*************** ROGUE RIVER VALLEY HAS ALMOST PERFECT BABY.

That the Rogue River Valley contains an almost perfect baby was shown by the recent eugenic baby show held in Medford. This prize-winning baby, Clara Mary Fuson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Fuson, received, at the Thomas J. Fuson, received, at the hands of the examining physicians, the highest score ever awarded a baby under one year in the West—99.85 per cent. Height, weight, color, muscular development and general formation of the bones were under the closest scrutiny. The food of the child, the regulation of feedings, the amount of fresh air given. the amount of freesh air given, the child's ability to give attention were all made matters of record. The official score card of the department of public health of the State University of Iowa was the basis of grading.

Interment was made in the Grand Army of the Republic Cemetery. George Wright Post No. I, was in charge. Rev. C. E. Cline officiated.

"We have been inclined to minimize the service of the First Oregon Volunteer Regiment," said Rev. Mr. Cline, "but I have learned to regard the men very highly. They enlisted in the Oregon volunteer regiment at a time when it was worth a man's life in this state to express himself. I learned through it was worth a man's life in this state to express himself. Captain Baty said he had complained to Acting Chief Slover about the amount of politics his detectives were required to do, often against their wills and to the detriment of efficiency. Baty Obeya Slover's Order.

Slover is said to have replied that there was a way in which the detec-tives could aid Rushiight, without get-ting into any unpleasantness or taking time from their work. This was by time from their work. This was by boosting the News. Baty says he was directed to put the proposal before his men, and he obeyed orders, taking the liberty to omit some he knew would not take kindly to the proposal. Early in the game he ran foul of Detective Abbott, who fiatly refused to do as asked. Baty reported the situation to Chief Slover and advised that the plan be dropped. Instead of doing so, Slover called Abbott "on the carpet," but when he faced the determined officer the Chief also decided that the plan would not work. Few officers contributed to the fund, but a number who did so retain their receipts and may be called before the jury.

None ever was asked nor offered. Of course perwas asked nor offered. Of course persons seeking positions in the civil service were coming to me daily, but to none of them was any such suggestion made. What Mr. Markham may have done I cannot say, but he certainly did nothing by my authorization. I certainly shall go before the grand jury and already have notified Mr. Evans that I desire the privilege.
