

False Statements Insidious. Members of the committee agreed that even though the raising of money for publicity campaigns might be le-gitimate, the issuing of false state-ments or misleading public documents would be an "insidious attempt" to in-fuence the people and members of Con-stress.

That detectives in some cases have been used to shadow members of Con-gress in the interest of certain legis have action is a point that Senator Cummins will endeavor to establish. The asked Senator Smoot today whether the latter knew of any such activity. Senator Smoot said he had "beard of it," but lie thad no informs ton. In contrast to the wisdom of conser-vation as a policy, Governor West cited the tardy execution of a compact made between the Federal Government and the state when Oregon was admitted to the Union. Under the terms of this compact the state was granted sections 16 and 25 of every township for the support of her schools. In the event that any of these lands were found to have been sold by the Government, it was provided that other lands, as con-tiguous as possible, could be selected in lieu of such losses.
