SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 6.—(Special.)—Bill James smiled the Beavers off of the cellar this afternoon. Incidentally he beat the Senators by a score of 5 to 1.

Despite a terrific south wind which blew clouds of dust across the diamond and made high flies hard to chase, the big Beaver heaver mowed down the Wolves in easy fashion. The Jons Sacramento score came on a wild pitch after Moran had doubled and gone to third on an infield out. Only ten Wolves reached first base.

Alberts Always in Trouble. Alberts, who essayed to pitch for the Senators, was in trouble almost from the start. His slants looked good to the men from the North and fast work on the part of his teammates is all that saved him from a worse beating than he got.

Young out off what looked like sure hits for both Chadbourne and Doane in the first and then evened up by fumbling Kores' drive. Rodgers and Krueger drew walks, filling the bases. McCormick's single to right scored Chadbourne and Rodgers, and Krueger hit the rubber when Detroit drove one to O'Rourke too slow for the third baseman to handle in time. Fisher ended the frame by striking out two. Doubles by Derrick and Fisher in succession netted a run in the fourth. Doans walked in the fifth, stole second, went to third on Kores' second hit and scored, while Rodgers was being thrown out at first by Kenworthy.

Beavers Daring On Bases. The Beavers were close in other frames. Twice men were thrown out at third, stretching two base hits. Shinn's long-running catch of Derrick's fly out off another Beaver run in the eighth. The two bases were scored by Bill James and Catcher Bliss almost mixed in the fifth. Bliss was struck amiss by an Inmohr blast and remarked that Bliss walked into it and Bliss wanted to fight. Players and the umpire prevented further action. Score: Portland, 5; Sacramento, 1.

ANGELS QUICKLY BEAT SEALS Henley and Tozer Engage in Fast Pitching Battle.

LOS ANGELES, May 6.—Los Angeles took the first game of the series with San Francisco 4 to 1 today in a quickly played game. Only one inning, the sixth, was there any scoring. The Seals started when Johnston beat out an infield hit, went to third on Tozer's wild throw and scored on Hogan's long fly to center. In the Angels' half, with two out, Page singled and scored on Ellis' double to right center. Moore scored. Ellis and Tozer then slammed a home run drive to center, scoring Ellis and Moore ahead of him. After that inning as before, Henley and Tozer pitched airtight ball. Score: Los Angeles, 4; San Francisco, 1.

TIGERS WIN IN TEN INNINGS Oaks Avert Defeat in Fifth Only to Lose in Extra Period.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Venice defeated Oakland today in a 10-inning game. Oakland escaped from a tight hole in the fifth. Hallinas was on third, Carliste on second and McLean on first with two down. Playline came up. A hit meant two runs, with the fast Carliste dancing for the getaway from second. The best Baylies could produce was a grounder to Cook on which Melon was forced at second. Elliott, the Venice catcher, was reinstated by the Coast League this morning and will probably play in one of the games this week. Score: Venice, 4; Oakland, 1.

Yesterday's Results: At Portland—Portland 2, Seattle 0.

At Tacoma—Tacoma 7, Victoria 3 (11 innings).

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. S. L. S. stands for Southpaw Lou Stanley; S. O. S. is plain "help. S. L. S." meaning Southpaw Stanley had almost to call for S. O. S. yesterday in the ninth inning when Seattle filled the bases against the Colts, but Stanley wriggled out of the tight hole, and, by virtue of the terrific outgunning of Bill Spears—Portland walloped Seattle in the second game of the series, 2-0.

It was a pitchers' battle with the bugs slightly in favor of Stanley, who was pitching his first game in the Northwestern League. He was turned over to the Colts Sunday night by Walter McCredie, who lives in the city, who is press agenting, allowing Seattle but six hits. Another southpaw opposed him, young Melvor, the Franklin high phenom of Seattle. Livor, who pitched Seattle, was brilliant, but airtight in the pinches and Stanley was Portland secured only five hits.

So much for the pitchers' end of it. More coming on Speas.

Crowd at Game Small. No game would be complete without reference to the sky. Yesterday brought the best baseball day of the year; the sky was perfect, a bright sun radiated happiness everywhere except at which the turnstiles—gloom ruled there because less than 1000 fans turned out. Anyway, it was a perfect day and the Colts played great ball, and the sign at the Seattle stadium was "Portland." Another Beaver castoff who tried out at first base.

Before taking up the details of how Portland secured those two tallies, it might not be amiss to record that the first Northwestern series in Portland now stands one game for Seattle and one game for Portland.

The Colts started off like a Kansas tornado, taking a stroll through the farmer's bankroll. Fries and Mahoney walked in the first inning and the former scored on Speas' slash through second base. That accounts for the first run in the initial inning. Bancroft also registered a hit, this frame, but was caught stealing third.

The Colts did not score again until the sixth and on several occasions the Tillikums—merrily called "the boys" by the press—seemed to be seriously threatened to expel the official scorers' gong-arrang. In the sixth a single to center by Kohler and Speas, which was sent to left, tallied the Colts' second run and that tells it all.

Singles by Strait and Killray and a walk filled the bases for Seattle in the ninth, when Manager Raymond called out all hands except his star catcher, D. E. Dugdale. Stanley buckled to his task, however, and among those who are not bragging about their connection with the fireworks might be mentioned Wally Raymond and Fullerton, two of whom were pinch hitters.

Seattle had the ball also in the third inning, on a walk and hits by Killray and Raymond, but Wilson reared the side on a grounder to shortstop.

Bancroft and Mohler fielded sensationally for the Colts. The youngsters, Murray, caught a nice game. Williams had expected to use Loan as relief but the Beaver received notification from Philadelphia shortly before the game that his terms had been accepted by an Eastern minor club.

The score: Seattle, 2; Portland, 0. H. O. A. E. Sacrifices, 1; Runs, 2; Hits, 9; Errors, 0.

Notes of the Game. W. W. McCredie missed his first ball game the afternoon of yesterday. President McCredie is ill and confined to his home.

Casey had one hit yesterday and that was with Melvor. The kid made a neat stop of Strait's throw and then hit Melvor, striking out Speas while he did not let him get away. While he did not let him get away.

M'GINNITY PUZZLE TO BEES "Iron Man" Allows Only 5 Scattered Hits and Tigers Win, 7 to 0.

VICTORIA, May 6.—Joe McGinnity proved a puzzle to the Bees this afternoon and held them to five scattered hits, shutting them out while the Tigers batted Smith freely for seven runs. The "Iron Man" worked in old-time style, striking out Speas while he did not let him get away.

Bancroft and Mohler worked a chain lightning double in the fourth inning. They made the fastest pair seen here this year.

Today's game will start, as usual, at 8:15 and the Colts deserve a big turnout. Nick's bunch is playing just as good ball as you'll find here.

Totals: 27 H O A E. Portland, 2; Seattle, 0. H. O. A. E. Sacrifices, 1; Runs, 0; Hits, 6; Errors, 0.

FLY LOST IN SUN IS COSTLY Canucks Beat Indians in Eleventh Inning of Brilliant Game.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 6.—Vancouver won a sensational 11-inning battle here this afternoon, 3 to 2. With two down in the eleventh, Ingersoll hit a long fly to left field which Pappo lost in the sun and which was caught by Bennett, who popped a line drive to the right field fence for a two-bagger and Ingersoll scored.

Both Kraft and Ingersoll pitched sterling ball, although the Canucks bunched their seven hits in the frames they scored in.

A one-handed catch by Wagner of a line drive from Walsh's bat was the fielding feature. Score: Vancouver, 3; Spokane, 2.

PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—The Philadelphia National League baseball club has protested today's game with St. Louis, contending that Umpire Klem "took undue advantage of the rule which provides that the ball must be thrown by the pitcher within 20 seconds after it has been called for by the umpire."

Manager Dootn says that inasmuch as the bases were filled at the time the umpire "should not have insisted upon enforcing the rule, as it seldom has been done."

Fitcher Sauter had two strikes and one ball on Wingo in the seventh inning and was waiting to receive his signal from the catcher when Klem called the second ball, which later the high school athletes put the ball in the groove, when Wingo doubled, giving St. Louis two runs.
