Health Officials Issue Warnings to People of Middle Western Towns.

CROPS DRY AND BRITTLE

Oats Will Be Harvested for Fodder. Neither Men Nor Horses Have Chance to Recuperate During Holidays.

CHICAGO, June 29.—(Special.)—Baking, smothering heat, but dealing death and illness, continues to envelop all of the Middle and Central West.

In Chicago suburbs today thermometers registered 104 in the shade, but in that portion of the city within a quarter of a mile of the lake a breeze proved a great relief.

At Marinette two girls were drowned and their mother succeeded in swimming to safety with two other children.

In Eureka, Ill., a boy was drowned while rescuing a comrade.

Three persons seeking relief from heat in the Mississippi River at La Crosse, Wis., were drowned.

In Philadelphia two brothers perished rescuing others, while a short distance away another man gave up his life rescuing another.

Four persons were stricken dead by heat in Joliet, Ill., and there were many prostrations, seven of whom are reported near death tonight.

At Rockford, Ill., two died of heat and 20 were prostrated.

In St. Joseph, Mo., a man, driven insane by the heat, shot five persons and committed suicide.

More than 20 heat prostrations were reported at St. Paul. Heat caused two prostrations and a suicide at St. Paul and at Peoria, Ill., six deaths and ten prostrations resulted from a temperature of more than 100 degrees.

All over Northern Illinois the temperature averaged 100 degrees, accompanied by torrid blasts, and vegetation, although alive, is as dry and brittle as it would ordinarily be in October.

Advices from the farming districts say oats are heading out at from 7 to 12 inches from the ground and will hardly be worth harvesting, except as fodder. The stalks are so short that the crop cannot be bound into sheaves, and if it is to be threshed it must be gathered and thrown into the separators like hay.

With men and horses worn to the point of collapse by the long heat sleep, the health department fears the fatalities will increase rapidly when work is resumed tomorrow. There was no chance for recuperation today and tonight the heat is increasing.

Federal forecasters say there is no relief in sight and health officials are issuing warnings as to sanitation, bathing and the use of proper food, especially in the densely packed tenement districts, where an epidemic would create great havoc.

Up to 9 o'clock tonight there had been five deaths from heat in this city and 11 prostrations, four of which probably will result in death before morning. Seven persons were bitten by rabid dogs.

Points registering 100 degrees and over were: Evansville, Ind., Nashville, Tenn., Joliet, Cairo, Peoria and Springfield, Ill., St. Louis and Concordia, Kan., had 102.

Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., the bake-shops of the Nation, recorded only 98. By way of comparison, New Orleans had a maximum of 90, while Tampa, Fla., and San Antonio, Tex., escaped with 84. Duluth, where the sun was yesterday, leaped from 48 to 80.

APPLE ASSOCIATION GROWS

White Salmon Growers Join North Pacific Distributors.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—At a special meeting yesterday, the stockholders of the White Salmon Valley Apple Growers' Association, composed of the growers of Hasum and Underwood in Southern Washington met across the Columbia from Hood River, voted unanimously to affiliate with the North Pacific Distributors, their connection to be made through the Apple Growers' Association, the amalgamated selling associations of this city.

A number of apple orchards of this smaller district will come into bearing this year, and the community will ship out a large quantity of peaches.

PEARS TO BE EXHIBITED

Jackson County Fair Will Give Prizes for Fancy Fruit.

MEDFORD, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Commercial Club last night a campaign was launched to make Jackson County Fair distinguished each year by its exhibit of pears. Medford people are of the opinion that no district in the world produces a pear that can equal in quality and flavor that grown in this valley, and they believe that this fact should be made known to the country at large through a permanent exhibit.

FINE SHOW GIVEN

Travel Festival Takes Behold-er to Ends of Earth.

BIG FEATURES ARE VARIED

Wonders of Nature and Man Vividly Reproduced, and Comedy, Musical and Educational Numbers Add Interest to Show.

Shows may come and shows may go, but the Helgig theater never was engaged for a more absorbing, instructive, entertaining and all round satisfactory attraction than the Lyman H. Howe travel festival which opened its week's engagement yesterday afternoon and last night.

More accurate than the eye itself is the photographic lens, and when handled with such skill and daring and artistic sense as are revealed in the Howe festival, it is but to realize that the next best thing actually to traveling has been presented right at one's very door.

The two most absorbing thrillers are the race between the motor boat and hydroplane at Monte Carlo, and a ride down the mountain side on a runaway train. In one it is the nearest imaginable sensation to riding in an airship race—in the other as near as one ever wants to be to a frantic engine dashing down a mountain side, and swishing around curves at the rate of a mile an hour.

Another feature is a study of animals, including the wonderful little chameleon, the lion in his lair, the honey-bee and the whaling industry. Each act in the series is a masterpiece. They even show, for instance, the process of bees hatching, their growth and honey making. Along this same line of the less spectacular but infinitely interesting features is the motion picture of flowers unfolding and developing naturally.

One of the popular films was the auto race, which strangely enough showed Bob Burman among the contestants. Next to actual auto racing these pictures give all the thrills and none of the dangers. In fact that is what must be said of the films throughout. They approach the real most realistically. Water and winter sports, birdseye views of famous European cities, a drill by the Redham orphans of London, a ride in a dirigible balloon and a gorgeous gale at sea, are among the wonder works of the camera man.

There is a fact, too, that must not be overlooked, and that is the human sound producing accompaniment of the various films. The burr of the motor boats as they speed through the water, the deafening din and conversation are marvelously reproduced.

The afternoon entertainment begins at 2:45 and the evening one at 8:30 o'clock. This afternoon and tonight the Oregonian's theater party will be given. The 500 tickets available for this gathering were distributed at the business office of the Oregonian beginning at 9 o'clock this morning. Students in High School courses are invited. Their report cards only will be required as identification.

STRAWBERRY GROWN NEAR DALLAS MEASURES TEN INCHES IN CIRCUM-FERENCE.

Magoon Strawberry, DALLAS, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—The accompanying photograph of a Magoon strawberry grown near Dallas on a one-7 ear-old patch by Morris Hughes.

The berry was ten inches in circumference by actual measurement, and weighed over two ounces.

It was served as a special dessert to E. D. Collins, a Hood River fruit man who was visiting at the home of his brother in Dallas. He declared that the berry had an excellent flavor and that it beat anything he had ever seen in Hood River during the many years he has raised fruit there.

DATES ARE CHANGED

Committee Agrees to Delay on Tariff and Income Tax.

SUGAR FREE MAY 1, 1916

Amendment Would Levy on Cotton Futures—Sweet Wine Provision Not Altered—Democrats Expect Solid Vote.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Postponement of the date on which the new sugar tariff shall go into effect, until March 1, 1914, and a change of that date when the income tax shall be operative from January 1, 1914 to March 1, 1914, were agreed on by majority members of the Senate finance committee today.

In advancing the date when the proposed rate of a cent a pound on sugar shall be applied, the committee did not amend the schedule to affect the provision that sugar shall go on the free list May 1, 1916.

The committee also adopted an amendment which would put a stamp duty on all cotton sold for future delivery declined to reconsider its action in repealing the act of 1890, which released sweet wine manufacturers from payment of the full internal revenue duty on brandies used in fortifying wines, and adjusted several rates on articles referred back by the Democratic caucus.

Extension of time on the sugar schedule, Chairman Simmons announced, was agreed to in order that sugarcane growers, which would not be repeated in the light of larger knowledge, do not doubt each other's good intentions, past or present. We may differ as to means, but are in entire accord as to the good end to be accomplished. Among men so inspired, co-operation is not impossible.

The history of the Democratic party during the past two years affords an instructive lesson. We may study with profit. When torn by dissension it went out of power. As long as it was divided into several parties, it was in hopeless minority, but when united and its leaders buried their little differences and put their party's welfare above individual prejudice, the party returned to power. So long as a division is maintained in the political wilderness and we cannot expect a better fate if we consent to dwell apart in contending camps.

Reservations for the banquet which is to be given in compliment to Mr. Fairbanks at the Commercial Club tomorrow night at 7 o'clock, have been received in great numbers.

While in Portland, Mr. Fairbanks is guest of Judge C. H. Carey, at his Riverside residence.

General tariff revision, more radical in many of its features, than that proposed by the Underwood bill, will be urged upon the Senate late this week, when Chairman Simmons reports the new draft of what will hereinafter be known as the Underwood-Simmons bill.

Protests from California wine producers against the committee amendment to the liquor schedule, calculated to bring in $7,000,000 in annual revenue, did not move the committee, except to grant an amendment making the provision effective January 1, 1914, instead of immediately after the passage of the act.

Democratic leaders say the party ranks will be almost solid behind the bill when it is taken up in the Senate. President Wilson's influence, added to that of the radical Democratic element, has protected all of the severely disputed items, like free sugar and free wool.

MOBILE RESERVES AIM Senator Owen Explains New Currency Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Senator Owen, chairman of the Senate banking and currency committee, issued a statement today explaining the terms of the Administration currency bill. The Senator said the chief end in view was to make bank reserves of notes and to provide an elastic currency for times of need.

"It has been unable to approve the principles of the Aldrich bill," he said. "We believe that the Federal reserve banks, having been established for the purpose of stabilizing the financial operations of the people, should be governed exclusively by the people, and not by a few bankers and financiers."

"We think it no more reasonable to grant this demand to the bankers than it would be to authorize railroads to exercise the part of the governing power of the Interstate Commerce Commission."

"It has been suggested that some of the largest National banks might go out of this system and become State banks, because of their displeasure at not having representation on the governing Federal reserve board."

"We feel justified in saying that there is no reason to apprehend that any National bank will go out of the system because of the provisions of this bill, but that they will generally rejoice at the opportunity afforded them of having a more stable condition in the commercial world."

PARTY UNION SURE

Ex - Vice - President Praises Portland and Discusses Republican Split.

TIME IS DECLARED HEALER

Gains of Organization in Late Elections Noted and Increase During Next Year's Contests Is Believed Certain.

"Rehabilitation of the Republican party is sure to come, and it will come through a Christian spirit of reconciliation," says ex-Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks, who is in Portland as a speaker at the World's Christian Citizenship Conference. That and his favorable impression of the growth of Portland were subjects discussed by the distinguished visitor in a hurry of salutations last night.

"You may go as far as you like in quoting my opinion of Portland," said the visitor. "You know, I have been here several times, and was present at the opening of the Lewis and Clark Exposition. I am agreeably surprised at the growth of the city since then, not only in size, but in quality. I think Portland is one of the most beautiful cities in the country."

Regarding political affairs, Mr. Fairbanks said: "I have hopes that there will be a party controversy for the present. There is less acrimony this year than last and it will be less next year than now. Wherever elections have been held the drift has been decidedly toward the Republican party and in the larger elections, next year this will be emphasized undoubtedly by increased Republican gains."

"Circumstances which unfortunately led to party division a year ago no longer exist. The Democratic party is in feeble power, and it is to come only by the united effort of the great party of those who believe in the soundness of Republican principles. Republicans, that is to say those who believe in the policy of the Republican party are largely in the majority throughout the country. I have no doubt whatever that the logic of events will bring them into co-operation again. This much-to-be-desired result can not be accomplished by coercion of any sort. It must come naturally by the exercise of the spirit of tolerance and patience. Old scores should be forgotten. As President McKinley happily put it, 'It doesn't do to keep books in politics.'"

Difficulty Not Expected. "A year ago many harsh things were said and undoubtedly too many ungenerous things were done—things which will not be done again or said again. 'What would it profit us to recall them?' No well-wisher of his party or his country will endeavor to rekindle the dead embers of the old differences. No prospective spirit should be kept alive. No matter how differently good Republicans saw their duty a year ago, that does not matter. The only thing that public principles, there should be no difficulty except false pride in coming together again. There is nothing so difficult as confessing by deed and word that we may have been wrong, and naturally there is nothing we more heartily commend than frank acknowledgment that we have not been absolute.

"We are so removed from the smoke of the last campaign that we can speak with calm deliberation. We can see that many were at fault and things are done which would not be repeated in the light of larger knowledge, but do not doubt each other's good intentions, past or present. We may differ as to means, but are in entire accord as to the good end to be accomplished. Among men so inspired, co-operation is not impossible."
