

GIRLS IN FACTORIES SAID TO BE SLAVES

Home Ties Destroyed by Concentration in Cities, Says Missouri Official.

Lieutenant-Governor Painter Tells Trades Union League President That Women Workers Are Firmly in Bondage.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The hearing conducted by the Missouri Senate yesterday by a spirited tilt between Lieutenant-Governor Painter and Mrs. Raymond Robbins, a Chicago settlement worker, as to the place of women in the modern scheme of life. The Lieutenant-Governor declared that the attitude of women in the Trades Union League, of which Mrs. Robbins is president, in urging girls to concentrate in cities was destroying home ties and subjecting women to industrial slavery. Mrs. Robbins agreed that women were slaves, but that every woman was entitled to work. She declared her purpose was to make women free, so they would demand more pay and better working conditions.

Parents Foreign Born.
"Will not the employment of women result in such a decrease in children that the country eventually will become depopulated?" asked the Lieutenant-Governor.
"Oh, no," Mrs. Robbins replied. "There are 25,000 children in my ward in Chicago."
"But are they not the children of foreign-born people, and do you not find in every city among the American born people that there are fewer children from year to year?"
"Yes," said Mrs. Robbins.
Mrs. Robbins said she would be glad to see people go to the country to live, but insisted that under existing conditions there was work for women to do in the homes and it was better for them to be engaged in gainful occupations and they should be paid a proper minimum wage—$12 a week or more.

Enforced Slavery Admitted.
"Has not women's employment in the industries enforced women's slavery in this country?" asked the Lieutenant-Governor.
"Yes," said Mrs. Robbins.
"And are not women workers more firmly in bondage than were the African slaves who were valuable to their owners and properly cared for?"
"Do not employers now know that when they wear out one girl they can get another to take her place?"
"Yes, that's true," said Mrs. Robbins.
"If women were taken out of the industries and lived at home and took care of the families would they not be better off?"
"Every woman is entitled to work in this country," replied Mrs. Robbins.

"DRY" COUNTY GOES "WET"

Lincoln in Idaho Votes to Have Liquor by Only 28 Counts.

BOISE, Idaho, June 5.—(Special.)—Complete returns from the Lincoln County local option election today show that the county left the "dry" column and became "wet" by a majority of 28 votes. The "dry" carried a majority of the precincts, but the heavy majority given in the Legislature, leaving old Lincoln County with several of the heavy "wet" precincts, made it comparatively easy for the saloons to be voted in again.

The fight waged in Shoshone County during the last three weeks has been a bitter one. For four years the county has been "dry" under the local option law. The recent division of the county by the Legislature, leaving old Lincoln County with several of the heavy "wet" precincts, made it comparatively easy for the saloons to be voted in again.

MATAMORAS IS FORTIFYING

Rebels Prepare for Effort to Recapture Border Town.

All saloons have been closed and revolutionists not engaged in caring for the wounded and mending the defenses are hastily reconstructing the battered defenses in anticipation of the coming of government troops en route from Vera Cruz.

HILL CRITICIZES NEWELL

Quantity of Produce Praised.
Farmers in Harney County are raising a high-grade winter wheat. St. Paul millers recently visited the district to inspect it. They say it is of superior quality, hard and weighs about 160 pounds to the sack. Mr. Hill declared it superior to wheat grown in other high altitudes of the country. Many homesteaders have located in the Catlow Valley who formerly lived in the famous Palouse country of Eastern Washington. They say the Catlow country is the better wheat producing section.

MURDER IS CONFESSED
MOULDER, ONCE ACQUITTED, ADMITS KILLING DETECTIVE.
Trial on Charge Now Barred Under Law, but Reward and Damage Suits Are Settled.

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—Lee C. Cage, a member of the Iron Moulders' Union of Wheeling, W. Va., confessed in the United States District Court here today that he killed Detective John J. Reardon, of Pittsburg, at Steubenville, O., in 1910. The killing occurred during a period of labor trouble.

Cage was tried at Steubenville, more than a year ago on a charge of having murdered Reardon, and was acquitted. He later took the witness stand, because he has been in jeopardy once or other trial on the same charge is barred under the constitution and laws of Ohio.

Cage's confession resulted in speedy dismissal of proceedings which were pending before Judge Slater involving the arrest of the witness and money offered by the Commissioners of Jefferson County and another suit by Reardon's administrator to collect $5000 damages from Jefferson County because of Reardon's death.

VON KLEIN ROSES COURT COURTESIES

Judge Sends 'Marrying Swindler' Suspect to Box With Ordinary Vagrants.

FAIR ACCUSER DUE SUNDAY

Reduction of Bond Denied When Aid of Attorney Rejected—Prisoner Bitterly Denounces Veiled Woman of Mystery.

Gone was all the suave assurance and cheerful smile of Edmond C. Von Klein, alleged "marrying swindler" when Municipal Judge Caldwell yesterday morning, resenting the prisoner's attitude, revoked the special privileges which had been allowed him, and summarily ordered him to the box where the rest of the prisoners are kept during court. The handsome young suspect showed great loss of poise at the blow, coming atop of his alleged identification by a third accuser, the mysterious "woman in the white veil," who says he robbed her daughter of jewels valued at $12,000.

The breach came when the Court summarily appointed Snowden Stott, an attorney, to act for Von Klein. "Your honor, I don't want a lawyer; I want to handle this case myself," declared the prisoner, who burst at once into a long plea to the court for a reduction of bail and for an immediate hearing. He cut across the Court's answers until that functionary became angry and said:

"You have been granted numerous courtesies, but you seem to fall to appreciate them. If you insist, as the law allows you, on having this case continued from day to day, pending the arrival of the complaining witness, you will take your place in the box with the other prisoners."

Lower Bond Denied.
"The bond will stay as it is," said the Court, and Bailiff Johnson conducted the prisoner to the box, to huddle among prisoners charged with drunkenness and vagrancy.

Decisive proceedings are expected Monday, as Miss Newcomb, the young woman who charges Von Klein with faking a marriage and then escaping with her diamonds, is due to arrive tonight, with other witnesses.

Today's Beauty Recipes
By Mme. D'Amille.

"One shampoo sold by druggists is entitled to all the praise showered upon it. It is so different from other shampoos that you must try it yourself to know how truly good it is. It cleanses the scalp clean, refreshed and free from dandruff and makes the hair glossy, wavy and beautifully lustrous. When embarrassing wild hair distinguishes the face or forehead, do not pull out or cut them off. Either treatment causes a darker growth. Superfluous hair is quickly and safely removed by one application of a paste made by mixing a little of this shampoo with water. Cover the hair with this paste, leave on two minutes, wipe off, wash the skin, the hair will be gone. One often wonders at the perfect complexion many women who are denied outdoor exercise. This simple recipe is relied upon by all who know it to make the skin fresh, clear and fine. Dissolve an original package of this shampoo in a half pint of witch hazel and apply this lotion instead of powder. It eliminates the 'shine' of perspiration and prevents freckles, tan and sunburn.—Adv.
