Coppenheimer, known throughout California as the "human tiger," who has been staving off death by the gallows for nearly seven years, has given up hope tonight of further reprieve. He told Warden Johnston that he was prepared for the end.

Death Penalty Is for Assault.

Oppenheimer will be the first feion to be executed in America for simple assault. Under a California law enacted in 1997 assault upon a fellow convict by a "life termer" was made an offense punishable by death. The law was designed in the interest of discipline. Four other men have been convicted of a similar offense. One, Francieso Quijida, awaiting execution in Exclaration as murdared by Oppenheimer of the report of the committee.

NIGHT COURT SESSION HELD

Trial Fails to Bring Out Expected Sensational Evidence - Socialists From Portland Attend Trial, but No Disorder Results.

OREGON CITY, Or. July 10.—(Special.)—Up to midnight the jury trying the case of the 15 Socialists and I. W. W. members charged with rioting on W. members charged with rioting of the night of June 10 at the local paper mills, had not returned a verdict. The case went to the jury at 9:45 o'cloc after a night session had been held. Judge Eakin's instructions to the jury was taken to favor the state. The attorneys for the defense, in their attorneys for the defense, in their arguments before the Jury, insisted that under the Oregon law rioting must show three men at least acting at the same time and in practically the same manner. Judge Eakin advised the jury that it was not necessary, under the law, for the men to be doing the same thing, but that they were acting at the same time was sufficient. At midnight the court advised the jury that if it had not reached a verdict by 2 o'clock to bring in a scaled verdict if a decision was reached. The defendants were placed on the stand in their own defense today, and stand in their own defense today, and they all told practically the same story. One after another the men said that they had been working in the mills, had not been engaged in any agitation for a strike, and had suddenly found the mills shut down by men they did not know. All denied taking any part in the trouble, and declared that when in the trouble, and declared that when they were arrested by the Sheriff and his deputies they had simply been "standing around trying to find out what the trouble was about."

Evidence Not Sensational. The state closed its case today, and the defense took the stand. Sensational evidence that had been expected failed to be brought forth by either side. The state's testimony consisted merely of a review of the trouble at the mills, and of the identification of the defendants as men who had taken part in the rioting. The defense, on the other hand, denied that its members had taken part in the trouble. Most of the men said that they had worked in the mills only a few days, and that as they found the work much harder than they had expected they were intending soon to quit.

After both sides had closed direct testimony, the state endeavored to ge in further evidence on rebuttal, and called several witnesses, but objections to their testimony were made by John A. Jeffrey, attorney for the defense, and in almost every instance the court upheld the objections. At 5 o'clock the request for a night session
