Captain Bill Rodgers Stars at Bat With 5 Hits in 5 Attempts. Higginbotham Holds South-crners Safe All Through.

At Portland-Portland 14, Venice 2. At San Francisco-San Francisco 15, Sacramento 1

It is next in line for the Columbia River to flow upstream.

The Portland Coast League club hit in the pinches yesterday, and so hard and often did the Beavers hit that they massacred the Venice Tigers by the overwhelming score of 14-3.

Twenty safe stands, all told, did the flamboyant Beavers register, Captain Rodgers starting with five hits in five trips to the plate.

Higginbotham, the pitching ace, pitched for Portland. He twirled effective ball until McCredie's men took their big lead and then he was eased up.

Tigers Are Inevitable. The noise from the incessant cannoning seemed to unnerve Higginbotham, for while Portland was falling upon Raleigh and Baum with all the gentleness of a 19-ton safe dropping on your toe, the Venice boys were busy booting the ball all over the lot.

Venice's cracks in the gorgeous recreation were eight in number, whereas the only Beaver error was made by Corey, who threw a wild pitch.

Games like that of yesterday occur seldom and far between, but just as long as the home team won the field day doubtless was enjoyed immensely by the ladies' day crowd of 4000.

Portland bunched four hits in the first inning of Raleigh, Rodgers driving Chadbourne and Deane across by the first of five hits.

After Portland had scored three more in the second inning on Litchich's error and hits by Chadbourne, Deane, Corey and Rodgers, Baum was hurried to the mound, replacing Raleigh.

Bill Rodgers' play, all through, sparkled like the diamond tiara in midday's sun.

Venice had an opportunity to tally a few more in the sixth inning, when a walk and hits by Patterson and Hopp filled the bases.

Portland and Venice now stand even on the series with two games won and lost. Hagerman will twirl for Portland today, and one of the trio, Stewart, Griffin and Edmondson, for Venice.

FORMER PORTLAND PITCHERS WHO ARE SHINING IN MAJORS

Tom Seaton, Philadelphia. (N.)

Seaton has pitched 84 innings to date, allowing only five runs. He pitched 27 innings with only two runs, but yesterday was relieved in the seventh against New York by a pinch hitter.

Another pitcher well known in Portland who has made good this season is Bill James, the Seattle giant of 1912. Bill won his two first games for the Boston Braves, making his debut into major league company in splendid style.

Philadelphia won, 4 to 3. Seaton and Demaree battled until the seventh inning with one run against each. Then two more were added by Seaton's single filled the bases.

Philadelphia won the game on Killian's single, a pass to Cravath, who batted for Seaton, Paskert's double and Knab's single.
