

SCHOOL CHILDREN MAY SEE PARADES

Speakers for Graduation Exercises Are Announced by Board of Education.

SUMMER FACULTY CHOSEN

Frederick E. Chapman Resigns From Textbook Board When Competitor Complains—Sewing to Be on Curriculum at Woodlawn.

Portland school children will have two half-holidays during the Rose festival. These will be Wednesday and Thursday, the days of the automobile and vehicle parade.

The following speakers for graduation exercises at the schools has been announced: Rev. Henry Marcotte, Lincoln High School; Rev. Charles H. Carey, Washington High School; June 25; W. W. Cotton, Lincoln High School; June 26; M. Coleman, School of Trades, June 26.

Appointments were made for the teaching staff of the summer schools, as follows: High School work—W. T. Fletcher, principal; Ella Mason, Ruth Pringle, I. A. Melendy, Mary Loftus, I. N. Gorman, W. V. Green, Eugene E. J. Jones, Katha Koch, Athina M. Kimmel, W. H. Herron, L. D. Roberts, teachers.

Elementary Teachers Named. Elementary work—A. R. Draper, A. M. Cannon, principals; H. M. Barr, Mary Kavanaugh, Sarah Allen, Dorothy Blum, Johanna Cremer, Edith A. Wright, Eugenia Morse, Mary Gene Smith, Bessie Rawson, Emma Whitney, Mrs. J. Burnham, May D. Donohoe, Nellie M. Washburne, Matta C. Brown, Alice Munro, Laura E. Black, Adaline E. Wiley, Sophie A. Wilson, teachers.

Manual training—E. J. Burrows, C. J. Piggler, F. M. Goshong, William Milne, W. J. Lester, A. Augs, M. G. Steel, H. Dranning, H. Burrows, E. J. Jones, J. W. A. Manour, J. R. Byrnhold, J. L. Kerchen.

School of trades—Julius Klein, George Williams, Charles Cleveland, Clara Wickstrom, Mrs. Ellen R. Miller, Elizabeth Phillips, Sophia Jensen.

The following teachers were made members of instructors for the summer school for teachers, August 4-29: Drawing, Esther Wuest, Mrs. May Gay, Essie Esterson, Irene Wuest; music, L. E. Hunter, Lyll Ransom; physical training, Georgia May; sewing, Mrs. Hattie West, Phoebe White.

The board authorized a payroll of $119,832.76, of which $109,945.15 was for teachers' salaries.

Kenton Contract Let. The contract for the building of the Kenton School was let to John Almeter for $50,937.

Bids were opened for the heating, ventilating and air conditioning of the Kenton School, and referred to the building committee.

In the case of Henry Schroeder, a senior student of Jefferson High School, who passed a competitive examination for and was appointed to a cadetship at West Point, it was decided to waive the rule of not granting a diploma of graduation to one who does not finish the school year.

Mr. Schroeder left last week for West Point, and his diploma will be forwarded to him.

Frederick E. Chapman, supervisor of music, yesterday advised his resignation from the textbook board, to which he was recently appointed under the new law, the duties of which are to make recommendations for textbooks.

Mr. Chapman is the agent for a textbook publishing company, and G. L. Gerlach, school superintendent, company, protested against his serving.

Sewing Added to Studies. It was decided to have sewing instruction one day a week at Woodlawn school during the summer months. The same action may be taken for the Lentz school.

A petition from the students of Jefferson High School for assistance in erecting a statue of Thomas Jefferson at the school was placed on file, and will be the subject of future action by the board.

For the second time bids for remodeling the heating and ventilating systems of the school and Thompson schools were rejected. The board yesterday decided to do the greater part of the work by day labor, as it considered all bids too high.

A controversy which has arisen in the school for the deaf in the Buckman school building came before the board. There are three teachers of the deaf. One teaches sign language, and the others the oral or lip-reading system. Patrons asked for the dismissal of the sign-language teacher, Mrs. F. C. Metcalf. No action was taken by the board. It seems that there is conflict between advocates of the two systems.

HEUSNER DELAYS ACTION

Franchise-Seeker Says He Has Not Decided on Future Course.

When asked yesterday whether he intended to apply to the City Commission for a street railway franchise, George F. Heusner said that he had not yet decided. "I will not say at this time," he said. "However, should I desire so to do, it would take four months or more under the new charter before any franchise the Commission might grant would become operative and it then would be subject to the referendum, which, no doubt, the interests opposing the franchise would invoke, and in that case the measure would be held up until the next city election, two years from now."

TRADE PROBLEMS ISSUE

Oregon Jewelers Take Up Fake Articles Traffic.

How to prevent the sale of "jewelry" that is neither valuable nor ornamental under the representation that it contains a quantity of precious metals far in excess of its actual value, is one of the problems now being considered by members of the Oregon Retail Jewelers' Association, which opened a two days' session at the Commercial Club yesterday.

The principal event was the banquet at the Commercial Club last night. More than 100 members of the organization attended. Many are present from various parts of the state.

Effects of the parcel post law and the bill now pending in Congress requiring manufacturers to certify on their products the amount of gold or other precious substances entering into its composition are among the details that received discussion. The jewelers are supporting the bill now before Congress aimed to prevent extrava-

LABOR MEN TAKE UP NEW PROBLEM

Effects of Immigration on American Working Class Conference Topic.

MEET OPENS IN PORTLAND

Delegates From Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Wyoming and Canada Plan to Meet Issue With Canal Opening.

BODIES OF ARMY SERGEANT'S WIFE AND CHILDREN BEING EXHUMED.

Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Wyoming and British Columbia are represented at the Western Immigration Conference, which opened yesterday at the National Labor Union building, due to the high stage of the Willamette River. With a gasoline pump the sewage was being got rid of last night and performance probably will be resumed this afternoon.

Water flowing into the basement of the police temporary station at Sixth and Everett streets has forced the employment of pumps. The water is entering in a perceptible stream. Many other buildings, as far west as Broadway, are experiencing the same condition.

Canoeists on the river had sport yesterday in running beneath the bottom draw of the new Steel bridge, where the high water nearly reaches the roadway, barely admitting their craft between the bridge and water.

Police Dictate Fashions Indianapolis Women Must Wear Undergarments With Split Skirts.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 5.—Women in Indianapolis who wear the new-style split skirts also must wear undergarments, and the traffic squad of the police force has been asked to enforce the order which was given out by the superintendent of police today.

The order was issued after the superintendent had received a letter signed "The Ladies," and which read: "As you know you are the highest authority in the city, we the ladies, ask that you prohibit the wearing of split skirts without undergarments. We know you will take this seriously."

DIVORCE TRIAL TO GO ON Efforts to Reconcile Husband and Mrs. Cornwallis-West Abandoned.

LONDON, June 5.—(Special.)—All efforts to bring about a reconciliation between Mrs. George Cornwallis-West and her husband have been abandoned and the trial of the suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Cornwallis-West will be proceeded with.

Mrs. Cornwallis-West has entered an answer, but the date for the trial has not yet been fixed.

AT THE THEATERS

NAZIMOVA. In a Play in Four Acts, "Bella Donna," Adapted from the Novel by Robert Hichens.

Dr. Meyer Isaacson, Charles Bryant, The Hon. Nigel Armine, Mahmoud Baroudi, Robert Whitworth, Dr. Hartley, Edward Fielding, Sir Harry Graham, William Nazimov, Ibrahim, A. Romaine Callender, Hama, Claus Rogel, Monks, Arthur Huxey, Mrs. Chapman, Madame Nazimova, Mrs. Marchmont, Amy Vases, Marie, May Gayler.

BY LEONE CASS BAER. The superlative in theatrical sensation of Madame Alla Nazimova, incomparable Russian artist, and Robert Hichens, novelist.

Madame Nazimova could play Polk's Directory or a time table of the O. W. R. & N. and make it as beautiful, magnetic charm and absorbing interest. Last night she came to the Heilig in "Bella Donna," a complete theatrical machine made out of Hichens' novel. Her name, James Bernard Fagan made the play, and it is eminently fitting that the title role should be entrusted to an actress like the great Nazimova. No actress other than she could play it. Like her art and personality it is bizarre and exotic.

Fagan has stripped the play "Bella Donna" of all the novelist's atmosphere. Little remains, of course, but the sensational story, verging often upon the impossible of a beautiful woman's effort to poison her husband by putting sugar of lead in his coffee, so that she may not be burdened in her intrigue with an English Bluebeard in a fez and a dinner coat, who already has a collection of femininity. The theme is by no means developed rapidly, so consummately that the acting that the action never an instant drags.

Poison is the subject. The scenes are Egyptian, all of which Nazimova suggests a serpent as the model for Bella Donna.

Madame Nazimova makes this adopted daughter of the Nile a Cleopatra study of glitterings, giddings, turnings and clingsings. She wraps her thin, slender, sinuous, young body in closely fitting robes of snake-like tints and textures. The tails of her gowns, fashioned after a snake's body, creep and crawl, winding tortuously to lie wickedly in wait. The silk and jewel swathed wrath bears little resemblance to a human being, supposed to be a somewhat passive English woman, who has married Nigel Armine after having been beloved of many men.

Sensationalism seems to be the principle of Bella Donna, in view of which since it attains what it sets out to, credibility may go hang. Its very un-usualness arouses tremendous interest, some of it aroused by the mad and much of it stirs the emotions.

Wonderful is the art with which Madame Nazimova depicts the cold-blooded and morose selfishness, the murderous malevolence and baser passions of Bella Donna without making the spectacle revolting. Art or artifice, whichever it is, we will none of us ever know. Whether her movements are shifting from one studied pose to another, or the normal actions of the abnormal Nazimova we can only discuss, mouth over in wonder and leave it an unsolved riddle. She excites curiosity, she holds attention, she is gifted with genius in her art. To some of us her little pathetic tones and touches go far deeper than ear and eye. Others see only the marvellously plastic body and her vivid, starting use of it.

The support provided the star is excellent. Charles Bryant is distinguished and dominant in his role of the Jewish physician, Dr. Meyer Isaacson, who discovers that Bella Donna is slowly poisoning her husband, his friend, Nigel Armine.

Capital impersonations are those of Robert Whitworth as Baroudi, who tells Bella that there "are other women," and Romaine Callender as Ibrahim, a dragonian.

The play is picturesquely mounted and is Belasconque in treatment. Strikingly effective is the finale. It is just a noise made by the crashing together of the heavy doors, when Bella Donna, cast off by the dark-skinned Baroudi, who "will not risk trouble with the English," turns, re-enters the home she has made desolate, with a matinee Saturday.

LABOR MEN TAKE UP NEW PROBLEM

Effects of Immigration on American Working Class Conference Topic.

MEET OPENS IN PORTLAND

Delegates From Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Wyoming and Canada Plan to Meet Issue With Canal Opening.

Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Wyoming and British Columbia are represented at the Western Immigration Conference, which opened yesterday at the National Labor Union building, due to the high stage of the Willamette River. With a gasoline pump the sewage was being got rid of last night and performance probably will be resumed this afternoon.

Water flowing into the basement of the police temporary station at Sixth and Everett streets has forced the employment of pumps. The water is entering in a perceptible stream. Many other buildings, as far west as Broadway, are experiencing the same condition.

Canoeists on the river had sport yesterday in running beneath the bottom draw of the new Steel bridge, where the high water nearly reaches the roadway, barely admitting their craft between the bridge and water.

Police Dictate Fashions Indianapolis Women Must Wear Undergarments With Split Skirts.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 5.—Women in Indianapolis who wear the new-style split skirts also must wear undergarments, and the traffic squad of the police force has been asked to enforce the order which was given out by the superintendent of police today.

The order was issued after the superintendent had received a letter signed "The Ladies," and which read: "As you know you are the highest authority in the city, we the ladies, ask that you prohibit the wearing of split skirts without undergarments. We know you will take this seriously."

DIVORCE TRIAL TO GO ON Efforts to Reconcile Husband and Mrs. Cornwallis-West Abandoned.

LONDON, June 5.—(Special.)—All efforts to bring about a reconciliation between Mrs. George Cornwallis-West and her husband have been abandoned and the trial of the suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Cornwallis-West will be proceeded with.

Mrs. Cornwallis-West has entered an answer, but the date for the trial has not yet been fixed.

AT THE THEATERS

NAZIMOVA. In a Play in Four Acts, "Bella Donna," Adapted from the Novel by Robert Hichens.

Dr. Meyer Isaacson, Charles Bryant, The Hon. Nigel Armine, Mahmoud Baroudi, Robert Whitworth, Dr. Hartley, Edward Fielding, Sir Harry Graham, William Nazimov, Ibrahim, A. Romaine Callender, Hama, Claus Rogel, Monks, Arthur Huxey, Mrs. Chapman, Madame Nazimova, Mrs. Marchmont, Amy Vases, Marie, May Gayler.

BY LEONE CASS BAER. The superlative in theatrical sensation of Madame Alla Nazimova, incomparable Russian artist, and Robert Hichens, novelist.

Madame Nazimova could play Polk's Directory or a time table of the O. W. R. & N. and make it as beautiful, magnetic charm and absorbing interest. Last night she came to the Heilig in "Bella Donna," a complete theatrical machine made out of Hichens' novel. Her name, James Bernard Fagan made the play, and it is eminently fitting that the title role should be entrusted to an actress like the great Nazimova. No actress other than she could play it. Like her art and personality it is bizarre and exotic.

Fagan has stripped the play "Bella Donna" of all the novelist's atmosphere. Little remains, of course, but the sensational story, verging often upon the impossible of a beautiful woman's effort to poison her husband by putting sugar of lead in his coffee, so that she may not be burdened in her intrigue with an English Bluebeard in a fez and a dinner coat, who already has a collection of femininity. The theme is by no means developed rapidly, so consummately that the acting that the action never an instant drags.

Poison is the subject. The scenes are Egyptian, all of which Nazimova suggests a serpent as the model for Bella Donna.

Madame Nazimova makes this adopted daughter of the Nile a Cleopatra study of glitterings, giddings, turnings and clingsings. She wraps her thin, slender, sinuous, young body in closely fitting robes of snake-like tints and textures. The tails of her gowns, fashioned after a snake's body, creep and crawl, winding tortuously to lie wickedly in wait. The silk and jewel swathed wrath bears little resemblance to a human being, supposed to be a somewhat passive English woman, who has married Nigel Armine after having been beloved of many men.

Sensationalism seems to be the principle of Bella Donna, in view of which since it attains what it sets out to, credibility may go hang. Its very un-usualness arouses tremendous interest, some of it aroused by the mad and much of it stirs the emotions.

Wonderful is the art with which Madame Nazimova depicts the cold-blooded and morose selfishness, the murderous malevolence and baser passions of Bella Donna without making the spectacle revolting. Art or artifice, whichever it is, we will none of us ever know. Whether her movements are shifting from one studied pose to another, or the normal actions of the abnormal Nazimova we can only discuss, mouth over in wonder and leave it an unsolved riddle. She excites curiosity, she holds attention, she is gifted with genius in her art. To some of us her little pathetic tones and touches go far deeper than ear and eye. Others see only the marvellously plastic body and her vivid, starting use of it.

The support provided the star is excellent. Charles Bryant is distinguished and dominant in his role of the Jewish physician, Dr. Meyer Isaacson, who discovers that Bella Donna is slowly poisoning her husband, his friend, Nigel Armine.

Capital impersonations are those of Robert Whitworth as Baroudi, who tells Bella that there "are other women," and Romaine Callender as Ibrahim, a dragonian.

The play is picturesquely mounted and is Belasconque in treatment. Strikingly effective is the finale. It is just a noise made by the crashing together of the heavy doors, when Bella Donna, cast off by the dark-skinned Baroudi, who "will not risk trouble with the English," turns, re-enters the home she has made desolate, with a matinee Saturday.

LABOR MEN TAKE UP NEW PROBLEM

Effects of Immigration on American Working Class Conference Topic.

MEET OPENS IN PORTLAND

Delegates From Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Wyoming and Canada Plan to Meet Issue With Canal Opening.

Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Wyoming and British Columbia are represented at the Western Immigration Conference, which opened yesterday at the National Labor Union building, due to the high stage of the Willamette River. With a gasoline pump the sewage was being got rid of last night and performance probably will be resumed this afternoon.

Water flowing into the basement of the police temporary station at Sixth and Everett streets has forced the employment of pumps. The water is entering in a perceptible stream. Many other buildings, as far west as Broadway, are experiencing the same condition.

Canoeists on the river had sport yesterday in running beneath the bottom draw of the new Steel bridge, where the high water nearly reaches the roadway, barely admitting their craft between the bridge and water.

Police Dictate Fashions Indianapolis Women Must Wear Undergarments With Split Skirts.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 5.—Women in Indianapolis who wear the new-style split skirts also must wear undergarments, and the traffic squad of the police force has been asked to enforce the order which was given out by the superintendent of police today.

The order was issued after the superintendent had received a letter signed "The Ladies," and which read: "As you know you are the highest authority in the city, we the ladies, ask that you prohibit the wearing of split skirts without undergarments. We know you will take this seriously."

DIVORCE TRIAL TO GO ON Efforts to Reconcile Husband and Mrs. Cornwallis-West Abandoned.

LONDON, June 5.—(Special.)—All efforts to bring about a reconciliation between Mrs. George Cornwallis-West and her husband have been abandoned and the trial of the suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Cornwallis-West will be proceeded with.

Mrs. Cornwallis-West has entered an answer, but the date for the trial has not yet been fixed.

AT THE THEATERS

NAZIMOVA. In a Play in Four Acts, "Bella Donna," Adapted from the Novel by Robert Hichens.

Dr. Meyer Isaacson, Charles Bryant, The Hon. Nigel Armine, Mahmoud Baroudi, Robert Whitworth, Dr. Hartley, Edward Fielding, Sir Harry Graham, William Nazimov, Ibrahim, A. Romaine Callender, Hama, Claus Rogel, Monks, Arthur Huxey, Mrs. Chapman, Madame Nazimova, Mrs. Marchmont, Amy Vases, Marie, May Gayler.

BY LEONE CASS BAER. The superlative in theatrical sensation of Madame Alla Nazimova, incomparable Russian artist, and Robert Hichens, novelist.

Madame Nazimova could play Polk's Directory or a time table of the O. W. R. & N. and make it as beautiful, magnetic charm and absorbing interest. Last night she came to the Heilig in "Bella Donna," a complete theatrical machine made out of Hichens' novel. Her name, James Bernard Fagan made the play, and it is eminently fitting that the title role should be entrusted to an actress like the great Nazimova. No actress other than she could play it. Like her art and personality it is bizarre and exotic.

Fagan has stripped the play "Bella Donna" of all the novelist's atmosphere. Little remains, of course, but the sensational story, verging often upon the impossible of a beautiful woman's effort to poison her husband by putting sugar of lead in his coffee, so that she may not be burdened in her intrigue with an English Bluebeard in a fez and a dinner coat, who already has a collection of femininity. The theme is by no means developed rapidly, so consummately that the acting that the action never an instant drags.

Poison is the subject. The scenes are Egyptian, all of which Nazimova suggests a serpent as the model for Bella Donna.

Madame Nazimova makes this adopted daughter of the Nile a Cleopatra study of glitterings, giddings, turnings and clingsings. She wraps her thin, slender, sinuous, young body in closely fitting robes of snake-like tints and textures. The tails of her gowns, fashioned after a snake's body, creep and crawl, winding tortuously to lie wickedly in wait. The silk and jewel swathed wrath bears little resemblance to a human being, supposed to be a somewhat passive English woman, who has married Nigel Armine after having been beloved of many men.

Sensationalism seems to be the principle of Bella Donna, in view of which since it attains what it sets out to, credibility may go hang. Its very un-usualness arouses tremendous interest, some of it aroused by the mad and much of it stirs the emotions.

Wonderful is the art with which Madame Nazimova depicts the cold-blooded and morose selfishness, the murderous malevolence and baser passions of Bella Donna without making the spectacle revolting. Art or artifice, whichever it is, we will none of us ever know. Whether her movements are shifting from one studied pose to another, or the normal actions of the abnormal Nazimova we can only discuss, mouth over in wonder and leave it an unsolved riddle. She excites curiosity, she holds attention, she is gifted with genius in her art. To some of us her little pathetic tones and touches go far deeper than ear and eye. Others see only the marvellously plastic body and her vivid, starting use of it.

The support provided the star is excellent. Charles Bryant is distinguished and dominant in his role of the Jewish physician, Dr. Meyer Isaacson, who discovers that Bella Donna is slowly poisoning her husband, his friend, Nigel Armine.

Capital impersonations are those of Robert Whitworth as Baroudi, who tells Bella that there "are other women," and Romaine Callender as Ibrahim, a dragonian.

The play is picturesquely mounted and is Belasconque in treatment. Strikingly effective is the finale. It is just a noise made by the crashing together of the heavy doors, when Bella Donna, cast off by the dark-skinned Baroudi, who "will not risk trouble with the English," turns, re-enters the home she has made desolate, with a matinee Saturday.

WOOD WILD; BUCKS WIN

BOISE HAS SWIFTEST AT EXPENSE OF BEAR PITCHER.

Yak Hurler Batted Hard by Spuds but Hits Are Kept Scattered and La Grande Loses.

North Yakima and Pendleton, who are jockeying for third place in the Western Tri-State League, were unable to get an advantage in the Western Tri-State Thursday, both winning. The scores were: North Yakima 7, La Grande 5; Pendleton 5, Baker 2, Boise 10, Walla Walla 2.

Wood was wild at Pendleton and lost for Baker. In the third he allowed Peet to hit and filled the bases by hitting two men. Two singles scored two and with the bases full he walked in a run. He did almost as bad in the eighth. Peet, formerly with Baker, pitched for Pendleton and would have had "hutton" but for his wildness in the ninth. Four of Baker's six hits were scratched. The score: R. H. E. Baker 10 10 2 2 Pendleton 5 5 2 Batteries—Wood and Cress; Peet and Byrnes.

There were four home runs in the Boise-Walla Walla game. Walla Walla in addition to one three-bagger, four two-baggers and 12 singles. In the second inning Blausser and Bonner for Boise both hit homers. Bonner with one ahead. The Bears got their only scores with homers, Martini getting one in the second and Harmon one in the third. Shader was pounded hard early in the game then tightened. Bonner did well. The score: R. H. E. Boise 10 10 2 2 Walla Walla 2 2 2 Batteries—Bonner and Gard; Shader and Brown.

Jensen was pounded hard by the La Grande batters at North Yakima today, but kept the 15 hits fairly well scattered, and the Yaks won, 7 to 5. Nockley was hit hard early in the game and he was relieved by Jamison. The Yaks made 15 hits, but they made them count for more and won. Score: R. H. E. N. Yakima, 7 10 11 La Grande, 5 5 2 Batteries—Jensen and Taylor; Nockley, Jamison and Conroy.

PORTLAND MAN INJURED

Ernest Barry Falls From Freight Train and Loses Arm.

ROSEBURG, Or., June 5.—(Special.)—Ernest Barry, age about 30 years and a resident of Portland, probably was fatally injured here late tonight, when he fell from an outgoing freight train.

Barry recently came here in search of employment and was returning to Portland when the accident occurred. His right arm was severed, while his left leg was badly mutilated. In his pocket was found a card directing the officers to notify his mother at Portland in case of accident. Barry was taken to a local hospital following the accident, and his recovery is doubtful.

Seniors to Give County Fair.

The members of the senior class of the Washington High School will give a "county fair" at the school tomorrow night, starting at 7:30 o'clock. There will be side-shows of minstrels, clown menagerie, vaudeville and musicians, in addition to numerous other attractions.

WOMAN ARRESTS 'MASHER'

Prisoner's Wife Also Gets Letter Explaining His Plight.

JOPLIN, Mo., June 5.—Miss Vernie Goff, Joplin's young police matron, made her first arrest in a campaign she started recently against street "mashing," when Harry Miller, of Monett, Mo., accosted her on the street with a sippant remark.

"Hello, kid," said Miller. "You're under arrest," said Miss Goff, showing her star. "Just march you to jail."

After she had taken him to the city prison Miller asked the matron to mail a letter he had written to his wife. "I will do it," she said, "and I will write her a letter myself, explaining how you happen to be here."

HIGH WATER HITS THEATER

Performances Halted When Electrical Apparatus Fails.

Performances at the Lyric Theater, Fourth and Stark streets, were not given last night following a failure of the electrical apparatus, caused by the water in the basement of the theater.

Corn Bread

and Johnny Cake—all cornmeal or flour cakes—are always light, tasty and delicious when raised with Rumford Baking Powder.

The secret is that Rumford raises at just the right time and in just the right manner to produce that delicate and even texture sought for by all professional cooks.

Rumford BAKING POWDER THE WHOLESOME

Worrell's Temptation Sale advertisement featuring a woman in a dress and text: 'Worrell's Temptation Sale Friday and Saturday Cloaks, Suits, Waists and Dresses. Odds and Ends Left From Our Great Premature Explosion Sale. 200 Suits, Vals. to $30, Temptation Sale Price $12.45. Temptation Sale Dresses, 60 Dresses Vals. to $20 $6.95. Temptation Sale Coats $9.95. Temptation Sale Waists 98c. Sample Cloaks and Suits. Largest Cloak and Suit House in the Northwest. Cor. Sixth and Alder Sts., Opp. Oregonian.'

Worrell's advertisement continuation: 'The greatest aggregation to be found in Portland. Every style, color and make. Exclusive patterns and styles. Values to $25. Temptation Sale price. 2000 Waists, values to $2.00. Temptation Sale price. Then it is that Dr. Isaacson meets her at the threshold and closes the portal in her face. One word at this point would have turned the dramatic quality into bold melodrama. As it is, the action alone speaks volumes and gives the audience a thrill which in these days of the prosaic mere speech could never inspire. "Bella Donna" will continue at the Heilig the rest of the week, with a matinee Saturday.'

The Time to Go East While The Fares Are Least. OREGON-WASHINGTON RAILROAD & NAVIGATION CO. UNION PACIFIC OVERLAND. REMEMBER BLOCK SIGNALS. Unusually Liberal Stop-Over Privileges. In Connection With Low Round Trip Excursion Fares to Chicago, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Denver, Omaha or most anywhere. Let Us Tell You of These Advantages. Uniformed Agent Meets All Trains and Looks Out for Your Comfort. CITY TICKET OFFICE THIRD AND WASHINGTON STREETS PHONES: MARSHALL 4500 AND A-6121.