This idea that $25 is a good price to pay for a suit of clothes seems to have struck a responsive chord in the minds of a lot of men. Many of you realize that you have been too careless about clothes buying; you've spent your money for results you didn't really get.

There's no reason why you shouldn't buy your clothes just as you do other things; with the same demand for a value-equivalent for your money. If you demand goods at the lowest possible price, you must expect to get the lowest possible value. The importance of paying a little more lies in the more you get in looks and durability.

If men were more careful on this price point, they'd get better returns for their money. We suggest $25 for a suit as a good place to start your reform.
