BLACKSMITHS FOR CITY BEAUTIFUL.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 6.—(Special.)—Hood River has a couple of blacksmiths who believe in making a city beautiful. Peter Shively and Lawrence M. Driscoll, who operate a horseshoeing shop at the foot of Fourth street, have converted their back yard and the parking between their place of business and the sidewalk into a flower garden. While they are not fitting the feet of the valley's horses with new shoes, the sturdy blacksmiths may be seen weeding their beds of phlox, sweet peas and nasturtiums.

Europe has an area of 3,900,000 square miles.

MAJOR MARTIN MAY COME

War Department Says Officer Can Accept Colony of Third.

That the Secretary of War will detail Major E. H. Martin to Oregon so that he may take the colony of the Third Regiment, Oregon National Guard, was the telegraphic information received by Adjutant-General Finster from the War Department at Washington. The telegram adds that Major Martin's wishes on the matter will be consulted as soon as he returns from a week's leave of absence, and that if he is favorably inclined, the detail will be made.
