Saloonmen to Test Ruling.—By an arrangement made yesterday with City Attorney Grant saloon interests of the city are going to test out in the courts the question of selling lunches in connection with drinks. The arrangement is the result of a dispute over the rights of saloons to sell foods without paying a regular restaurant license fee. City Attorney Grant has contended that the sale of food is against the law while the saloons declare that they are within their rights. Arrangements have been made for the arrest of one of the saloonkeepers for the purpose of conducting a test of the question.
