Women at State Capital Are Aroused Over Action of City Council.

MINISTERS TAKE UP FIGHT

Social Leaders, While Against Mrs. Lynch in some Ways, Declare City Has Need of Police Woman. Mayor Vetoes Repent.

SALEM, Or., July 8 .- (Special.) -- The action of the city council in abolishing the position of police women has caused much excitement in the capital city. Friends of Mrs. Lella Lynch, who was police-woman, have railied to her support and a fight to the finish is looked for. All ministers of the city are arrayed on her side, and while many of the prominent women are against her, all prominent women are against her, all are agreed that the city should have a police-woman and a police matron. Mayor Steeves, who is a champion of Mrs. Lynch, today vetoed the action of the City Council which repealed the ordinance providing for a police-woman and a police matron. The motion to repeal the ordinance was carried by a vote of nine to five, and the Councilmen who desire the retirement of Mrs. Lynch say the ordinance will be carried over the Mayor's veto. Meanwhile Mrs. Lynch is active and so are prominent members of the women's clubs.

"There is pienty of room for women on our police force," said Mrs. Richard Castwright, a member of the women's club. "If Mrs. Lynch did not make a success of her work the thing for the City Council to do is to find a suitable person for the position. By all means it should not be abolished. I think Mrs. Lynch was over zealous.

"A certain class of women find need of a woman on the police force." said Mrs. Gaylord H. Patterson, wife of the dean of liberal arts in the Willamette University. "In larger cities they have police-women and Salem should have them."

Mrs. William H. Flemming, president of the Woman's Club, championed the cause of Mrs. Lynch. She declared that Mrs. Lynch had aided the morals of the people of the city.

"Mrs. Lynch should be complimented for her work," declared Mrs. Flemming, "instead of being dismissed. A woman should have a place on every official board of the city. A woman is especially needed on our school board, and by all means a competent one should have a place in the City Council."

Other members of the club said that Other members of the club said that the city should have a police-woman, and it is probable that the club as a whole at its next meeting will adopt a resolution insisting upon the Council abrogating its action in repealing the ordinance. Members of the Council whos voted for the repeal of the ordinance say they did so because Mra. Lynch was acting as a detective in the interest of Mayor Steeves, and Councilman Minton instead of performing the duties which were named in ing the duties which were named in the ordinance providing the position.
