BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. Practically helpless before the clever hox work of Hi West, the Venice Tigers proved easy victims for Portland before a Sunday crowd of 7000. The score was 6 to 2, Happy Hogan using three pitchers Southpaw Hitt and Righthunders Griffin and Ferguson. Chadbourne starred at bat, securing Chadbourne starred at bat, securing three of Portland's 10 safe hits.

The series closed on an even keel, each winning three games. The teams left last night for California, the Beavers for a three weeks' road trip to Sacramento, Los Angeles and Venice.

After the first three or four innings yesterday there wasn't any question about the result.

Venice simply could not fathom the baffling hooks and side-arm twists sent baffling hooks and side-arm twists sent up by the clever West, while Portland found Hitt about as soft as an ice cream cone in a red-hot baker's oven. The crack scorphaw was pelted from the mound as early as the third inning, when two-baggers by Chad-bourne, Doane and Krueger, and a sin-gle by Rodgers scored three runs and made the total 4 to 0.

Griffin's Debut Disastrous.

Griffin, a newcomer, relieved Hitt in mid-inning, but the fireworks begun anew in the fourth, when a walk and hits by Chadbourne and Kores tallied

This gave the Beavers the game, 6 to 2, Venice having tallied a duet in the first half of the fourth on Bayless' double and singles by Patterson and an average of only $2-3 hits per game off his delivery. Sacramento fell be-fore him, 1 to 0, on six hits; Venice bowed down in the opening game, 3 to 1, on three hits, and again yesterday, 6 to 2, on five hits. He is some hurlsmith, Egbert.

Aside from West's twirling, the ex-tra base clouting by both clubs feat-ured the fray. Bayless was the only Venice bataman who was able to do anything with Hi, but he poked the right field fence twice for two-baggers. Portland, on the other hand, whacked out six doubles. Chadbourne securing out six doubles, Chadbourne securing Leard.2...

Weo, Kores, McCormick, Krueger and Heiling.3...

Doans one apiece. Doane one apiece.

McCormick played third base in lieu of Lindsuy and did it well, although chalked up with one error. McCredie chalked up with one error. McCredie made this switch because Lindsay, a southpaw batter, had been enjoying a slump, whereas McCormick, a right-hander, was booked to prove effective hander, was booked to prove effective against the shoots of Southpaw Hitt.
Litschi, Chadbourne and Rodgers all fielded sensationally. Litschi was forced to retire in the ninth inning when a wild shoot plugged him on the finger. Curiously enough, Umpire Newhouse refused to allow Litschi to take first base, Kane finishing out his term at bat. The score:

Notes of the Game.

Vean Gregg has allowed eight runs in his five games for Cleveland, so West's record of eight runs in six games ablies forth brilliantly under the comparison.

West walked only one man. He walked two on Tuesday and in the 1-0 game against Sacramento did not issue a part. This gives him ah sverage of one walk per game for the last three.

Umpire Newhoust had to caution Pitcher Ferguson against pitching from on top of the raibber.

After biffing out his two-bagger, scering a run in the third inning. Krueger was roundly applauded by the crowd.

An error following a two-bagger by Kores in the initial inning gave Portland the first run. Hallians was the culprit.

Undaunted by the four run lead, Hogar, was on the coaching line urging his men siong at the finish.

The morning game was featured by fine pitching, Douglass and Munsell showing splendid form, neither team being able to register more than one run up to the ninth. It looked bad for San Francisco when the Wolves go two runs in the 10th, but a Herculean effort brought the Seals level and they won the game by a lone tally in the 11th.

In the afternoon the Wolves used five pitchers, two catchers and two utility men, making 16 in all. Scores:

Suffer Reverses Later Along. LOS ANGELES, May 4 .- Los Angeles double and singles by Patterson and Hosp. Berry overthrew second base and let one of the runs in, so West really deserved a 6-to-1 game.

The score-gong was muffled after the fourth inning, both West and Griffin pitching good bail. Hogan tried his new big league recruit, Ferguson in the eighth and the Nashville man save a good account of himself.

West's parting victory gives him three wins in four starts since the club came home April 15. Inasmuch as the Beavers have won only six in that stretch of three weeks, West is entitled to have bables named after him, in addition to donating his phiz and name to the cigar boxes.

LOS ANGELES, May 4.—Los Angeles made it five out of the seven of the series by taking both games from Oakland a two-run lead up to the seventh inning in the morning game at Venice. Then a bad throw, a single and a stolen base scored two. Another run was added in the eighth.

Oakland scored in the first inning of the afternoon game, when Siagle was wild, hitting Hetling and making a brand of ball which was hard to beat, and it was not in the cards that the siretch of three weeks, West is entitled to have bables named after him, in sddition to donating his phiz and name to the cigar boxes.

LOS ANGELES, May 4.—Los Angeles made it five out of the seven of the D N. WATKINS, of Tacoma, and one of the strangest baseball cases on record. When Watkins sold the Tacoma team to Joe McGinnity the deal did not include Hunt. Watkins sold Hunt to St. Louis and was to get $1500 more May 1 if he made good. He was turned back and now he is in Tacoma and Watkins has gone to Philadelphia to try to sell him. Watkins owns Hunt but Watkins has no team. Now who does Hunt belong to and does he have to obey the dictates of his alleged master?

Harry Wolverton knows a thing of Against Seattle.

Harry Wolverton knows a thing of two about the technical side of base-ball. He was banished to the center-field clubhouse by Finney in a game at San Francisco the other day, but sat down on the doorstep to watch the game. Finney perceived him, stopped the game and motioned him off the field. Harry then pulled his legs up and wat on the door sill with his feet. and sat on the door sill with his feet against the jam. His point of vision remained the same and there was Williams to Present Full Strength off the field and Finney knew it. The game continued.

This means that Harris and Murray will be the regular receivers. Harris from first to fifth. The rise of Chicago has remained in Portland the first to the top, with Philadelphia chasing three weeks so as to give Manager Williams a chance thoroughly to try out his candidates. Doty, too, has not been with the team. He is now in shape and may pitch today's opener.

The batting order will likely be as follows:

New York, the champions, dropped with from first to fifth. The rise of Chicago to the top, with Philadelphia chasing the Cubs, and today by a Chicago defeat assuming the leadership; a winning streak by St. Louis, which brought that club into the first division, and a spurt on Brooklyn's part, are the features.

LOSE ON TRI-STATE.

Vaks Defeat Baker Despite Two Home Runs by West-Four-Bagger Wins for Irrigators,

The second week of Western Tri-State finds Walla Walla leading strong, with North Yakima and Boise tied for second and Pendleton a good third. In the games Sunday the leaders won— walla Walla over La Grande, 4 to 1; Boise over Pendleton, 3 to 2, and North Yakima over Baker 8 to 7.

At Walla Walla Jamison got wild in the seventh, after La Grande had led Willis, all the way, 1 to 0, and the Bears put four men across, salting away the game. Three walks, a double, a bunt, two errors and a single did the work. The last walk came with the bases full. Sensational work by Sheely and Davis robbed La Grande of several almost certain hits. In the ninth La Grande filled the bases with one down. A fast double play stopped them. The score:

McCredie Leaves Stanley and Heilmann Behind-Pitching Staff Going Good and New Men Seem to Be Stars.

The above announcement, or something like it, will usher in the 1913 season of the Northwestern League in Portland at 3:15 o'clock this after.

Analytical fans, however, believe the Beavers will do. They have been struggling in the paroxysms of a batting slump, but from the work in the past few games it begins to look as if the boys have shaken off the jinx.

Suffice to say, the pitching staff has been going great guns, and when the pitchers are holding up a feam must be figured with. As for the new men in the infield, Kores, Derrick and McCor-mick have shown themselves of class AA caliber. Kores right now, even on a cellar team, appears to be the one best bet

When Nick Williams returns home this morning, after his first three weeks' swing around the circuit, he will be shy two recruits.

Outfielder Fortier and Catcher Bliss are the absentees. Fortier, the Salt Lake City phenom, drafted last Fall under the glare of a 360 batting average, proved a bloomer and drew a release yesterday, as did Bliss, the Western Canada League backstop, a brother of Jack Bliss, of Sacramento.
