

THIRD PARTY SEEKS TO RETURN TO FOLD

Republicans Ready to Aid Reunion and Coalition Plans Are Evolved.

CONVENTION TO BE CALLED

Causes Which Led to Separation to Be Remedied—New Basis of Representation and Recognition of Primaries Urged.

CHICAGO, May 13.—That a uniting of the Progressive party with the Republican party is not only desired, but is actually being sought, was the gist of sentiment expressed at the close here today of a two days' conference at which Republican leaders outlined plans for reorganizing the party.

Herbert S. Hadley, ex-Governor of Missouri, who, with Senators Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, William E. Borah of Idaho and L. T. Sherman of Illinois, led in the discussion at the conference, said afterwards that the desire to have those back in the party who left it to join the Progressive party was "manifest."

Coalition Not to Be Mechanical.
The coalition, he added, was not to be effected by any mechanical scheme such as the adoption of resolutions by any of the leaders, "but rather by a remedying of the causes in the Republican party which resulted in the separation."

The conference, attended by six United States Senators, numerous members of the House of Representatives and leaders from various states as Massachusetts and California, resulted in the issue of a statement.

The statement expressed the belief that the Republican National committee should call a Republican National convention at as early a date as possible to effect radical changes in party affairs, and especially in reference to the conduct of future National conventions.

"Reunion" Is Key-note.
What was considered a significant part of the statement was that which referred to "reunion" of the party.

"It is to be inferred that the Republicans who met here desire to have adherents of the Progressive party come into the ranks of the Republicans," Mr. Hadley was asked.

"Manifestly so," he replied. "The coalition is to be brought about, not by any mechanical means but by a frank recognition by the rank and file of both parties that by remaining divided they are defeating all they both favor."

"All we could accomplish or try to accomplish here was to start the movement for bringing about the changes in conducting the affairs of the party which seem necessary. These changes are to correct the evils which are a just cause of complaint in the past and are necessary in order that the will of the majority may control in future party councils."

DETAILS KNOWN TONIGHT

Trip to Corvallis to Inspect College Due Thursday.

Details for the excursion of the alumni and friends of the Oregon Agricultural College to Corvallis to inspect the college, Thursday, May 15, will be completed and the members of the trip to the Portland O. A. C. Society, which will be held at the Portland Commercial Club tonight. Reservations for the trip to Corvallis have already reached the 100 mark and interest among alumni in cities outside of Portland is keen. Arrangements have been made to stop at several places en route from Portland to Corvallis to pick up delegations of alumni, ex-students and friends of the college.

Among other important features of the excursion will be the dedication of the memorial fireplace in Waldo Hall by the business men of Portland, who participated in the Commercial Club excursion to O. A. C. a year ago. At that time a collection was taken among the members of the party to build the fireplace and the dedicatory plate will be put in place and the fireplace formally turned into the hands of the college Thursday.

E. S. Josephine, retiring president of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, will make the dedicatory speech.

GOETZ CHOSEN PRINCIPAL

Milwaukee Residents to Petition for Street Improvement.

MILWAUKEE, Or., May 12.—(Special.)—The Board of Directors has re-elected F. Goetz principal of the Milwaukee school. Miss Goetz has been promoted to the place of teacher of the high school department. At the next meeting the directors will complete the list of teachers for the ensuing year. The school will close June 15 with a considerable class for promotion. There will be no high school graduates this year, as this is a year of transition. The Council will meet Tuesday night to consider the question of buying the two water plants and to take up several street improvement bills. It looks as if the cost of the two water works would absorb half of the $20,000 bond issue, leaving $10,000 for laying large mains and making other needed improvements. Proceedings for improving Front street will be started on petition. The estimated cost is $18,000.

HOUSE SLATE IS BEGUN

Underwood Seans 291 Committee Job Requests.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Requests of the 291 Democratic members of the House for committee places were taken up today by Majority Leader Underwood, to whom the majority of the ways and means committee, the committee on commerce, has left the task of framing a preliminary slate of the committees. Each Democrat has sent a letter stating his preferences and Mr. Underwood will classify those to suit before the committee.

Mr. Underwood said today that no meeting would be called to consider the committee appointments until he

NEW REARM CASE BEFORE JUDGE BEAN

Tobey Bros. Ranch of 1430 Acres Bore of Contention in Suit in Equity.

There will be 38 standing committees of the House in this Congress, more than heretofore. The additions are the good roads committee, for the creation of which Representative Henry D. Tamm, mainly is responsible, and the public health and quarantine committee, largely due to the efforts of Representative Foster, of Illinois.

Under the new policy under which members of the more powerful committees cannot be members of any other, several ambitious Democrats may yield minor chairmanships to remain with committees of higher rank. Such a step would involve a considerable sacrifice, however, as committee chairmanships carry larger offices and other prerogatives dear to the hearts of a Congressman.

SHOOT WILL END TODAY

Out of 200 Targets Portland Man Loses Only Ten for Leadership.

Don Morrison, of Portland, Press Lewis, of LaGrande, and Charles Feller, of Donald, are the class leaders of the first annual shoot of the Portland Gun Club, which opened yesterday on the Kenton tract and will end today. Morrison broke 199 in 200 targets for leadership in Class A, Lewis 181 in Class B and Feller 179 in Class C.

Chingren, challenge trophy, wrested from F. C. Riehl, of Tacoma, by Don Morrison Sunday, became the property of H. E. Poston, the Seattle professional, yesterday. Poston broke 190 in 200 targets, two less than Morrison's score of Sunday, but five better than the defender's mark. Other challenges will be issued today and the trophy is likely to change hands again.

Nearly 70 scatter-gun experts, representing more than a score of clubs in three states, were on hand for the opening of the Portland Gun Club's first annual tournament yesterday. Weather conditions were not of the best, for gusts of wind, coming at unexpected moments, conspired against record scores.

The shooting of the majority of the enthusiasts was consistent with the work of Charles Feller, the most noteworthy. He is a Class C man, placed in the division set aside for those averaging below 85, but averaged 90. Lewis, in Class B, also shot in Class A form, while Morrison averaged 95.

The high gun of the day was Poston, of Seattle, but he is a professional and thus ineligible to share in the purse division of the meet. Poston broke 192 targets. Morrison was high amateur with 190, Moulton and O'Brien following with 187 and 186, respectively.

The tournament scores follow:
Dryden 183, Morrison 190, Caldwell 176, O'Brien 186, Reid 178, Nelson 178, E. J. Bell 162, J. A. Troch 169, E. P. Troch 170, Moulton 187, McCormack 182, Seaver 184, Kompff 180, Bull 180, Veatch 179, Thornton 175, Riehl 183, Hilgers 184, Van Atta 182, F. M. Troch 173, Huntley 183, Parrott 165, Akins 153, Best 164, Stevenson 162, Bykes 162, Stanley Bell 162, Feller 179, Fisher 183, S. A. Edmundson 178, Poston 190, Ballock 184, Richard 170, Holman 185, Sealey 161, Best 161, Day 167, J. Edmundson 168, Morris 182, Gregory 190, Hilgers 186, Wagner 164, Lewis 181, Butler 165, E. W. Cooper 178, J. Cooper 159, Bene 166, Baltimore 136, Berger 163, Francis 163, Miller 174, Knight 168, Thelma 170, Denham 160, McAlister 162, Hallinger 162, Rice 153, Borders 153, Bryant 177, Murphy 170, J. L. Bell 174, Wilcox 89, Lem 80, Kiddie 60, A. Rice 83, Cook 78 (the last two shot only one target).

The scores in the Chingren challenge trophy shoot:
Poston 96, Caldwell 91, Seaver 90, Dryden 90, Morrison 90, Reid 90, Huntley 90, Miller 89, Cullison 88, Moulton 84, Holman 84, Wilson 84, MacKay 83, Nelson 80, Fisher 79, Sealey 77.

The shoot ends today with a change in the schedule. Instead of a 100-bird event four will be shot of 50 birds each.

Added money to the amount of $500 will be divided among the winners, all classes to share equally in the purse division.

EUROPE'S BIG DIPLOMAT

Sir Edward Grey's Voice Weightiest in British Politics.

Harper's Weekly
For many thousands of quiet Englishmen Sir Edward Grey's voice is the weightiest in British politics today, and his action on any doubtful issue counts for more than the decision of any other man. I know of no one who has that sort of power over the mind of Parliament and the country which comes from absolute honesty of mind and character combined with a balanced judgment and an air of being detached from the petty party exigencies of the moment.

When he speaks men instinctively feel that he is saying what he believes, that his opinions have been formed only after serious reflection, that they are altogether his own, and that he means to abide by them. He is one of the least theatrical of men. He never talks to a brief or essays any of the smaller arts of attracting attention.

"At my last dance I found that all the young couples who sought the comparative retirement of the back parlors between dances were talking of one another new steps. They are deadly serious about it."

"A girl who came out last year told me the other day that she had to enjoy this season's dances now she knew what dances were like. 'I was so disappointed last season,' she said. 'I sit while the other girls are making sensations and to hear men paying compliments of the seventeenth century sort, but instead I was just romped about by schoolboys from outside the door. I was so disappointed that I was exactly how damp their collars were and what was best to eat in the supper room.'"

Around the World, in a Barrel.

London Chronicle.
There seems to be no limit to the foolish things some people will do for the sake of a wager. Early in 1910 two Venetian brothers named Vianello, blacksmiths by trade, made a bet that they would travel around the world in a barrel. During the month of June they duly set out from Venice and later arrived at Berlin, where they received an enthusiastic reception. The barrel was a special construction, open at the end and having a "perch" inside so constructed as to remain always upright. On this one brother sits while the other travels along. Food is stored along the sides, and at night, if no other shelter is available, both brothers sleep in their queer rolling home. They estimate that the trip around the world will occupy at least 12 years, so that they have some nine years of barrel-trundling to do before they can claim their bet.

Chicago.—President Ben Johnson, of the American League, will announce his decision in the case of Manager George Stall of the St. Louis team, this week, probably by next Wednesday. Stall was suspended for abusive treatment of an umpire.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terrible disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted which Foley's Honey and Tar Compound helped to alleviate. "My daughter had a severe cold and cough but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound helped her in no time. My wife would not keep house without it. We have used it for years, always with good results. ORCHARD BONDS DISPUTED

Case Is Aftermath to That Arising From Columbia River Orchard Company Frauds in Lands Above Pasco, Washington.

The Tobey brothers' wheat ranch in Gilliam County, comprising 4350 acres, is the bone of contention in a suit in equity which began in United States District Court yesterday before Judge R. S. Bean. Frank L. Tobey, his wife, Retta M. Tobey, his mother, Augusta M. Tobey, and brother William L. Tobey are suing to have the title to the land restored to them, the defendants being W. E. DeLarm, Edward C. and Charles A. Kilbourne, J. Alexander Wakeland, Cyrus F. Clapp, H. E. Lutz, the Columbia River Orchard Company, the Oregon-Washington Trust Company and the Washington Orchard Irrigation & Fruit Company.

The case is an aftermath to that arising from the Columbia River Orchard Company frauds. W. E. DeLarm was the moving spirit of the Columbia River Orchard Company, with lands on the Columbia above Pasco, Wash. He disappeared before the suit against his associates was brought and was reported to be dead.

In February, 1911, the Tobey, having listed their ranch for sale with a Portland real estate exchange, and a Portland real estate exchange, on February 25, he closed a contract with them whereby he was to pay them $1000 cash and $10,000 in Columbia River Orchard Company 7 per cent 20-year bonds, also agreeing in the contract to obtain for the Tobey a loan of $2000 at the time of delivery of title to agreement, and $2000 on or before April 15, 1911.

The complainants allege that DeLarm told them that the bonds were secured by real estate mortgages to 125 per cent of the value of the whole ranch, and that these securities were deposited with the Oregon-Washington Trust Company, of Portland, Or. This corporation, they allege, is a corporation, as all other corporations mentioned, were simply devices, of DeLarm to perpetrate fraud. The bonds were and are worthless, they allege.

I. W. W. PROGRESS SLOW

Cools Bay Situation Well in Hand, Declare Employers.

MARSHFIELD, Or., May 12.—(Special.)—There was little indication today that the I. W. W. strike called Sunday by Secretary Edgworth, of the Coos County I. W. W. organization, had accomplished anything. Comparatively few are said to have responded. So far no camps or industries have been tied up or seriously crippled and according to the best advice obtainable tonight none will be. Only one logging camp was shut down and that was the day before the strike occurred.

Manager Powers found that the foreman of the camp had permitted the I. W. W. to solicit employees to join the organization and he immediately discharged the foreman. It was said today that the I. W. W. had circulated a petition among the members and the loggers to agree to walk out May 18 on a strike for a 25 per cent increase in wages, eight hours a day and a few other things, and that they were taken off their guard Saturday by their employers giving the ultimatum to all who were not satisfied to roll their blankets and depart. In view of the report that the I. W. W. were planning to import leaders and other members all business men who have been depressed as officers will maintain an organization and the first indication of I. W. W. activity will be severely dealt with.

The Greek Consul in Portland has written a letter to a large number of Greeks employed in logging camps and mills here urging them not to unite in any I. W. W. strike. This will mean it will be hard for them to get jobs if they leave here. Loggers who have been taking payday vacations have been notified to be at work tomorrow if they are altogether back. This will enable employers to tell just how many members the I. W. W. have, as the I. W. W. cannot return to work.

MANSLAUGHTER IS CHARGE

Prosecution Will Be Satisfied With Second Degree in Young Case.

In making the opening statement for the prosecution in the case of Elmer Young, charged with the murder of Nell Miller, in Judge Gatens' court yesterday morning, Deputy District Attorney John Collier told the jury that he was determined to prove to a jury the facts and evidence in his possession that the state would not be entitled to a greater verdict than murder in the second degree, though the indictment charges first degree murder. He said that the state would be able to prove to the satisfaction of the jury that Young had no premeditation, and thus be unable to prove premeditation, the principal element of first degree murder.

Henry St. Rayner and Bradley A. Ewers, his attorneys, are demanding acquittal, contending that he did not have anything to do with the death of the old man, who occurred in a second shack on the Patton road November 15, 1912.

PALL BEARERS NEPHEWS
Mrs. Jere J. Dooley, Baker County Pioneer, Laid to Rest.

BAKER, Or., May 12.—(Special.)—Her six nephews, all prominent of middle age here, were pallbearers at the funeral today of Mrs. Jere J. Dooley, a pioneer. The services were held at St. Francis Cathedral. The pallbearers were E. P. Cranston, Knapp Dooley, J. F. Dooley, L. B. Bowen, H. S. Bowen and Ed Bowen.

Mrs. Dooley was 79 years old and came to this country in 1863 from Cincinnati. After living in Idaho for a few years she went to Bridgeport, this county. Her husband was postmaster there until he came to Baker, five months ago, because of the illness of his wife.

Chicago.—Third Baseman Olson, of the Cleveland club, and Catcher Numa-maker, of the Boston team, were each fined $25 by President Ball Johnson, of the American League, for their part in the free-for-all fight between members of the two teams the other day in Cleveland.

VOTERS:

The adoption of the New Charter has brought forth an immense crop of $5 candidates to fill $5000 positions. The people of Portland have been aroused to the danger that this great city may be misgoverned by a commission of incompetents. The demand for competent men for candidates for Commissioners is great. Our Portland City Corporation is a great business organization and should be conducted as any successful business is conducted. No business is successful or can be made so without competent and experienced managers. No man who has not been successful in his own business and affairs should be expected to conduct the affairs of the city successfully. He doesn't know how.

Out of the great number of candidates who have offered themselves as candidates for Commissioners are the names of four men who stand out as pre-eminently successful in their own paths of endeavor. They have "made good" and they should appeal to every voter who has the welfare of the City of Portland at heart.

These Four Have Been Successful:

Albert G. Clark, of Wadhams & Kerr Bros., wholesale grocers. Mr. Clark has been in Portland 25 years and has become a large factor in the growth and upbuilding of the city. He is ex-president of the Ad Club and has a strong following.

Marshall N. Dana is a young man of striking personality. He is clean, upright and honorable. He is a newspaper man and has "made good" as a writer of constructive and forceful matter appertaining to cleanliness in civic and business affairs. He is secretary-manager of the Greater Portland Plans Association.

Wm. L. Brewster is an attorney at law who has lived long enough in Portland to establish himself as a strong factor in constructive municipal policies. He has taken a generous part in all matters for the betterment of the city.

T. N. Stoppenbach established the Pacific Paper Company in Portland 18 years ago and brought the business up to a wonderfully large and successful condition. He sold his interests therein two years ago; since has devoted his time to his other investments. He is a strong and forceful man, clean and keen, and will bring to the city a knowledge gained from experience that will be most valuable and profitable to the City of Portland.

None of these four men have been in politics nor have held political office. They are ideal in character, in experience and in knowledge of what is needed under our new system of government. You want representative men to represent you.

You need men who know how and will not have to be educated at public expense.

You must have men whose characters are established and are above reproach.

Here they are.

Vote for them as your first choice.

ARMY CASE DELAYED

Mrs. Merriam Collapses From Divorce Trial Strain.

FORTNIGHT HALT LIKELY

Tentative Agreement to Allow Wife to Bring Action Against Husband Is Made to Save Feelings of Their Minor Daughter.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—It will be at least a fortnight before the Merriam divorce case, which has been attracting wide attention because of sensational charges involving persons of prominence socially, can be heard again in court, according to statements made by counsel for Mrs. Bessie C. Merriam in court today, when a continuance was granted.

The delay is caused by the breakdown of Mrs. Merriam's health, which occurred at a critical stage in the proceedings. Her husband, Captain Henry C. Merriam, is suing her upon charges which she has been contesting, and at the time of adjournment an effort was being made by the court and counsel to effect a compromise by which Mrs. Merriam should bring an uncontested suit on the ground of desertion.

A tentative agreement was reached on this basis, to save the feelings of their minor daughter.

QUEEN IS LETTER-WRITER

England's First Lady Thinks 20 Notes a Day Easy Task.

LONDON, May 12.—(Special.)—It is not generally known that Queen Alexandra is regarded in royal circles in Europe as the most tireless of all royal letter-writers. In fact, 20 or 30 letters from her pen in one day is no unusual occurrence, and she also sends a number of telegrams. Miss Charlotte Knollys, her favorite attendant, will, in addition, write over 100 notes and letters in the course of a day on her majesty's behalf.

Queen Alexandra has her own taste in writing paper, and likes to use one of a creamy color, and has the address stamped in black in one corner. Her majesty has a long list of favored correspondents, to whom she writes in an affectionate strain, calling several of her friends by their Christian names, and penning her letters in a charming style, with apt phrases and graphic descriptions.

When her birthday comes round Queen Alexandra sends to her friends pieces of her birthday cake in little boxes neatly tied with white ribbons.
