian, but whose skin is just as lovely in a brunette style as Lillian's is in the white and blue and gold edition.

First you must put cold cream, slathers of it all over your face and arms and neck, kneading it in, as Marie Russell says, "any old way." Wipe it off gently and put on a liberal coating of grease paint. Now over all this put a shoe polish sort of mixture, the sort that clings closer than poor relations. Decorate your face carefully, with attention to detail, not getting in your eyes and not forgetting the back of your neck and not eating it off your mouth corners. Now dust over this nice soap-and-water compound a lot of red on your lips, smear your brows and lashes delicately and wear it for say three hours every evening.

HUMAN MACHINERY JUST LIKE ANY OTHER KIND

Employee of Garage Gives Plant Juice a Personal Trial and Then Declares the Above Opinion.

Mr. W. S. Hastings, who lives at 1623 Twelfth avenue, in Seattle, where he is employed at Grant's Garage, on Tenth avenue, in that city, says he thinks "human machinery is just like any other kind, and it needs an occasional overhauling to get the best speed. Mr. Hastings knows a great deal about machinery, and what he has to say about Plant Juice is told in the following:

"The machinery of the body is very much like any other kind, when we reach a part that is affected, it is very easily cured. I bought a bottle of Plant Juice for my rheumatism. I was also having some trouble with my stomach; it would hold food, and I was in a solid mass. Plant Juice has stopped this entirely and my digestion is now in perfect condition. It has helped my normal healthy action; relieves constipation, tones up the stomach and digestive organs; sharpens the appetite and promotes sound, healthful sleep. If you suffer from headaches, dizzy spells, spots before the eyes, pains across the back or under the shoulder blades; if you feel tired and dragged out from overwork or worry, Plant Juice, it will do you a world of good. The Plant Juice man is at The Owl Drug Store, at Seventh and Washington streets, call and get a bottle from him. If it does not help you he will return your money.

from that city to tell us what we should do; that his services could be of use in New York would seem appropriate.

Mr. Lombard said he could not understand why Mr. Allen continues to condemn departments of the city government, laying the blame on the system, instead of on the individual. Taking the police department as an illustration, he declared that he could see the Mayor should not shoulder the responsibility for the conditions.

The Mayor appoints the Chief of Police, the Executive Board and, were he so inclined, could control the department absolutely," declared Mr. Lombard. "Two years ago, when the city of Portland that, if elected, he would be responsible for the police department."

WALLA WALLA FANS WAIT

Baseball Day Will Be Tuesday. When Tri-State Opens.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 17.—(Special.)—Next Tuesday will be baseball day in Walla Walla. It marks the opening of the Western Tri-State League season. The Commercial Club has arranged to have the Pendleton and Walla Walla teams as guests at the weekly luncheon. In the afternoon a four division parade will be held. At the head will ride Liberator, the coach of the Walla Walla team. Liberator has telegraphed to New York to have his white suit expressed to Walla Walla for this occasion.

SHEEP LOSSES ARE HEAVY

Reports Indicate That Cold Wind Depletes Shorn Flocks.

PENDLETON, Or., April 17.—(Special.)—Word has reached here that during the cold rains the early part of this week heavy sheep losses were sustained in the vicinity of Castle Rock and Arlington, Or. The Stanford outfit, at Castle Rock, is said to have lost 1200 ewes, which may mean that many lambs died also. The sheep had but recently been shorn with machines, making the city closer than when done by hand, and the cold wind was responsible for the heavy loss.

Smaller losses are reported at Arlington, Roosevelt and other points, where the storm and cold wind struck. No losses are reported in Umatilla County as a result of the rain, although the fall crop is heavy. It is said this Spring rain will total a greater loss than the severe snow storm and cold snap which caught sheepmen in the midst of lambing last month.

"You're a babe in Brooklyn, N. Y. At least, they seem babies to me, although I'm 13 and my little daughter is 9 and both are making great strides in school. They're putting me to bed, and I wouldn't have taken this trip without him. For 12 years we appeared together in a sketch, then the Eastern vaudeville managers wanted me to do a single act, and I wouldn't have taken it. I held out a long time. Then the offer was so tempting I took it.

Naturally this was my cue—babies. So we rattled along conversationally to the imminent danger of getting no interview. Then remembered. "You're a cousin, aren't you, of Madame Julia Culp?" I said making a statement and topping it off with a question. "Yes, indeed; and we'll see each other for the first time in nearly 20 years when she gets here. She hasn't the remotest idea in the world that I am here. I have never heard her sing, of course, since we were children. But her voice was lovely even then, and at all the parties we other girls used to sit still when Julia was asked to sing. I never saw her in these days, and it wasn't until I came to America that the desire to sing came to me. Julia became the protégée of the Queen of Holland, while I dug out my career as a comedienne and shouter of coon songs."

BRIDAL PARTY HELD

Vancouver Society Wedding Followed by Police Action.

AUTO SPEEDING IS CHARGE

Newly-Weds Compelled to Leave Boat and Return to Police Station. Officer Relents on Learning Pair Just Wedded.

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 17.—(Special.)—Compelled to wait in a taxi cab in front of the police station while the chauffeur was being held for exceeding the speed limit was the unpleasant experience last night of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Montgomery, an hour and a half after their wedding, which was one of the society events of the season here.

The marriage took place at the home of the mother of the bride, Mrs. F. S. Palmer, when Mrs. Mary Louise Palmer became the bride of Mr. Montgomery, Rev. H. S. Tompkins, Presbyterian minister, performing the ceremony in the presence of 80 friends of the couple. The home was beautifully decorated, and following the wedding a reception was held and supper served. Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, having arranged to go to California, called a taxicab from Portland and departed from their home for the ferry under showers of old shoes, rice and blessings from their friends.

Two other machines followed closely, and when Washington street was reached the speed of the leading machine reached a terrific rate of speed. It is said. The driver was arrested on the ferry and he backed the machine off and the party accompanied an officer to the police station, much crestfallen.

When Night Sergeant McCurdy learned that the prisoners were members of a wedding party he relented, but gave the driver a severe reprimand and released all in time to board the boat.

Mr. Montgomery is a Cornell graduate of 1911 and is employed by the Vancouver Gas Company. His father is president of a suburban line in the East. Mrs. Montgomery is one of the most beautiful young women in the city and a popular member of the Jabber-ander Club. They will return to Vancouver.

APRAISERS ARE APPOINTED

MILWAUKIE, Or., April 17.—(Special.)—At the adjourned meeting of the Council Tuesday night, W. H. Council and Fred C. Harlow were appointed appraisers to represent the city in fixing the value of the two water plants offered the city. The water companies will each appoint an appraiser, and the four will select a fifth. Councilmen Albee and Council reported that they had organized a volunteer fire department.
