Many of the secretaries from the dif-ferent Eastern state organizations in volved in the complex organizations in volved in the complex organization of the World's Christian Citizenship Conference, which will begin its sessions in Portland Sunday, June 29, have arrived in Portland in the last few days and are assisting now in the final preparations for the opening of the session.

session.

Clement H. Congdon, of Pittsburg, who has been in charge of the publicity and general organization work from the central Pittsburg offices, arrived in Portland yesterday and took charge of the headquarters here. Mr. Congdon came by way of California and all along his route has made careful inquiry to ascertain the interest in the coming conference and the probable size of the delegations that may be sent.

ble size of the delegations that may be sent.

"I believe that the interest in the conference is greater than it has been in any other convention that has been held on the Pacific Coast," he said yesterday. "In Los Angeles I found more interest in the World's Christian Citizenship Conference which is to be held in Portland than in the Christian Endeavor, which is to be held in Los Angeles next week. geles next week.

Interest Is Undenominational.

"The interest in the conference among the people of the East is strong-est in the religious organizations which are the least markedly denominational ested in the broad problems of the world. In the organizations where denominationalism is strongest I have found them the organizations where denominationalism is strongest I have found them the own to cal affairs than in the other own to cal affairs than in the other own the Eastern states will represent the element of religious organizations which is most strongly inclined toward a most strongly inclined toward a subscript of the conditions of the races of the world.

SWINDLE CHARGE IN COURT

L. C. Hammer Accused of Securing Land From Woman by Fraud.

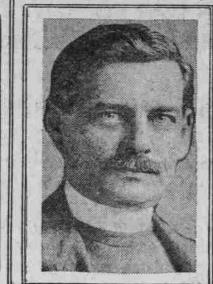

La C. Hammer, accused of participating in a deal by which Mary J. Cole and Emma B. Smith were swindled out of valuable acreage on the Base Line road, was placed on trial in Circuit Judge Morrow's court yesterday. A jury has been drawn, and opening statements were made. Deputy District Attorney Maguire is prosecuting. Hammer was jointly indicted with W. H. Whitteaker, C. F. A. Peck, H. C. Luker and J. C. Luker on a charge of selling the women stock in the Lake Oil Pipe & Gas Line Company, a corporation which purported to own valuable California oil lands, but which, in fact, according to the prosecution, owned nothing. Whitteaker was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary, but released on a trusty penitentiary, but released on a trusty parole by Governor West. The others have not come to trial yet. It is probable that the indictment will be dismissed as to the Lukers. The evidence against them is not strong.

Can You Guess What This Means?

Forty-five per cent of the people of the United States now live in and around some kind of a city.

Can you guess what this means now? It means that all city property of every kind is increasing in value. It means that all the property on the street down which you are walking today will be worth more money tomorrow.

Except as a source of food supply, property has no other value than that which the people make.

The more people the higher the price. That is all. If you want to know whether to buy property in Portland, look at the census report. If population has increased property will increase. It can't help it. That's the law. These big, busy buildings are not so valuable because they cost so much, but simply because so many hundreds or thousands of people happen to pass their doors. Put the Singer building in the heart of the Sahara Desert and the man who bought it for $10 would be robbed.

Now put this law of property to work for yourself. Population in Portland is increasing every year. Therefore property values must
