Notes of the Game.

Considerable excitement was created prior to the game when a curtain over an advertising sign in the center field fence took fire and was destroyed.

Four of the seven Los Angeles hits off West were infield taps. Few balls were hit hard in the game and but for the errors which put men on the bags and prompted the bunting game West undoubtedly would have chalked up another three or four-hit encounter.

The attendance has been astonishingly good—2000 today. Portland already has received more money for three days' attendance than it did for any whole series last year, and with the present good weather continuing the week's receipts will be splendid.

The Portland team looks better every day, and Murray looks like the catchday, and Murray looks like the catching find of the year. Besides doing fine work today, he got a good hit.

Infield Works Like Clock.

The Portland infield works like a clock, and the outfield is being made faster. Guigni has ousted Fortier from an outfield job. Fortier was supplianted by Guigni in the third inning today after Fortier misjudged a fly. Guigni later brought the fans to their feet when he made a brilliant catch of a foul. He also landed a nice hit. Score: Portland—

The game was a pitchers' battle between Scott and Mitchell. The former allowed the visitors but three hits, while Mitchell was touched for two, which came in one inning; these, coupled with a base on balls and two errors, cost the visitors the game. Cleveland lost an opportunity of tying the score in the seventh through poor base running by Chapman. Chapman hit a long drive to left good for two bases, but he falled to touch first base, and the ball was relayed to the infield, and the runner called out. Immediately following this mistake

At these junctures Covaleski, pitching for Spokane, would come through with a strike out. He fanned six batters, two of them when Portland threatened to score with only one man out, but at that he had no shade over Martinoni, who has the earmarks of a great pitcher.

It was Martinoni's misfortune to have two of the four passes he issued converted into runs. Up to the seventh inning Martinoni was invincible, only two scattered hits being made off his delivery. His support was brilliant and he was going strong.
