

PHONE HEARING IS STOPPED BY STORK

Case Against Pacific Company at Seattle Is Postponed Until June.

EVIDENCE OF REBATE GIVEN

Testimony Offered to Show Corporation's Effort to Kill Rival Concern Interfered With Business and Cupid.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 7.—(Special.)—The coming of a stork, announced today, caused the Washington Public Service Commission to postpone until June further hearing on the charges made by the Northwestern Long-Distance Telephone Company that the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company and allied corporations had discriminated against the Portland concern in diverting long-distance calls.

The adjournment introduces several unexpected features, for by the time the Commission takes up the question again, Commissioner Jesse S. Jones will have faded from office and Commissioner Henry Wilson will either have gone, or be on the eve of his departure. A. W. Lewis, of Spokane, already has been named to succeed Jesse Jones on May 15, and Wilson's term expires June 15, and the adjournment means that another man will be named for the place.

Rebates Are Charged. Today's hearing was marked by the sensational charge that the Pacific Company gave rebates to Seattle hotels for diverting long-distance calls.

J. W. Dando, auditor of the Hotel Butler, said that the Pacific Company had given the hotel a rebate of 15 per cent on all long-distance messages originating in the hotel. The independent company had given no rebates, and after the merger, for a short time, a commission was allowed on all business. In November, 1912, the Pacific Company notified the hotel that a commission would be allowed only on Pacific line business. He presented the hotel's books of account to support his testimony.

H. H. Rasmussen, local manager for the Kerr-Gifford Company, testified that before the merger his company had obtained good service over the independent lines. After the merger, he testified, whenever he asked for independent service, there were delays of 15 to 20 minutes and the service became so poor that he was compelled to use the Pacific lines for long-distance service.

Operators Give Testimony. Testimony concerning delays and diversion of calls was given also by Miss May Egan, telephone operator at the Frye Hotel; Peter McIntyre, of Tacoma; C. A. Waterman, an employee of the Home Telephone Company of Tacoma; Miss Jessie Bayne, operator of the private exchange in the Hotel Seattle; George A. Nelson, 208 West Blaine street; and A. H. Hankerson, manager of the Campbell-Sanford-Benley Company.

One of the girls presented as witnesses for the Northwestern, Miss Louise Johnson, of Tacoma, when brought face to face with the Pacific officials for whom she formerly worked, would not take the stand. All the others testified. Testimony was offered to show that in its efforts to put the Northwestern out of business, the Pacific company not only interfered with mercantile business and the activities of professional men, but even imposed hardships on Cupid by hindering long-distance tele-grams between lovers.

Forlanders attending the hearing today were: John R. Coffey, receiver for the Northwestern company; Jay Bowerman, special counsel; H. J. Roake, auditor; S. R. Mason, manager; and F. L. Perkins, special agent.

VANCOUVER CLUB IS HOST

Woodlawn, Bridgfield and La Center Men Extend Invitation.

VANCOUVER, Wash., May 7.—(Special.)—About 50 citizens of Woodlawn, Bridgfield and La Center came to Vancouver tonight in an automobile to invite the local Commercial Club to attend the opening on May 17 of the new $30,000 bridge, recently built by the state of Washington and owned and operated by the Lewis and Clark National Park of the Lewis River at Woodlawn. On that day an elaborate program will be carried out in connection with the opening.

The visitors were tendered a reception at the Commercial Club and a joint resolution was adopted, urging the Washington State Highway Commissioner to expend as much as possible of the amount appropriated for the Pacific Highway on the section of road between Pioneer and Woodlawn.

Speakers during the evening were L. N. Plamondon, E. F. Bryant, R. M. Andrews, John Bogart, Albert Bonarth and Ralph Collins.

LISTER REQUISITION OUT

Prineville to Get Calhoun and Thorpe for Horsestealing Trial.

PRINEVILLE, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—The Governor of Washington today honored the requisition of Governor West for Coleman Calhoun and W. C. Thorpe, now at North Yakima, wanted here in connection with the horse-stealing case of Robinson brothers. Calhoun and Thorpe have been indicted by the grand jury of Crook County, charged with receiving horses in this county alleged to have been stolen by the Robinson brothers and shipped to Washington.

The Robinsons were tried in the last term of Circuit Court but the jury failed to agree on a verdict. Calhoun and Thorpe have never been brought to trial for the offense. Deputy Sheriff Glenn Allen has arrived in North Yakima tonight with papers for the man, who will be brought here for trial.

PRESIDENT SMILES HAPPILY AFTER SEEING SENATORS.

Two Men Removed by Harrison "for Political Reasons" Reinstated in Old Jobs.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—President Wilson went to the Capitol today for the fourth time and, after an hour of conferences with a score of Senators, came away wearing a happy smile at having cleared up to his own satisfaction several troublesome situations that had arisen over appointments.

By the nomination of John Purroy Mitchell to be Collector of the Port of New York, the President satisfied Senator O'Gorman, as well as the anti-Tammany Democrats here, who look on Mr. Mitchell as an aggressive opponent of the Tammany organization.

Senator Kern, of Indiana, brought the President's attention again to the case of Romus F. Stewart and John E. Hollingsworth, two Indiana Democrats who were removed from the positions of postoffice inspectors by President Harrison. On investigation by Postmaster-General Burleson it was found that they were removed "for political reasons," and that they were guilty of no delinquencies or misconduct. After the conference with Senator Kern the President issued an executive order reinstating both men.

The nomination of Gaylord M. Saltzman to be Commissioner of Penitents ended a long contest in which petitions and political pressure were exerted from many sides on the President. Mr. Saltzman is a Democrat, and the Democratic majority was working harmoniously to put the bill through. The President's visit attracted little attention. He came and went so inconspicuously that some of the Senators on the floor were unaware that he was in the building.

FRUIT CROPS CONTRACTED

Hood River Growers to Allow Agency to Handle Product.

HOOD RIVER, May 7.—(Special.)—The valley growers having almost unanimously signed up their crops for the coming year, the management of the Apple Growers Association, an amalgamated of Hood River apple shipping concerns, declare that the success of the central agency is assured. Meetings have been held in all parts of the valley during the past week, and contracts to ship their apples with the central selling concern.

The directors of the agency will meet Saturday to consider the details of the central association. While the managing officers of the Apple Growers Association favor the plans of the North Pacific Distributors of Spokane, no affiliations with that concern will be formed except by action on the part of a mass meeting of all valley growers.

ORVILLE MORRIS INDICTED

Would Be Train Wrecker Pleads Guilty, but Sentence Is Stayed.

Orville Morris, who was arrested yesterday charged with attempting to wreck O. W. R. & N. passenger train No. 104 at Crooked River high bridge April 17 and again on April 24, was indicted by the grand jury today, and immediately thereafter the prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge. His indictment Judge Bradshaw deferred passing sentence until later in his term of court.

Some of the officials are of the opinion that Morris is not mentally balanced. It is generally concluded by the officials that his apprehension at this time has prevented a disastrous wreck.

Willamette Rancher Says He Has Located Pirate's "Plant."

OREGON CITY, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—Declaring that he has discovered the spot where seven boxes of gold coins and precious stones were buried late in the 18th century by Sir Francis Drake, pirate of the Pacific Ocean, I. W. Rivers, a rancher of Willamette, came to this city tonight to try to raise funds to finance an expedition to recover the treasure, which he says is hidden on the Oregon coast near Little Neck beach.

Explaining how he came by the knowledge, Rivers said that he had been told by a fortuneteller, some three years ago, to visit speaking and find a cross, a horseshoe and a log. He was told he would find the treasure buried at one end of the log.

MARSHFIELD, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—Despite threats today by the I. W. W. that they would not obey the edicts forbidding street speaking and that tonight would see a repetition of last night's fray, the evening passed without trouble. No attempt was made to speak by any of their number. About 200 business men were sworn in as deputy officers to cope with possible trouble.

I. W. W. leaders have sent hasty calls to all members of the order in the Pacific Northwest to come to Marshfield and assist in the fight against the anti-street-speaking ordinance. Trouble was precipitated last night when the police, under the Mayor's instructions, arrested and jailed several men for speaking on the street. The men arrested are C. E. Ellis, of Portland, an I. W. W. organizer; A. J. Stephan, secretary of the Socialists; J. Gosman, A. Baker, Wesley Everett, M. J. Edwards, John Hayden, E. West. All are local men except Ellis.

The men who were kept in jail all night, were released today without bail and will have a hearing at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning before the City Recorder. All members of the I. W. W. have been summoned from the Coos County logging camps, and it is feared this will precipitate a strike in the C. A. Smith and Simpson mills.

Scores of sympathizers gathered at the jail, however, and encouraged the arrested men and promised to continue the fight. While in the jail, the Industrial Workers of the World threatened to give Marshfield "the worst reign of terror it has ever had."

BOMB LAID IN ST. PAUL'S

MILITANTS BIAMED FOR ATTEMPT TO WRECK EDIFICE.

Explosives Are Found on Steps of Fleet-Street Newspaper Office and of Drug Concern.

LONDON, May 7.—Attempts to blow up the ancient St. Paul's Cathedral and a newspaper office on Fleet street here today were attributed to militant suffragettes.

The verger, who conducts the sightseers through the massive edifice, found the bomb in the cathedral just took earlier at 3 A. M. He heard a ticking noise and investigation resulted in finding the infernal machine wrapped in a brown paper on the inside of which was a suffragette newspaper. Placing it in water, he then turned the bomb over to the police. The police discovered a bomb-like package on the newspaper office steps shortly after 10 o'clock. A tin canister believed to contain explosives was also picked up later on the steps of a wholesale drug concern.

The bomb is loaded upon renewed denunciations of the militants following the defeat of the suffrage bill in the House of Commons yesterday.

Several parts of the cathedral usually opened to the public were closed today.

Suffrage "raucous squads" were also busy early this morning. They burst in on the cricket field at Bishop's Park, Fulham, in the West End of London, and also set fire to an unoccupied house at Finchley in the north of London. Burglarlike placards and quantities of chemicals were found in the vicinity of both fires.

Another mysterious fire broke out at a timber yard in Lambeth today, the fourth of this kind in London within a few days. It was extinguished before much damage had been done. "Small but fiendishly powerful," is the police officers' description of the bomb found near the high altar of St. Paul's Cathedral this morning. When the machine was taken to pieces it was discovered that it was timed to explode at midnight, but a derangement of the clockwork retarded the explosion. Apparently only this accident prevented untold damage to the cathedral. A number of brass screws, nails and coarse metal slugs were found among the contents.

Real Waltham accuracy is furnished by Waltham Automobile Timepieces

Here is a timepiece designed expressly for motor cars—the first for the purpose. Heretofore automobile clocks have been adaptations. This Waltham Timepiece was built especially for automobiles. It is similar in design to the Marine Chronometer which the U. S. Government buys from us for war vessels and also to the jeweler's chronometers, 2000 of which are supplying Waltham time throughout America.

It will resist jars and hard usage and will run so accurately that you can set your own watch and clocks from it.

All the accuracy of Waltham watches is in this timepiece and we stand back of it as a marvel of precision.

The 8-day movement is adjusted to temperature and will not be affected by the extremes of heat and cold to which automobiles are subjected.

It has a dial indicator which gives warning three days before the timepiece runs down. You can also choose between a raised dial and one which is flush with the dash. In its best form this Waltham Automobile Timepiece costs $25. It may be obtained alone or in combination with speedometers.

If you are buying a new car be sure it is Waltham equipped and if you already have a car you will get comfort and pride from installing Waltham accuracy.

BREAKING PAROLE COSTLY

Loss of Freedom to Antonio Yanovich Result of Act.

OREGON CITY, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—Antonio Yanovich was arrested today by Sheriff Mass for breaking his parole, received from the County Court a year ago, when he was indicted by the grand jury for being over-famously with another woman's wife. At the time of his trial Yanovich promised to keep away from the woman in the case and the court, taking into consideration the woman's promise to lead a better life as well, suspended sentence of a year in the County Jail and released the man on parole with orders to report at intervals to the Sheriff.

The man reported once or twice and Wednesday returned to the city and visited the woman with whom he had been associating at the time of his first arrest. She at once telephoned the Sheriff's office, and after consultation with the court, Sheriff Mass released the man and lodged him in jail. Disposition of his case will be made later in the term of the Circuit Court.
