WATER RATE TO CHANGE

COMMISSIONER DALY FAVORS USE OF METERS.

Great Variance in Price Paid Declared to Exist and Effort Will Be for Equalization.

Installation of water meters will be advocated by City Commissioner Daly as a means of equalizing rates to all users. Definite announcement of such a plan was made yesterday following a detailed investigation of the water rate conditions in the city. No action will be taken until a more thorough investigation has been made.

"At present," said Mr. Daly, "there seems to be a great deal of variance in the water rates charged large and small consumers. For instance the person who has a small place and does not use much water has to pay as much as the person who has a large house and yard and uses considerably more water. There is an element of unfairness in the present rates which should be eliminated if possible. There may be unfairness also in the rates enjoyed by large consumers such as the laundries. As to this it is a long study and I am not prepared to say whether these companies pay too little or too much."

"The intent of the law is to place everybody on an equal footing as far as rates are concerned. When one person is using more water than another and both are paying the same it seems unfair. Measuring the amount of water used seems to be the only feasible means of correcting the trouble."

WATER TO BE GUARDED

MEDICAL BOARD WANTS BULL RUN RESERVE PROTECTED.

Dr. White Declares Building of Railway Would Pollute Source of Portland's Pure Supply.

The members of the Oregon State Board of Health are going to make it a personal as well as an official campaign to secure legislation against ever allowing any person or corporation to occupy the Bull Run Water Reserve.

A delegation is at present at Washington, D. C., trying to secure the enactment of a measure which will allow the construction of a railroad across the Bull Run reserve. To this the Medical Board, consisting of Dr. Alfred Kinney, Dr. E. B. Pickel, Dr. C. J. Smith, Dr. Andrew C. Smith, Dr. E. A. Pierce,

CITY SEWERS PLANNED

PORTLAND MAY BUILD ITS OWN WASTE PIPE SYSTEM.

Commissioner Daly Says Work Could Be Done at Less Expense if Taken From Contractors.

Adoption of a system whereby the city will construct its own sewer mains instead of letting the work by contract to private contractors is to be one of the first considerations of the new City Commission when that body gets down to the work of re-establishing and revising the general public improvement code. The question probably will be presented by Commissioner Daly who says he believes the city can save money by constructing sewer mains as it constructs water mains.

At present sewer construction is in the same class with street paving. The city authorizes an extension of sewer mains and advertises for bids. The contract is let to the lowest bidder. In the Water Department the same method was used until a few years ago when it was found that the mains could be laid better and cheaper by the city.

There is a difference between the two classes of mains in that the water mains are built and owned by the city and the sewer mains are built and owned by the property owners. It is considered certain, however, that the majority of property owners would favor municipal construction and payment of the cost under the assessment plan.

At present there are contracts amounting to about $400,000 let to private contractors for sewers. It is estimated that by eliminating the profits of the contractors the city by constructing these sewers could save to the property owners approximately $100,000.
