REWARD COMES SLOWLY

ACTRESS SEEMS TO FEAR OFFICIALS PLAYING TRICK.

Justice Jones Holds to Jewels, Said to Be Worth $7000, Pending Arrival of $1000.

While Amy Butler's $7000 jewels are reposing in a safety deposit vault of which District Judge Jones holds the key, a reward of $1000 which, according to messages from her, she has deposited in a bank at New York, remains there, and there seems no present prospect of an interchange.

Miss Butler, the officials here believe, is playing a crafty game with reference to her jewels, which were recovered last Tuesday by Detectives Hyde and Vaughn after they had been lost more than a year. To get a clew to the hiding place of the gems the officers had to promise a reward of $1000, with the approval of Miss Butler, and on recovering the diamonds on a search warrant they turned them over to Judge Jones to be held until the money should arrive.

The woman, who is a vaudeville actress, seems to fear a trick, and several days of assiduous telegraphing have failed to induce her to forward the money. Likewise suspicious, Judge Jones will not forward the jewels, fearing that they might be attached upon arrival at New York, and the informant, whose identity is kept secret, might have to go back there to follow up his claim for the reward.

"This man is entitled to his money," says Judge Jones, "and until it arrives in Portland I shall hold the jewels."

A proposal was sent by telegraph yesterday, that Miss Butler shall forward the money, subject to a detainer of 15 days, and if at the end of that time she has not received the jewelry and found it to be all that she claims, the money shall return to her. Her reply to this proposal is being awaited.

SON KEPT FROM MOTHER

Judge Gatens Rules Against Mrs. Georgia Holman.

Mrs. Georgia Holman lost before Judge Gatens, sitting in the dual capacity of Circuit and Juvenile Judge yesterday, her fight to obtain possession through the writ of habeas corpus of her 5-year-old son from Mrs. J. Shannon, of 53 Harding street, her aunt. Judge Gatens decided, in his capacity of Juvenile Judge, that the mother is not a proper person to have the custody of the child and that Mrs. Shannon is, hence the boy stays where he is. At the same time the judge dismissed the application for a writ of habeas corpus.

In defending against the application for the writ attorneys for Mrs. Shannon attacked the character of Mrs. Holman. After it had been definitely decided that she was not to have the baby, Mrs. Holman went into hysterics. Mrs. Holman has been separated from her husband and is earning her own living.

MISBRANDING IS CHARGED

Market Inspector Makes Complaint Against Commission Firm.

A complaint charging the Pearson-Page Company, a Front street fruit and produce commission corporation, with selling misbranded cherries, was issued by the District Attorney's office yesterday morning. The offence is a misdemeanor. Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, City Inspector of Markets, was the complainant.

It is charged that on June 20 the defendant corporation sold a box of cherries branded "Fancy Royal Anns," but that instead of being fancy they were Royal Anns of inferior grade, quality, size and ripeness. In this particular box, it is charged, there were a few good cherries on top and the rest were much inferior.

When one advertisement is not run in consecutive issues the one-time rate applies.

Six average words count as one line on cash advertisements and no ad counted for less than two lines.

On "charged" advertisements charge will be based on the number of lines appearing in the paper, regardless of the number of words in each line. Minimum charge, two lines.

The Oregonian will accept classified advertisements over the telephone, providing the advertiser is a subscriber to either phone. No prices will be quoted over the phone, but bill will be rendered the following day. Whether subsequent advertisements will be accepted over the phone depends upon the promptness of the payment of telephone advertisements. Situations Wanted and Personal advertisements will not be accepted over the telephone. Orders for one insertion only will be accepted for "Furniture for Sale," "Business Opportunities," "Rooming-houses" and "Wanted to Rent."

The Oregonian will not guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors occurring in telephoned advertisements.

The Oregonian will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

In "New Today" all advertisements are charged by measure only, 14 lines to the inch.

Remittances must accompany out-of-town orders.
