Wurtenberger, accompanied by Miss Edna Agler; address, "The Creative Power of an Ideal," Dr. John H. Boyd.

RODNEY AVENUE IMPROVEMENT OPPOSED—There is some opposition to the improvement of the Rodney-avenue district in North Albina. The contract was awarded to the Warren Construction Company for the improvement, which consists of regrading the macadam pavement with hard-surface. The matter will come up at the next meeting of the City Council.

WOMAN HARBOR POLITICAL TALK—Mrs. L. P. Addison gave a talk at Central Women's Christian Temperance Union yesterday. Her subject was the coming election, and the candidates for Mayor and Commissioners. She explained the preferential system of voting, Mrs. Addison's committee, and urged all who believe in good government to unite on a Mayor and Commissioners.

LOGAN TO REPRESENT PORTLAND—John F. Logan will represent the Portland Civil Service Commission at the National convocation of civil service commissioners in New York June 12 to 14. He was chosen as a delegate by the local commission at its meeting yesterday.

F. W. WINN, an engineer member of Water Board will be pleased to appear before any body of voters and present his claims for the office of Commissioner. Invitations addressed to 309 Spaulding bldg. will receive prompt attention. Marshall 996.

"LIVESTOCK DAY" IS HERE—"Livestock day" is to be the feature of the luncheon of the Progressive Business Men's Club in the Multnomah Hotel at 12:30 today. Three speakers fully qualified for their subjects will make addresses which will show how Portland has gone ahead in this important product. O. M. Plummer, secretary of the Portland Union Stockyards, will talk on "Livestock and Other Stock"; Dr. James Withycombe, director of the experimental station at the Oregon Agricultural College, will speak on "Livestock, the Foundation of Our Prosperity," and R. L. Sablin, secretary of the Merchants' Protective Association, will deliver an address entitled "Why the Business Man Should Be Interested in Livestock." C. D. Milton, publisher of an agricultural paper, will be chairman of the day.

IMPROVEMENT OF UNION AVENUE ASKED—Improvement of Union avenue between Bryant street and Columbia boulevard has been asked for by the adjacent property owners. The Vancouver carline occupies the 30-foot right of way of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, and the property owners on each side of the right of way have dedicated 25-foot strips for the street, making the extension 30 feet wide. The Council is asked to condemn the right of way of the street railway company, and when this has been done Union avenue will be paved to Columbia boulevard. If the interstate bridge is built it is planned to extend Union avenue to the approach across Columbia Slough district.

MICHAELSON SPOOLS HOURS PLAY—Rumors of a mutualist store for Portland Heights, are being verified. Professor and Mrs. W. J. Standley have opened their doors for a neighborhood meeting to discuss means of lowering the high cost of living. All in the neighborhood are invited at 8 o'clock tonight, to meet Rev. Mr. Nussbaum of the Swedish-American Church, speak on "The Ethics of Co-Operation," and E. P. Rosenthal, pioneer Mutualist of Portland, on "Co-Operation That Cannot Fail." To reach the Standley home, take Stanhope Court on the south side of Davenport street, near its junction with Sixteenth. The court leads south and east to the house.

BANKERS TO HAVE LOVE FEAST—Troubles associated with financing the business of the City of Portland will be forgotten, momentarily, by local bankers tonight at their annual love feast. The Commercial Club will be the scene of the annual dinner of the Portland chapter of the American Institute of Banking. The banquet marks the ending of the most progressive year in the history of the local chapter of the association. The following new officers have been installed and will be in charge of the dinner: T. H. West, Leonard, United National Bank, vice-president; H. C. Bancroft, Lumbermens National Bank, secretary, and Walter H. Brown, Commerce Trust & Savings Bank, treasurer. Dr. Andrew C. Smith, president of the Hibernia Savings Bank, will act as toastmaster and the speakers will be T. B. Wilcox, C. E. S. Wood and Rev. John H. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Covers will be laid for 350.

TWO FIRE COMPANIES TO BE INSTALLED.—The Woodlawn and Kenton fire stations will be occupied by fire companies the coming week. The Woodlawn company will be installed Monday and the Kenton company later in the week. Both buildings have been completed. At Woodlawn it was hoped that the streets near the building and in front would soon be paved, but as there is delay in getting the improvement down it was decided to install the fire company at once. Horse-drawn apparatus will be used for the present. At Kenton the streets have been paved in front of and all about the fire station. The Woodlawn and Kenton each a little more than $800, and were planned by Battalion Chief Holden. These two fire stations are the last of the four that were built for fire protection in the suburbs.

A. O. U. W. AND D. O. H. ENTERTAIN.—The programme arranged by the committee for the entertainment to be given tonight at the A. O. U. W. and D. O. H. lodges in this city gives assurance of an event of rare enjoyment and one it is hoped all members of the two orders, their families and friends may be able to attend. Aside from the musical and literary features, though pleasing in themselves, the position of the programme commencing the close of an unusually successful membership campaign will be especially gratifying to our members. It is at least attesting the superior beneficiary features of this pioneer fraternal beneficiary order of America. Meeting hall, 125 Fourth street, near Washington.

PORTLAND WOMEN ON PROGRAMME.—Portland will be represented by two speakers at the convention of the Pacific Northwest Library Association in Tacoma, June 12-14, and other speakers from Oregon cities will be on the programme. The Portland speakers are: Miss Mary Frances Isom, librarian of the Portland Library Association, and Miss Nellie Fox, head of the county department of the Portland Library Association. Captain Mett, of the Dalles, and Della Northey, of Hood River, will take part in the work at the convention.

POISONER THIRD VICTIM.—Mrs. Lillian Strang, who poisoned her three children and herself and then shot one of the children and herself, died yesterday morning at Good Samaritan Hospital, where she has been confined since the poisoning occurred. Two of the children died, but the 2-year-old baby still lives. The funeral will be held at Dunning & McHenry's chapel at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. Frank James will have charge of the service. Interment in Multnomah Cemetery will follow.

Mapping Out a Career — Careers are of three kinds—plain, checkered, and remarkable. The first is ordinary, the second is reprehensible, the third is a consummation devoutly to be wished. And to whichever classification you belong or aspire, Thompson's Eyeglasses will materially assist you in attaining it.

If you are a plain man, a solid, substantial, conservative, backbone-of-his-country individual, we have eyeglasses attuned to your personality. If you are a reprehensible man, fond of turning night into day and all that sort of thing we have eyeglasses that will contribute to an undiminished gaiety of soul!

If you are a remarkable man, in your own opinion or in other people's (which are one and the same thing), we can show you eyewear of such distinctive character that they will lure even your contemplative soul from the cloistered aisles of introspection. Thompson Glasses cost $2.00 or more.
