Not True Bill Relieves Telephone Company From Bond of Its Employee.

CHARGE THIS FALLS DOWN

As Fugitive From Wyoming and California ex-Convict Is Liable to Recarrest at Any Time if Demand is Made.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 23.—(Special.)—In the opinion of the Clatsop county grand jury J. C. Ainsberry, alias C. L. Ainsberry and also known as "W. Warren" and "Bert Lawson," is not guilty of assault with a deadly weapon and the indictment have returned a not true bill in his case.

A day or so later he was released on habeas corpus proceedings, brought in by the attorney representing him, and went to his home in Latta, the Home Telephone Company putting up $1000 cash bail for him on the charge growing out of the return of a not true bill in his case by the grand jury and the release of Ainsberry from his bonds.

GEMS KEPT FROM ACTRESS

Detectives Demand That She Pay Reward as Was Promised. Only by making a trip from New York to Portland can Miss Amy Butler, vaudeville actress, recover her lost $7000 diamonds, found last week by Detectives Hyde and Vaughn after the gems had lain buried more than a year in a laborer's home.

SMALL BOY NOW REJOICES

With Closing of Schools Popularity of Playgrounds is Attested. Summer vacation begins today so far as practical classroom work or examinations are concerned.

Indications of the vacation season are noticeable in the playgrounds of the city. Many of the private and denominational schools closed last week and the week before, and since Saturday, the approaching lapse from work in the public schools has brought out hundreds of children to all of the playgrounds during hours of sunshine.

WATER BOARD POSTPONES

Much Work is Tabled for New Administration. On the ground that the new administration should pass on all pending questions regarding expenditures of money, the Water Board yesterday laid on the table the proposed purchase of supplies for the last half of the present year, the proposed granting of new water mains, and the settlement of a number of important cases now before the board.

WOMAN HOMESTEADER IN CENTRAL OREGON TEACHES SCHOOL AND TILLS.

DRYAD, Wash., June 23.—(Special.)—Miss Mary O'Laughlin, formerly of this city and also of Centralia, has secured a three-months' leave of absence from her homestead in the northern Lake Valley section of Oregon, and has returned to her home in Portland, Ore., to reach Christmas Lake Valley.

ROSARIANS SPEND $3000

ENTERTAINERS REPORT ON OUTLAY DURING FESTIVAL. Committee Appointed to Confer With Other Clubs Regarding Plans for Perpetuating Holiday.

Entertainment for the organized delegations which visited Portland during the Rose Festival and were guests of the Rosarians amounted to $3000, according to the report made at the meeting of the Rosarians held at the Commercial Club yesterday.

Every bill for entertainment has been settled and there is no deficit to be made up. All of the $3000, with the exception of $400, was paid directly out of the funds of the Rosarians.

CONVICT IS RETURNING

ELMER CHRISTIANSEN STARTS ON TRIP TO SALEM. Prisoner, Temporarily Freed, Tells of Governor's Kindness—Pardon Petition is Expected.

LA GRANDE, Or., June 23.—(Special.)—Elmer Christiansen, an Oregon convict, arrived in La Grande tonight from Elgin, where he attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Knight, who committed suicide last week.

Christiansen is alone and unguarded and says that he will return at once to the penitentiary at Salem. He says Governor West purchased him a new suit of clothes and gave him the money with which to make the trip.

Children Await Awarding of Prizes for Gardens. PRODUCTS VIEWED FRIDAY After Exhibit Juvenile Market Will Be Opened for Sale of Fruit, Vegetables and Various Things Made.

Judging the home gardens of school children began yesterday. Many of the children who have held prizes at home or in some neighbor's yard or vacant lot, and other children whose schools did not go for a community garden are pinning their hopes for prizes on the little plots in the home gardens.

NEW BILLS OPEN AT THE VAUDEVILLE HOUSES

Empress. A QUAINI dottering old Hebrew, full of those witticisms which whether dealing with mercenary or amorous matters, have made the chosen famous the wide world over.

Without Herbert it is difficult to make the play a success; he is so very likable, so natural, so completely at his ease as this Hebrew antique.

Briefly it is the old story of money taken from the bank, hidden at home and the secret entrusted by father to daughter who in turn guilelessly hands it on to the son.

Elliot and West, clever clowns, both white faced and black dressed, give school exhibitions of grotesque dancing which keeps the audience's feet tapping in sympathetic harmony.

Professor Ota Gygl, a picturesque youth, took the house by storm with his exciting violin music.

Cecile Beresford, an English comedienne, offers character songs, some of them at the piano.

THE weekly tour of the Lyric program presents an exceptionally rich show. It is one of the best in musical numbers which has been seen at the stock house for some time.

Latest of numerous instances of the filmy security furnished by many ball bonds given in Municipal Court, the case of Charles McAlpin, alleged absconder from an appealed sentence of $0 days, was partially threshed out yesterday and will be finally determined today.

NEW SCHOOL DISCUSSED

SOCIETY HEARS MRS. WORTMAN ON IMPRESSIONISTS. Platform Declared to Be Simple, Chief Tenet Being Complete Spontaneity.

Before an audience made up of students of art and prominent society folk, Mrs. H. C. Wortman, who recently attended the international art exhibition in New York, gave her impressions of the impressionists, post-impressionists and other modern schools of art that have provoked so much discussion at the Art Museum yesterday.

Impressionism is still a difficult problem for many, and add to this greater subtleties and uncertainty. To clear up this mist it is necessary to enter sympathetically into the problem of the new movement, its relation to literature and music and to the times and conditions out of which it has grown.

The platform of the impressionists, she said, was simple, the chief tenets of the movement being "complete spontaneity, independence of all images of outer nature—swift, succinct and powerful execution of symbolic color."

Several of his employees, including Mrs. D. Hart, D. G. Applegate and Mrs. Della Carter, were witnesses in his behalf. Mrs. Hart testified that Barnes had informed her that he was going to leave Silverfield's employ and engage in the fur business for himself.

Several of the incidents of the trial which caused considerable comment and amusement was testimony to the effect that Silverfield marked his goods at the bottom price at which he would allow them to leave the store and that he gave his employees a third of any they could get over and above the marked price.
