By a strange coincidence, Mrs. H. A. Johnson, Jr., who lived directly across the street from Mr. Hofer, died at the same time this afternoon. A. F. Hofer was born in Iowa, coming to Salem in 1889, shortly after his brother, Colonel E. Hofer, arrived here. Together the brothers purchased the Daily Capital-Journal, and A. F. Hofer was business manager of that paper until 1908, when he became secretary of the Board of Trade, which position he held for four years.

Dr. Alfred G. Schmidt, banker and a philanthropist of Albany, has invited Professor DeCout to go to that city and address a meeting at the Hotel Oregon on the subject of coffee clubs, and President Homan, of Willamette University, when he was here attending the dedication of the Methodist Church, said Salem would do well to follow the plan. The Eugene Coffee Club is intended to be a self-sustaining club for workmen, offering free reading and game rooms and a lunch counter, where plain food may be obtained at a minimum price. A free employment bureau is maintained in connection with the club.

OREGON CITY, Or., April 20.—(Special).—Application for initial registration of land in the Torrens law is rarely used in this county, but much simpler in form than the usual method of quieting title, has been made by the Elliott Prairie country, where a tract of 84.75 acres, through confusion of the title, is in dispute. The land at issue consists of 84.75 acres in the Elliott Prairie country, and is valued at about $50 an acre. Through confusion of the title, it is in dispute now, and as Coldren has a purchaser for the land, he desires to clear up this legal tangle. In acting in this case the court will order the recorder of the county to issue a certificate of title to the property, and on this certificate all incumbrances to the property will be entered.

REFERENDUM HIT HARD

COTTAGE GROVE EDITOR SPONSOR FOR RESOLUTION.

Special Election Would Cost From $7000 to $10,000 and State University Shown Big Asset.

ALBANY, Or., April 20.—(Special).—A strong resolution condemning the attempt to invoke the referendum upon the appropriations for the building of the University of Oregon, was adopted by the Willamette Valley Editorial Association, in session here Saturday. It is a noteworthy fact that the resolution was introduced by Elbert Bede, an editor of Cottage Grove, where the former referendum movement originated. The resolution recites that the referendum will necessitate a special election at an expense of $7000 to $10,000 to the state, and that the association believes all educational institutions of the state should be supported in a manner to make them efficient in the highest degree, and that the University of Oregon is a valuable asset to the people of the state. It further recites that the association believes that the present attempt to invoke the referendum is not inspired by a desire to serve the best interests of the state, but by motives unworthy of consideration.

of ill fame. She declares she is a legal resident of the United States by reason of marriage to two citizens. Her first husband, she says, was W. E. Ripley, whom she married in New York in 1894. He committed suicide in 1897. Her second husband was J. A. McNeil, a farmer of Oregon, to whom she was wedded March 11, 1913. She went to England in 1910 and remained 15 months, and it is her entry into this country at the end of that time that is alleged to be unlawful. The woman says she did not have a trial nor an opportunity to defend herself and that Thomas M. Fisher, an immigration inspector, was arresting officer, witness, judge and jury. She declares that while leaving the office of her attorney she was arrested, taken to the immigration office, subjected to a rigid examination without counsel or witnesses and placed under bond. Her first book was "That Little English Girl." She also wrote "A Year Without a Chaperone." The woman has been a musician, actress and is a fluent linguist, speaking and writing French, German, Spanish and English.

"The triumphant tomato!"

That is what Mrs. Elizabeth Robbins Pennell calls this delicious fruit-vegetable in one of her interesting books. "The tomato", she declares, "has given hungry men and women a new lease of pleasure." And she might well have added a new lease of health. No wonder that Campbell's famous Tomato Soup—retaining as it does, all the valuable and healthful properties of the perfect tomato in its best condition—is at once the most tempting, the most satisfying, the most wholesome soup ever made.
