

GERMAN RULER'S JUBILEE BEGUN

Berlin People in Gay Mood and Newspapers Recount His Achievements.

GREAT FLEET PUT FIRST

Socialist Organ Admits Emperor Sincerely Desires Peace—Records in Titles and Decorations to Be Broken.

BERLIN, June 15.—(Special.)—Special services at the churches were the only official observances of the opening of the celebration of the Kaiser's silver jubilee today. There was a big open-air celebration at the Tempelhof stadium, in which thousands of army veterans participated. The bells of all the churches in Berlin and Potsdam were rung at noon. The real opening of the celebration will begin at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The people were in a gay mood and spent the day in promading the streets and gazing at the decorations along Unter den Linden, the Brandenburg Gate and the Pariserplatz.

All newspapers printed huge supplements today, reviewing the 25 years reign of the Emperor. The consensus of opinion was that the greatest achievement of the Kaiser was the creation of the fleet which had put Germany in the front rank of maritime powers.

The Vorwaerts, the Socialist organ, while declaring that the "class conscious" proletariat regards the Kaiser "as the personal embodiment of reactionary tendencies against which we are waging an embittered struggle," admits that "Emperor Wilhelm sincerely desires peace and thinks the winning of the armistice was necessary for the protection of the national interests."

Trumpets to Proclaim Day.

Early tomorrow morning there will be a great fanfare of trumpets along the entire length of Unter den Linden and firing of a salute of 101 guns from the Lustgarten battery in front of the palace. At noon the Kaiser and his six sons will meet in the Arsenal of Berlin and Potsdam at the Arsenal Museum. Prior to that Field Marshal Count von Haeseler and a deputation of officers will present the Kaiser with a magnificent Field Marshal's baton inscribed: "To the German Kaiser from the German Army, 1888-1913."

A court congratulation will be held at 10 o'clock in the palace. All federal Councillors, deputations from both branches of Parliament, representatives of the army and navy and many German cities, as well as scientific institutions, will present addresses of congratulations. It is believed that all records will be broken in the distribution of titles, orders and decorations.

ETERNAL PEACE NOT DREAM

Ambassador Hints Invaders Would Have Warm Reception.

NEW YORK, June 15.—(Special.)—The crowning episode of an all-day celebration here today of the 25th anniversary of the reign of William II, Emperor of Germany, was a speech delivered in the Hotel Astor tonight by Count von Bernstorff, German Ambassador, at a kommers attended by nearly 2,000 German-Americans. Deeply-lunged "hecha" out when the Ambassador said proudly:

"Although the Emperor has kept the peace for 25 years, it is not possible for us Germans to dream of eternal peace. For 100 years no enemy has set foot on German soil."

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 15.—(Special.)—Though but 12 years old, Frank Hill, who came here with his stepfather, June 2, broke into the rear of J. J. Beauregard's pawn shop and jewelry store at 2 o'clock today. He set off a burglar alarm, connected with the police station, and in a few more seconds his little sister ran in and told him the police were after him. He dashed out of the building, but was captured by the police.

GERMAN EMPEROR, WHO COMPLETES 25TH YEAR OF REIGN, EMPRESS AND THEIR GRANDCHILDREN.

LEFT TO RIGHT—THE CHILDREN ARE WILLIAM FRIDERICH, THE OLDEST; LOUIS FERDINAND AND HUBERT, YOUNGEST. Kaiser Wilhelm yesterday completed the 25th year of his reign. The anniversary was made the occasion for a great celebration throughout the German Empire. The Kaiser's reign is being generally felicitated upon the fact that peace has marked his reign in marked degree.

BEEF TO BE RAISED

Nebraska Farmers Give Pledge to Follow Instructions.

STATE IS TAKING LEAD

Organized Effort Begun to Reduce High Cost of Living at Same Time Profits of Agriculture Are Increased.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 15.—(Special.)—To do their part in reducing the high cost of living, 200 Nebraska farmers have pledged themselves to devote their time, talent and energies to increasing the production of beef cattle in this state, and to follow the instructions of the university experiment station, which for several years has made a special study of raising cattle for beef by the best methods.

"The fact that the population of the country is increasing, while beef cattle are decreasing has aroused the Nation to a realization that the high cost of living can never be lowered until this state of affairs is mended, and that the farmers are responsible for the work is just as apparent as that present conditions exist," said Dean Burnett, addressing the farmers' convention at a beef-raising meeting held at the State University farm.

Dean Burnett produced figures to show that Nebraska can raise beef at a profit equalled by no other state in the Union, with the possible exception of Kansas.

THREE RULERS FOR PEACE

negotiations and the claims put in by each interested party, however, much misgiving is felt here. Not only Austria-Hungary's official representatives, but also the dual nation as a whole feel that too much precious time is being frittered away, too much willful delay countenanced, too much subtlety tolerated.

It must be kept in mind always that Austria-Hungary is more directly interested in the final adjustment of Balkan affairs and in the establishment of durable and pacific relations than no matter who else. This is a point which not enough importance is habitually attached in other countries. But it explains much in the attitude of this country otherwise hard to understand.

Thus, it is an open secret that the whole Balkan war has been largely financed by Paris, via St. Petersburg, and that neither Serbia nor Greece would have been, and would still be, quite so belligerent if the slews of war (that ultimately have come out of the proverbial French stocking) showed either now, or had shown in the past, signs of falling.

Then, the Albanian problem. That little country needs no avails as unfortunate Albanians—to no avail as far. Every move has been checkmated by Russia. Even England has taken the unjustifiable view that a provisional arrangement with a lord high commissioner at the head, would be most serviceable for Albania. And all this when the desperation of deferred hope, of famine, of uncertainty has already led to an uprising of 15,000 Albanians and when complete anarchy seems threatening the hunger-stricken mountain land as a whole.

Albanians Men of Ability.

There really seems to be a completely erroneous impression abroad as to the Albanians and their potential future. Those who know them best prophesy much that is good and great for them. Though neglected for centuries, like the other Balkan races, there must be fine ability in them; otherwise one could not account for the fact that out of this Albanian race of altogether 3,000,000 souls has come an abnormally high percentage of the best soldiers, best administrators, best merchants of Turkey. And the Albanian from home is apt to be a man of means and distinction.

But like most mountaineers, the Skipetar (for so the Albanian calls himself) loves independence and liberty. He will become the unwilling slave of either Serbian or Greek, no more than he was ever willing to succumb to the Turkish rule.

It was of interest to me, a few days ago, to have a conversation with a leader of new Albania—a typical skipetar, Issa Boljetini by name, who said, among other things:

"Should the powers really partition us off among the Slavs of the Balkans, or take a considerable portion of us, there never will be peace on the Balkans. It is known that not a year passed under Turkish rule without our being engaged in a rising. And this was when our oppressors shared the fate of most of us. Does anyone believe that the Albanians of Kosovo, for instance, are going to allow themselves to be oppressed by such intolerant foes to the faith as are the Montenegrins and Serbians—worse barbarians by far than the Turks ever were? No, I declare solemnly that we can never be subjected to their rule. We shall go on fighting until we have thrown off their yoke as well."

Present Strife Heilitied.

Existing conditions between the different Balkan states are peculiar. When fighting broke out between Bulgarian and Greek, between Bulgarian and Serbian troops are of daily occurrence, and even battles lasting for two entire days are fought, whole companies and detachments made prisoner, hundreds of killed and wounded reported at single engagements, and when fired upon by Bulgarian and coast batteries, there apparently is something in the matter beyond the usual Balkan powers, as, of course, there is. Yet I am assured here by high Austrian government authority, as well as at the Russian Embassy in this city, that those "little differences" will in all likelihood be amicably settled in the end.

Despite threatening appearances, I am told that Russia for one, is not in face sternly against such an inglorious ending of the gloriously inaugurated Balkan war as a general set-to between the participants over the spoils would undoubtedly be. And Russia's influence in the premises alone may prevent serious trouble.

CITY SAFER THAN AGE FOR BABY

Federal Bureau Says Only Limit to Good Results Is on Financial Side.

HEALTH CAN BE BOUGHT

Clean Milk, Baby Clinics, Pre-natal Care of Mothers, Visiting Nursing and General Education Urged as Remedies.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—What American cities are doing to reduce or prevent child mortality is the subject of a bulletin issued today by the children's bureau of the Department of Labor. It is the result of an organized effort that has resulted in reducing the death rate below that of rural districts and villages. Illustrating this, the report says:

"Babies die of diseases which to a large extent are preventable, and thus when welfare work is directed toward saving their lives the response is immediate and decided. In certain large cities such as New York and Philadelphia, baby-saving campaigns have been shown in a reduction of between 30 and 40 per cent in the death of children under two years of age. In the wards where work was concentrated.

"Public Health is Purchasable." "Practically the only limit of the good results to be obtained by enthusiastic campaigns lies in the financial side of the question. The investigations of the Children's Bureau indicate that the principal impediment to effective work in the health department of most cities is the lack of adequate funds for carrying on preventive measures intelligently, and experience verifies the truth of the motto of the New York Health Department, 'Public health is purchasable; within natural limitations a community can determine its own death rate.'

The bureau estimates that a baby nursed by its mother has approximately ten times the chances to live that a bottle-fed baby has. All welfare workers, therefore, are advised to encourage mothers to make every effort to carry out this most important maternal duty.

Baby Clinics Do Good Work.

Milk stations and baby clinics are urged on municipalities. It becomes apparent, says the bureau, that many mothers need advice as to the care of their babies, especially in the early months. Sometimes the clinic is established by the wholly volunteer services of doctors and nurses, or by the presence of a milk station, which prescribes its diet and tell the mother when to bring it back. Many cities which visit the clinic, instructive nurses should take precedence over all forms of welfare work. Some cities have realized the value of the prenatal and infant care of expectant child caretakers of little children, and presented at the milk station, weigh it, prescribe its diet and tell the mother when to bring it back. Many cities which visit the clinic, instructive nurses should take precedence over all forms of welfare work.

NEGRO INSTITUTE OPENS

LARGE CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO $200,000 BUILDING.

Booker T. Washington Makes Dedication Address at Finest Y. M. C. A. for Colored Race.

CHICAGO, June 15.—(Special.)—The Wabash-avenue department building of the Young Men's Christian Association, a branch to be directly devoted to the interests of negro men and boys in Chicago, was dedicated today.

Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee Institute, Julius Rosenwald, vice-president, and other distinguished well-known philanthropists; William P. Sidley, president of the Y. M. C. A. of Chicago, and others identified with that work took part in the dedication of the new $200,000 structure, the costliest building of the kind ever erected for the use of colored people.

Preceding the ceremonies of dedication several colored organizations participated in a spectacular street parade, headed by the Eighth Infantry, Illinois National Guard. The gleaming trappings of the guardmen were set off by the somber black coats and high silk hats of several fraternal orders which took part.

The dedicatory address was made by Booker T. Washington, who declared the opening of the building marked an epoch in the advancement of the negro race.

Mr. Sidley read a list of those who gave large donations, which made the building a possibility. Among them were N. W. Harris, $25,000; Julius Rosenwald, $25,000; Cyrus H. McCormick, $25,000; The Pullman Company, $10,000; Mrs. G. F. Swift, $5,000, and the colored people $20,000.

JAPANESE DRIVER DYING

Chauffeur Sverves Car to One Side of Road Near Fresno and Tire Bursts, Causing Machine to Turn Over Two Times.

FRESNO, Cal., June 15.—(Special.)—As the result of an automobile's turning turtle twice on the state highway, three miles north of Fresno, this afternoon, Sister Alacoque, 61 years old, mother superior in the St. Augustine Academy for girls here, is dead, Sister Agnolia's arm has been amputated and Sister Margaret and Sister Columbo are in the Catholic Academy suffering from broken arms, while a Japanese chauffeur is dying in a Fresno sanitarium. Sister Alacoque's death was due to a broken neck and internal injuries.

The accident was caused by the Japanese chauffeur's turning suddenly to one side of the highway. A rear tire exploded, causing the machine to turn over twice. The heavy top saved the sisters from being killed instantly under the car. Opinions vary as to why the chauffeur turned to the side of the road. One report to the authorities is that a party of young men in a machine speeded up behind the car in which the sisters were riding and the Japanese chauffeur became excited.

The automobile is owned by Father McCarthy, of St. John's Catholic Church here. He is at present in Los Angeles. The dead sister was Mary O'Riordan before she entered the sisterhood. She
