

JACK JOHNSON GETS NEAR BEHIND BARS

Negro Is Sentenced to Twelve Months and One Day and to Pay Fine of $1000.

PUGILIST TO KEEP UP FIGHT

Judge Announces Decision Hard to Make in View of Prominence of Prisoner Among His Race and His Life of Immorality.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight champion, was sentenced today to one year and one day in the State Penitentiary at Joliet and fined $1000 for violation of the Mann white slave act.

Sentence was pronounced on Johnson after Federal Judge Carpenter had denied a motion for a new trial made by counsel for the negro. Johnson obtained two weeks' time in which to prepare a writ of error, and the bond for $20,000 on which he has been at liberty since his conviction was allowed to stand.

Negro Not to Give Up

Half a dozen Deputy United States Marshals who had grouped themselves about Johnson in the penitentiary, were given, left the room when Judge Carpenter announced that the fighter could continue temporarily at liberty.

The sentence to the State Penitentiary is the result of an order sent from Washington that all persons convicted in the Federal Court in this district should be sent to the State Prison, owing to the crowded condition of the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

Johnson left the courtroom declaring that he would not give up his fight for liberty, and that if the writ of error were denied, he would make further appeals.

The arguments for a new trial came up as a surprise last afternoon. The case had not been set previously and the proceedings began with the unexpected appearance in the courtroom of Johnson's lawyer.

Johnson Prefers City Jail

"It has been hard to determine what punishment should be meted out in this case," said Judge Carpenter in passing sentence. "We have had many cases where violations of the Mann act have been punished with a fine only. We have had other cases where defendants have been sentenced to one or two years in the penitentiary.

"The circumstances in this case have been aggravated. The life of the defendant, by his own admissions, has not been a moral one. The defendant is one of the best-known men of his race, and his example has been far-reaching.

"The sentence shall be that the defendant shall be confined a year and a day in the State Penitentiary and that he shall be fined $1000.

The court denied a request of counsel for Johnson that the negro be allowed to serve the term in the O.W. Bridwell instead of state's prison.

HILL TO HAVE STEAMERS

(Continued From First Page.) trips to California in the last year acquire new and added importance in view of the recent developments in San Francisco.

Hope of Road Lives. The Hill interests have not given up hope of driving a rail line into Oregon from the East. When they gave up their rights in Malheur canyon a few years ago, the O.W. R. & N. Company might use it for their new line, now being built, it was with the thought of connecting it with the Deschutes canyon, where there never will be enough business for one, will not be duplicated at Malheur. One set of tracks will suffice for both roads.

The Hill plans for utilizing Malheur canyon have not been developed. Connection will be made with the Hill system east of the Oregon-Idaho line. It may be with the Burlington in Wyoming, as suggested by San Francisco, but unless all previous plans have been abandoned, the route will be through the Oregon Trunk and not across the desert land of Utah and Nevada as San Francisco advises indicate.

As it will require two or three years to get the rail links connected, the Hill interests will improve the time meanwhile by building up a California business through ship membership between Portland and San Francisco.

ARTIST FRIEND OF PRESIDENT AND MRS. WILSON WHO DEFENDS HER NON-RESISTANCE TO DIVORCE SUIT RECENTLY WON BY HUSBAND.

Mrs. Sheridan Defends Non-Resistance to Divorce.

OWN FUTURE MAPPED OUT

Artist Says She Could Not Bring Charge of Non-Support Against Man, and Any Other Would Be Absurd for Woman.

NEW YORK, June 3.—(Special.)—Mrs. Sarah Macdonald Sheridan, artist and teacher of singing, and a great friend of the Wilsons, whom she only recently visited at the White House, defended today her position in permitting her husband to obtain a divorce from her in the West on the ground of desertion. Her husband, who is Charles Oscar Sheridan, went West four years ago because his sight was failing. Mrs. Sheridan remaining in New York to earn her living.

"Whatever I might say in defense of the position I have taken in permitting my husband to get a divorce from me," said Mrs. Sheridan, "would be absolutely valueless as justification for the attitude of non-resistance to it. I do not consecrate my future life to larger service to what seems to me a very disordered world. I have always felt very keen sympathy for every man, woman or child who wakens in the morning and wonders if he may have strength to earn his bread that one more day. I want to live in such a way as to cast some light on the difficult problems of living for all of us. From the time that I was a child, born during the terrible years of poverty just after the war in the South, I have in one way or another earned my own way, just as any woman or child who found herself in the midst of a similar situation, using my ingenuity and the little courage I had born to me of a proud, courageous race to sustain my husband in making a home and rearing two children in an environment most trying to the career of a young artist.

"So that I might be able to visualize, having the children educated in school where the genius of their lives could expand, following them into the world, I have had my right eye while my left was of necessity turned toward my own art and consequently have unavoidably become more and more sympathetic with the philosophy of the woman of struggle and sorrow of the world outside. I find myself prepared for a more serious pursuit of trying to make conditions easier for others, I believe there is a solution of it and a redemption from it somewhere in the minds of men and women, and a large plan laid in my own mind for this work and I believe it will be realized.

"My husband had no intention of doing me an injury, I am certain. We have always been friends. Just what he has done I do not know, but presumably something where I am married to me would hinder him. I want his happiness. A divorce could be a more serious service to me in my work. If it frees him for any special purpose he may have in view, then I must permit him to have it.

"I could never have brought a charge of non-support against a man when I believe the woman should share the struggle with a man if it is necessary. Any other charge would be for a woman to make before a court. If a woman fails to keep a man's love or his chivalry, certainly no court judgment could console her. From the little I have observed in such trials, I would prefer misjudgment of the outside world rather than have my heart to the lawyers and judges of the age divorce court. There is a splendid majority—just God and one's self. No other decision can count."

SUNDAY SERVICE STARTED

First Train to Yaquina on New Schedule Brings 135 Passengers.

Sunday passenger service over the Corvallis & Eastern Railroad between Albany and Yaquina was inaugurated today with the first train under the new arrangement bringing in 135 people, who passed the day at the beach here. As in former years the train probably will be maintained until November 1.

The schedule that was in effect last Summer was followed Sunday, but one of the company's dispatchers who came over on the train for the purpose of checking up running conditions said he would recommend a material shortening of the time.

As it is now, the train leaves Albany at 7:30 A. M. and arrives at Yaquina at 12:10 P. M. There it is met by the ferry-boat Newport which got the passengers here at about 12:45 P. M. The new time table will probably go into effect in two weeks, and will mean that the excursionists will be given more time at the ocean. The noon weekday train, which is another feature of the Summer service on this line, is reported, he put on about July 1.

LAND BOARD URGES CIRCUIT JUDGE TO DECIDE UNFAVORABLE SO APPEAL MAY FOLLOW.

SALEM, Or., June 4.—(Special.)—As the result of the suit for an injunction against the Secretary of State and the State Treasurer to prevent them from spending $450,000, appropriated by the Legislature for work on the Columbia Southern irrigation project, filed by L. H. McMahon, the Desert Land Board today telegraphed Olaf Laurgard, in charge of the improvement, to come to Salem at once. It is probable that he will be instructed to discontinue work until the suit is decided. About $1400 is owed by the state for work on the project.

The Board decided to urge Circuit Judge Galloway to hear the case tomorrow and render an opinion in favor of the plaintiff, so an appeal may be taken within 10 days. If the decision were in favor of the state the plaintiff would have six months in which to appeal and the work would be delayed that long. It was the unanimous opinion of the Board that expenses should be kept at a minimum until a final decision is reached.

Attorney-General Crawford, who will represent the state, said he believed the state would win. He said the Legislature not only had the right to improve public lands, as contemplated in the Columbia Southern project, but could condemn large sections of private lands owned by individuals, pay a fair price for them and have them improved for settlers.

Department Store Witness in Missouri Wage Inquiry Says Some of Salespeople Earn From $40 to $45 a Week.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—That some foreigners who are employed in factories oppose suggestions regarding the betterment of their health was testified to today by George F. Pittman, general manager of the St. Louis Cordage Mills, who was a witness before the Wisconsin Senate wage investigation committee. He told of the establishment by the company of an outing place on the Meramec River, where the mill employees could spend Sunday, the only charge being 25 cents for railroad fare.

The plan was a failure, he said, because the girls said their men friends would not go, as only "soft drinks" were served there.

Company Pays Physicians. The company pays a physician to treat the girls when they are ill, he said, and if they are injured in the factory, the company sends them to a hospital. He said the average wage paid women by the company was $4.61.
