RAILROAD HEADS ON TRAIL OF CONGDON

Citizenship Conference Is Denounced as "Frame Up" to "Sting" Portland.

SAN FRANCISCO IS WARNED

Other Cities Urged to Steer Clear of Promoter Traveling Under Cloak of Christianity-Speakers

Were Deceived.

Railroad officials in Portland and in other parts of the country have started BURNSIDE SPAN SHOULD OPEN on the trail of Clement H. Congdon, romoter of the recent "World's Christian Citizenship Conference," held in Portland and intend to prevent him Preliminary Organization of Imfrom engaging in a similar enterprise in San Francisco or in any other city in 1915

Advice has been sent to officials or the various roads in San Francisco and to officials of the Panama-Pacific Exposition that the recent Portland conference was a disappointment in attendance and that there was a gross last week Congdon declared that a score of cities in the country were bidding for the 1915 meeting, and tioned, among others, Boston, Cleveland, Louisville and Toronto.

At the same time he displayed a telegram which, he said, came from officials of the Panama-Pacific Exposience held in San Francisco during the Congdon's Claims False. Inquiry in the last few days reveals that no one in either Cleveland, Boston, Louisville or Toronto ever asked for the conference. The supposition is that Congdon used the names of these cities for the purpose of getting San Francisco to "bite." No doubt San ancisco did bid for the meeting after the proposal was made to that city, for exposition officials are after every convention they can get in San Fran-cisco in the year of the world's fair. But unless the San Francisco people act against the advice of friends in Portioned they will steer clear of Congdon and his associates. Investigation in the last few days as revealed how several eminent peakers from foreign countries were induced to come to Portland.

The fact that they came in good faith, never doubting the sincerity of Congdon nor the worthy character of he meeting, never has been disputed. They were imposed upon by Congdon, is were the people of Portland. Few, if any, of these foreign speakers lost any time by coming to Portland. them were on speaking tours in the United States. Some of them on Chautauqua circuits. It was trouble for Congdon to borrow from the Chautauqua bureaus. The expense was slight. The clergy-men traveled on railroad passes and the residents of Portland gladly offered hospitality to all speakers.

Wrong Name Given Meeting. The term "world's" conference was a deliberate misnomer. Axide from the speakers there was not a single dele-gate from outside the United States and Canada in attendance. Congdon's wild assertions that 700 delegates would come from England caused sev-eral residents of Portland having relatives in that country to make inquiries by mail regarding those who were coming. Letters sent to the leading re-ligious papers in London brought in-formation that the editors knew noth-ing of the conference.

That was fully six months ago-at the time when Congdon said a staff of speakers was parading up and down the British Isles, heralding the name and fame of Portland and instructing the shiploads of eager delegates how to get here so that they might have a hand in reforming the world and everybody in it.

It was about this time that a number of Portland business men, newspaper men and several dergymen started to suspect that all was not regular about Congdon and his methods.

Congdon, it appears, acted upon his own responsibility in hanging this conference to Portland. He tried every other city on the Coast, but none of them would "fall" for it. So far as known the "National Reform Association"—whatever that is—wasn't particularly anxious to hold a meeting.
Portland wasn't looking for it. Not until Congdon came here was the idea ever suggested.

The whole 1913 convention was "framed up," developed and perpetrated, it appears, for the mere and sole purpose of giving Congdon and a few of his assistants—male and female—some nice fat jobs and the distribution of $15,000 of Portland money.

The land in question was bought last November from the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company by J. E. Wheeler, of Portland, who subsequently transferred his rights to the Penn Timber Company. Coincident with the filing of the mortgage is the filing of a satisfaction of Railroads, on Failure to Furnish Sisting of several acres, is one of the most valuable pieces of property exempted. Mr. Reed's attention was called Daily Under New Ruling.

SALEM, Or., July 9.—(Special.)— Rules governing demurrage and reciprocal demurrage issued by the State Railway Commission today fix the charge to shippers for holding cars overtime at $2 a day and to railroads for failure to furnish cars as specified at $2 a day. Under the old rules the shippers paid $2 a day and the rail-roads recently asked that they be com-pelled to pay $3 a day, which, it was declared, would prevent a shortage of cars during the busy seasons.

The rules, which will become effec-tive September 1, with slight amend-ments, are identical with the National car demurrage rules, recommended by the Interstate Commerce Commission Railroads which object to the regula-

ONTARIO, Or., July 8.—(Special.)— John Burnhuff, a transient, was brought to the hospital here from Vale today suffering from a bad gunshot wound in the right thigh, inflicted by Fred Hoffman, a Chinaman of Vale. Assessor Will Ask Ruling or What Property Should Be Exempt.

STATE LAW SPARES SOME

Organizations Under Classification of Literary, Scientific, Educational or Benevolent Associations May Escape.

To give Attorney-General Crawford or District Attorney Evans an oppor tunity to decide whether they should be assessed and pay taxes County Assessor Reed has called on heads of several clubs, fraternal orders and similar organizations in the city to pro-duce copies of charters and legal briefs in support of their contention that they should not be assessed. Mr. Reed says he will pass this data up to either Mr. Crawford or Mr. Evans for an opinion in each case and that he will be guided by such opinions.

Heretofore these organizations, including the B. P. O. Elks, Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club, Portland Heights Club, Mount Seet the Control of the Con Amateur Athletic Club, Portland Heights Club, Mount Scott Athletic Club, Knights of Columbus Club, Irv-ington Club, Rose City Park Club and Columbus Club, have escaped assessment because they claimed to come under the head of literary, scientific, educa-tional or benevolent associations, which are exempt under state law. Assessor Reed has called upon these organiza-tions to show why they are entitled to such exemptions.

Former Assessors Lenient. It was the policy of B. D. Sigler, who preceded Mr. Reed in office, and of Mr. Sigler's predecessors, to exempt both the real and personal property of organizations such as those named organizations such as those named when the property was used exclusively for the purposes of the organization. In cases where it has been the cust to rent portions of the buildings, the Elks, Masons, Portland Turn rein, Oddfellows and others do, it has been the custom to assess the real estate and buildings at three-fifths of what would be assessed if owned by a sonal property.

The Arlington Club has been paying taxes on the basis of a full assess-ment. The Concordia Club has been paying on a three-fifths basis, but voluntarily consented to a full valuation this year. The Portland Commercial Club had paid on its realty and building, but was exempted by the Board of Equalization from paying on personal property on the plea that it conducts at great expense a publicity bureau, which is of benefit not only to the City of Portland and the County of Multnomah but to the state at large.

Many of the organizations which have escaped payment of taxes are incorporated under a state law providing for the forming of literary, charitable, benevolent, religious and scientific as-

Reed Plans Housecleaning. Mr. Reed's purpose is to have a sort housecleaning to weed out those which are not genuinely entitled to exemption. It has developed that some organizations are not paying taxes on property which is not in actual use for club or organization purposes, but these instances are rare. The Portland Rowing Club, for instance, is not paying on several lots owned in Kern Park. Multnomah Club athletic field, conto this by an inquisitive taxpayer who said that for about three years there had been a sign up offering to sell or lease a portion of this tract. He wanted to know why it wasn't taxed when not in actual use for club purposes.

On behalf of the Irvington Club a letter has been written to Mr. Reed by William F. Woodward, president, in by William F. Woodward, president, in which attention is called to the fact that the club maintains athletic instructions in various forms, a kindergarten and playgrounds for children. The playgrounds are one of the same and the sa charge. Mr. Woodward argues that "this institution is primarily an educational factor in our civic life."

of the Sweet Pea Society came to a lose last evening. Many of the prize winners and others brought fresh bouquets with them in the evening and the display at the closing was almost as brilliant as it ad been in the beginning. The show this year indicates some important new features in the trend of sweet pea culture in this vicinity. There were this year no entries in the grandifiora class, the Spencer varieties having assumed full sway in the favor of the sweet pea growers. Another feature was the pretty trellis displays of sweet peas, entered by Peter Vragnizan. A special prize was awarded him for this display. This form of display is a favorite with English fanciers. Ralph Routledge, who managed the show, says he believes this feature will be one of great importance in shows of coming years. Another thing noticeable in the show was the greater tendency of the florists of the city to participate. The majority of the sweet peas exhibited will be sent out in automobiles today for distribution among the patients in the hospitals of the city. There were this year no entries in
