

HITCHCOCK QUILTS CAUCUS IN ANGER

Defeat of Tobacco Tax Stirs Senator.

PARTY POLICY IS DEVELOPED

Members Will Be Bound to Oppose All Interference.

LIVELY RUMPUS CAUSED

Nebraskan Says He Will Not Leave Democracy, but Will Reserve Right to Lead Fight for Adoption on Floor.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, withdrew from the Democratic tariff caucus today because "that body voted down his amendment that would put a graduated income tax on tobacco production and precipitated the liveliest time the Senate Democrats have had since they began consideration of the tariff measure."

Senator Hitchcock's revolt, which he later declared did not mean that he had withdrawn from the party, or that he would not support the party measure, served to determine that there will be a binding resolution adopted by the caucus pledging the Senators to support the bill as ratified, refrain from introducing any amendments not proposed by the finance committee majority and not to support any amendments offered from the Republican side.

Senator Refuses to Stay.

It was because he anticipated such a resolution that the Nebraska Senator announced that he could not remain in the caucus. He intended to introduce his tobacco tax amendment in the Senate and to lead a fight there for its adoption. Many of his colleagues who had supported him in the vote on his amendment, pleaded with him to remain in the room, assuring him that the privilege of bringing up his amendment could be granted without his taking such a drastic course. Senator Hitchcock declared, however, that there was no other course open and left the room while the excitement was at its height.

The vote on the amendment was 23 to 18. All the members of the finance committee voted against the amendment.

Trust Issue Avoided.

Statements were issued by Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, and Senator Kern, chairman of the caucus, who supported it. Senator Simmons said:

The caucus declined to adopt the so-called Hitchcock amendment to the tariff bill principally because it did not consider it wise to attempt a tariff measure to deal with the trust evil, it was felt that the trust question should be dealt with as a separate question as soon as it could be reached, although after such thorough and mature consideration as the great importance of the subject required. Moreover, such consideration could not be now given by the finance committee of the caucus and the Congress without unduly delaying final action on the tariff bill and disappointing the public desire for its party sentiment.

Tobacco Trust Gets No Sympathy.

"The vote on Senator Hitchcock's amendment," Senator Kern said, "has no significance as indicating any sympathy with the tobacco trust or any other monopoly of the kind of any conference. On the contrary there was a unanimous sentiment in favor of drastic legislation on the subject."

"Nearly all who opposed the resolution based their action on the theory that the tariff bill should not be loaded down with general legislation, especially with legislation directed against one trust and affecting none of the others."

"All agreed that every Democratic platform pledge on the subject of trusts and monopolies should be faithfully carried out by legislation carefully drawn for this purpose."

Child Labor Clause Modified.

Modification of the amendment championed by Senators Hughes and Thomas to prohibit the entry of goods manufactured by child labor, which was referred back to the finance committee, is assured. It was indicated tonight that when the committee got through with it the claim could not be made that it was an impediment to American trade or a protection to American manufacturers.

Senator Simmons said that the completed bill would be reported to the Senate next Monday or Tuesday, together with the committee report, and that the caucus would complete consideration of the measure on Friday or Saturday.

WOMEN CAN BUY NO DRINKS IN CAPITAL

SENATOR JONES FORCES FAIR SEX TO GO DRY.

Filibuster Results in Denial of Privilege in Restaurants and Summer Gardens.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 2.—No woman in Washington was able today to buy herself any sort of intoxicating drink, be it mild or strong, mixed or straight. For the first time in history the District of Columbia, so far as women are concerned, went dry yesterday, largely because of activity of Senator Jones of Washington. The Jones-Works liquor bill went into effect July 1. Under its restrictions no liquor can be sold directly to women in hotels, restaurants, or elsewhere. At hotels women with escorts may have drinks served with their meals, but not otherwise.

By instituting another filibuster in holding up the nominations of the board recently appointed by the President. This makes it impossible at this time to grant special licenses to restaurants to sell to women under same conditions as hotels and until an excise board is confirmed restaurants and summer gardens must serve only soft drinks to women patrons.

Senator Jones' filibuster is due to the fact that one member of the board, appointed by the President, appeared before Congress in opposition to the Jones-Works bill. Senator Jones maintains that a man who publicly opposed the bill is not fit to enforce it.

IMPERATOR AIDS CHARITY

Money Paid to Inspect Great Vessel Put to Philanthropic Use.

NEW YORK, July 2.—(Special.)—Mayor Gavron today received a letter from Dr. Carl Bunz, resident manager of the Hamburg-American line, asking him to accept the company's check for $5000 to be distributed among the charitable institutions of Manhattan.

When the steamship Imperator arrived here recently on her maiden trip, Bunz announced visitors would be permitted to inspect the vessel on payment of 50 cents each, and the total sum collected would be turned over to charity. It is in fulfillment of this promise that the Mayor has been asked to accept the check.

In all, $9,888 paid to inspect the Imperator and a total of $15,344 was collected. The rest of the money has been divided among several local German societies and hospitals.

INDIAN PATRIOTISM WANES

Idaho Tribe Sad When Government Forbids Sun Dance.

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 2.—(Special.)—Angered because orders to stop their annual sun dance came from Washington, 1909 tribesmen from the Fort Hall Indian Reservation, who had gathered at an Indian farm 10 miles east of here for a four-day observance of an ancient tribal custom, have drifted back to the reservation with all patriotism gone from their hearts.

They planned to hold a Fourth of July celebration as a windup to their sun dance, but when the Great White Father at Washington decreed that they could no longer perform the sun dance, the fire of patriotism waned.

Only tact and diplomacy on the part of tribal leaders prevented a demonstration when the Washington order was received.

FRIEDMANN LOSES GROUND

Berlin Medical Society Refuses to Test Tuberculosis Serum.

BERLIN, July 2.—The Berlin medical society at its regular meeting today rejected by an overwhelming majority the request of Professor Ludwig Schleich, the assistant of Dr. Friedrich P. Friedmann, that the society appoint a committee of four to test the Friedmann vaccine for tuberculosis in any way which might appear to it most advisable.

The decision of the society was greeted with cries of bravo.

The president of the society, speaking informally later, declared that if Dr. Friedmann really desired a test he could have it by placing his remedy at the disposal of the different hospitals. This statement was applauded.

BASEBALL ACCIDENT FATAL

Collision Between Fielders Causes Death of Silverton Player.

SILVERTON, Or., July 2.—(Special.)—Frank Van Nuy, the Stayton man who sustained serious injuries at a baseball game in this city Sunday, died at the Salem hospital Tuesday. Mr. Van Nuy was playing left field for the Stayton team and in an endeavor to capture a long fly he and the center fielder collided. Both men fell and Van Nuy struck with the small of his back across the other man's knee. The game was stopped and Dr. Lewis, a spectator, gave the man attention.

Mr. Van Nuy was taken to a hotel and cared for. His condition was not considered serious until Monday, when he was taken to Salem.

Charges of $82,000,000 Falsification of Union Pacific Books, Involving Financiers, Part of Amazing Story.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—A story of misrepresentation, impersonation of public men and organized effort to influence Wall Street financiers probably without parallel in the history of Congressional investigations was unfolded today before the Senate lobby committee.

A prosperous-looking, self-possessed individual, calling himself David Lamar of New York, self-described as an "operator in stocks" and admittedly the bearer of several assumed names, was the principal in the remarkable session. With entire abandon, arousing the committee to laughter at times by his naive admissions, he told of his impersonations, his participation in attempts to influence Wall Street operations and his association with Edward Lauterbach, a New York lawyer, in efforts to have Lauterbach retained by the Morgan firm, the Union Pacific and other great interests, to head off Congressional activity in Washington.

Various Names Assumed.

He telephoned to financial men and lawyers in the names of Representative Palmer and Representative EJordan. He assumed the guise of Chairman McCombs, of the Democratic National Committee, to telephone to Chairman Hill, of the Republican National Committee.

Lewis Cass Ledyard, of New York, counsel for the Morgan firm, was one of his attempted victims. Mr. Ledyard came to the witness stand today armed with almost a verbatim account of all the conversations held with Lamar, who had represented himself as Representative Palmer. As he read the record of the conversations, in themselves unusual in their tone, Lamar, sitting nearby, laughed and nodded, saying "that's right," and slapping his leg with apparent enjoyment.

The purpose of his impersonations, Lamar contended, was to secure reinsurance for his friend, Edward Lauterbach.

THOUSANDS LEAVE CAMP

Picturesque Feature of Today Scheduled at Bloody Angle. Where Survivors Will Repeat Charge and Shake Hands.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 2.—A roaring storm swept down out of the Blue Ridge over the plateau of Gettysburg today, bringing needed relief to thousands of veterans in blue and gray, who have sweltered for four days in an atmosphere that would do credit to a fireless cooker, dangerous in a city of 50,000 old and weary men.

For more than half an hour rain came pouring down on the sun-cracked and windswept encampment ground. It changed with violent thundering over the ground that Pickett covered in '62. Its salvos of thunder were like the booming guns of Meade and Lee, and the thermometer dropped rapidly. Lightning cleared the air of its burden of humidity.

Tents Saved From Storm.

In the vanguard of the storm was a wind that eddied the dust in blinding clouds. The veterans scurried for their tents to lash them down. They showed they had not forgotten the old days, for not a tent was blown over, so far as reports showed tonight, and not a veteran was injured. At the big tent where the formal exercises were held the army of workmen hurried in the face of the storm to put up its side and prepare for the unusual. For days they have watched for the coming of a big wind and men have been stationed to tie it tight if the wind rose above a gentle breeze. Predictions have been many that a sudden gust would lift the canvas and the poles high into the air and spread destruction in its path.

The veterans were really able to enjoy themselves for the first time since their arrival, although the ground was slippery, the roads a half inch deep in mud.

Big Tent Is Avoided.

He indicated the content of the document to be offered, the text of which, in part, follows:

"The complete programme contemplates evangelism, missions, education and social service. The advance of the kingdom of God among men is promoted in and through all the institutions of man's life; the family, the church and the state. We recognize fully the importance of evangelism, of missions and of education in the work of social redemption. It is our privilege and our purpose at this time to emphasize the meaning of man's civic and social obligations, to interpret the principles of Christianity in social terms, and to suggest methods whereby they may be made regnant in human society.

"We therefore submit the following principles of Christian citizenship for the consideration of all who are interested in advancing civic progress (Continued on Page 14.)
