CONTEST IN THIRD CLOSE

Albee for Mayor on Progressive Ticket Receives More Than Twice as Many Votes as Kellaher. Final Figures Given.

HOW THE EAST AND WEST SIDES VOTED ON REPUBLICAN MAY-ORALTY CANDIDATES.

Rushlight's plurality

With the completion of the count of Saturday's municipal primary election, the results are not materially altered om those published in The Oregonian of Sunday. The completed count shows that the commission charter has carried by 276, instead of 222. Mayor Rushlight, with 12,237 votes, has a ma-jority of 370 over the combined votes of Lombard and Maguire. His plurality over Lombard is 3048.

Barbur received nearly three votes to 71 Maria L. T. Hidden Clarke's one for the Republican nomination for Auditor. Councilman—Fifth Ware Lombard ran much better on the West Side than he did on the East Side, West Side than he did on the East Side.

Councilman—Tenth Ward and the commission charter ran better 18 Charles H. Beard on the East Side than it did on the other side of the river.

Third Ward Contest Close. Frank S. Grant, who was unopposed for the Republican nomination for City Attorney, received 31,657 votes, or 782 votes less than William Adams, who had no opposition for the Republican nomination for Treasurer. One of the closest contests was that for the Republican nomination for Councilman from the Third Ward, where George Dunning received 16 votes more than E. C. Mears. The Republican nomination for Councliman in the Tenth Ward brought out the largest number of candidates, eight being entered. Clinton A. Ambrose was nominated, with a vote of 1715. His nearest opponent, L. D. Mahone, re-

TWIN GIRLS CAST FIRST VOTES ON TWENTY-FIRST BIRTH-DAY.

MISSES HAZEL AND MABEL BORRUGHS.

Entering into the heritage that had been won for them by years of struggle on the part of older champions of equal suffrage on the very day that the Federal Constitution allows citizens of the republic to cast their first votes, Misses Mabel and Hazel Borrughs were probably more fortunate in this regard than any other voters of either sex who cast their first ballots at Saturday's election.

The young women were born at Jacksonburg, Ind., May 2, 1892, so that they had just attained their majority on the day that they cast their first ballots in Portland Saturday in Precinct 73. They came to Oregon with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Borrughs, when they were 3 years old. Entering into the heritage that had been won for them by years of

ELECTION SYSTEM CHANGE IS DESIRED

Auditor Barbur Wants Inspectors Appointed to Serve for Terms of Years.

NEW LAW TO BE URGED

With Contemplated Increase in Number of Polling Places Belief Declared That Present Arrangements Must Be Bettered.

HOW THE EAST AND WEST SIDE VOTED ON COMMISSION CHARTER, Majority for

Radical changes in the election system in Portland to bring about more satisfactory conditions and more speedy, accurate and economical handling of the polls, are to be urged by speedy, accurate and economical handling of the polls, are to be urged by City Auditor Barbur as a result of his experiences in managing the special and primary elections of Saturday. He announced yesterday that he would promote a campaign to have the conditions so changed that confusion would be instructed in their duties and the whole election work at the polling places would be handled systematically. His plan will require action by the State Legislature.

The principal change recommended is the appointment by the city and county of an inspector for each precinct, to serve for a term of years. He would be required to familiarize himself with the election laws and the details of handling voters and votes at the polls by judges and clerks. On election day the inspector, according to Mr. Barbur's plan, would be required to be at the polling place early and see that the polls are opened on time and that every feature of the work is properly handled by the judges and clerks. He would also attend to securing luncheas for the election officials.

Ecosomy Is Urged.

Owing to the ease with which candidates for the various offices may file for the nominations, it is certain that a large number will try for the positions.

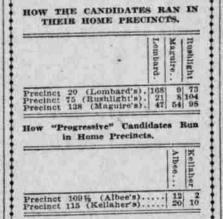

As Portland is one of the largest cities in America to adopt the commission plan, National attention is centered upon the results that are to be achieved; every move is being watched by other cities which have this form and also those that are considering it.

All the candidates for Mayor nominated under the direct primary of Saturday will file for the position of Mayor under the commission charter. This was positively announced by each yesterday. They are A. G. Rushlight, Republican, incumbent; H. R. Albee, Propublican, incumbent; H. R. Albee, P

This officer also would be thoroughly versed in the election laws and the rules governing voters and would act as adviser in all questions arising. When the polls close at night he would attend to the work of getting the night board into working shape and supervise the counting. It would be his duty to see that all supplies are at the polling places and that there is no misconduct.

Few Accept Service.

At the last election 3600 letters were sent out to various persons asking them to serve on the election boards. Out of this number only 600 responded. This made it necessary for a call for volunteers which brought out many persons who were undesirable but who had to be selected for lack of better material. With a precinct inspector, it is said, election officials could be secured more readily. If the required number failed to respond he could go through the precinct and provide competent persons to serve.

Mr. Barbur declares that with the number of precincts doubled it will be almost impossible to handle an election under the present system. He will

The near est approach to this occurred when the congregation of the Central Christian Church, East Twentieth and East Salmon streets, ordered the calling of a massmeeting of all voters, looking toward the nomination of a suitable

Under the commission plan all of the nominations of last Saturday, effected through the present system, are null and void. Thus, while winning the coveted goal in the primaries, they lose all they gained, save for the moral effect of their nomination. Many are of the opinion that the fact that a candidate for Municipal Judge, for instance, by a large vote, is entitled to serious consideration at the hands of the Mayor and Commissioners for that position when a Municipal Judge is to be selected by the Commission as a whole. The same holds true with the City Treasurer and City Attorney, both of whom are to be appointed by the Commission as a whole. City Treasurer addsms, now serving his first term and who was nominated in the Republican primaries Saturday, said vesterday that he probably would not become a candidate for Commissioner, but that he would seek the position of Treasurer at the hands of the Commission. City Attorney Grant probably will take a similar course.

One position is created by the adoption of the new charter, that of purchasing agent. This and the position of City Engineer are to be filled by the Commission as a whole.
