

WOMEN CARRYING PLEAS TO SENATE

Suffragists Plan Another Big Demonstration at National Capital.

GIANT PARADE SCHEDULED

Army of Fair Marchers, Representing All Parts of Nation, Will Present Monster Petition to Dignified Body.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(Special).—Treking from all sections of the country to a little hamlet six miles north of Washington are women who are to participate in the equal suffrage demonstration on July 31. Some of these women are coming afoot, others by automobile; some are on horseback, others in wagons. All promise, however, to reach the place of rendezvous not later than the morning of Thursday, July 31, and if necessary to keep their appointments they will make final dashes in their pilgrimages upon railroad trains.

The second woman suffrage demonstration upon Congress in the campaign for votes for women will be a parade of the unpromising features that marred the parade held here on the eve of March 4. The coming demonstration will be by automobiles, the procession forming at Hyattsville. Every state in the Union will be represented by two women in the procession, the delegations being arranged in alphabetical order according to states, bearing respective state flags and in addition the flag of their organization.

Senate to Be Petitioned. The purpose of the demonstration is to present to the United States Senate petitions urging the immediate passage of the resolution introduced by Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, providing for a constitutional amendment granting women the right to vote in all Federal elections.

It is not thought possible that the traditions of the Senate will be smashed by a reception of the equal suffrage pilgrims upon the floor of that body.

Parading Pennsylvania avenue, the women pilgrims will abandon their automobiles and flags at the Capitol and enter the building armed with miles of petitions. No plans have been arranged for any ceremonies at the Senate and it is thought none can be held in a self-constituted committee of Senators favorable to woman suffrage will meet the representatives of the different states, see that the petitions are duly received and cared for and that the women themselves are protected from molestation and insult.

Pilgrims to Make Speeches. En route from their homes to Hyattsville, Md., the place of rendezvous, the pilgrims will make frequent speeches advocating their cause and will ask alms to the petitions. The longest pilgrim is Mrs. J. L. Laidlaw, of Chicago, who is leading a campaign against the city ordinance requiring women bathers in the lake to wear handicapped skirts, today took a leisure swim attired in bloomers, defying the beach guards and the police. When she finally came out of the water she was arrested and required to furnish bond for appearing at her trial tomorrow for violating the ordinance, defying a policeman and generally defying the municipal powers.

CHICAGO, July 27.—(Special).—Dr. Rosalie M. Ladova, a shapely suffragist, who is leading a campaign against the city ordinance requiring women bathers in the lake to wear handicapped skirts, today took a leisure swim attired in bloomers, defying the beach guards and the police. When she finally came out of the water she was arrested and required to furnish bond for appearing at her trial tomorrow for violating the ordinance, defying a policeman and generally defying the municipal powers.

After the dust-covered pilgrims have delivered to the Senate the petitions the scene will shift to the Capitol building where they will be hastened to hotels or the homes of friends to await the hearing. The hearing is given at the fashionable Chevy Chase Country Club, under the auspices of the Congressional committee of the National organization. Among the speakers at the banquet will be Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw and Mrs. Mary Ware Bennett, of New York; Mrs. Susan Walker Fitzgerald, of Boston, and Dr. Cora Smith King, of Washington.

Mrs. Genevieve Stone, wife of Representative Stone, of the Sixteenth Illinois district, will join the pilgrims at Hyattsville.

TOUPEES SELL IN SEATTLE

Salesman Says Sound City Leads Coast in Baldness.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 27.—(Special.) Seattle men lead the Pacific Coast for baldness, according to Sam Corson, of Los Angeles, whose principal business in life is to relieve the milliard-dollar effect in the pates of those who, while they have lost their hair, are still possessed of a certain amount of affect a natural beauty in the hirsute line. Corson has been here for a week and left today for his home in the south. He represents a London hair company, and during his sojourn there disposed of nearly 50 toupees at about $30 a throw, not to mention 100 pounds of switches, curls, etc., for millady.

The latest thing in hirsute accessories for women is the "wet switch," whatever that is, and Mr. Corson announced that Seattle women have taken keenly to the innovation.

GARMENT SHED IN WATER

Dr. Rosalie Ladova, Arrested for Disporting in Bloomers, Holds Lake Michigan Is Federal, Not City, Territory.

CHICAGO, July 27.—(Special).—Dr. Rosalie M. Ladova, a shapely suffragist, who is leading a campaign against the city ordinance requiring women bathers in the lake to wear handicapped skirts, today took a leisure swim attired in bloomers, defying the beach guards and the police. When she finally came out of the water she was arrested and required to furnish bond for appearing at her trial tomorrow for violating the ordinance, defying a policeman and generally defying the municipal powers.

Acting on the theory that the government of the United States and not the city of Chicago holds dominion over the lake, she went into the water with the skirt on, but when out about knee deep removed it, hiding it under a convenient rock. Dr. Ladova is an expert swimmer and attracted much attention, particularly that of the guards, who swam out and ordered her to put on her skirt. She laughed at them and continued to swim about.

The nonplussed guards then called a city policeman who went out in a boat and ordered her to put on her skirt. She had many words with the policeman, during which she enlightened him to the extent of several columns about the rights of women, the ownership of the lake and the water therein and other timely topics—but she did not put on the skirt. Eventually she decided to come out and when within 20 feet of the land crouched down and put on the skirt. As soon as she stepped on the beach she was arrested.

Building Near Marshfield Burned. MARSHFIELD, Or., July 27.—(Special).—Fire, of supposedly incendiary origin, destroyed a house midway between Marshfield and North Bend, belonging to William Cox and Clay Roberts, formerly of Portland. The house had been vacated recently, but the furniture was not moved out and it is thought the contents were stolen and the fire started to conceal the theft. There was $500 insurance on the building, which was valued at $1,000.

SUFFRAGE RIOTING CHECKED BY POLICE

Mrs. Pankhurst Again Arrested in London After Starting Wild Demonstration.

DEMAND MADE FOR DEEDS

Trafalgar Square Is Mass of Excited, Struggling People, but Action of Police Prevents Window Smashing.

LONDON, July 27.—Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette who was out on parole under the "cat-and-mouse" law, was the leader of a suffragette demonstration today which surpassed all previous Sunday afternoon affairs of the sort. In the rioting which followed, Miss Pankhurst was rearrested and taken to Holloway jail.

The meeting was held in Trafalgar Square by the Men's Federation for Woman Suffrage and the East End branch of the Women's Social and Political Union.

"On to Downing Street" proved to be the watchword, and but for vigorous work by the mobilized police, who arrested Miss Pankhurst and 20 men and women supporters, there would have been window smashing and perhaps worse damage at Premier Asquith's house.

"Deeds Wanted," Says Woman. The procession of men and women marched from Whitechapel to Trafalgar Square, followed by constantly growing crowds. Miss Pankhurst made a dramatic appearance from among the crowd and was dragged to the plinth of the Nelson column amid great cheering.

"The time for speaking is over," she said. "Deeds, not words, are wanted. Let us go to Downing street."

She concluded by saying she would defy the police and carry resolutions to the Premier's residence herself. In an instant Miss Pankhurst, with a bundle of papers in her arm, was swept off the plinth by the mob and the square was a mass of excited and struggling people.

Officers Fight Bodyguard. The huge crowd moved down Whitehall toward Downing street. A platoon of police formed a cordon across the road and formed a blockade which held conveyances. Officers in plain clothes got possession of Miss Pankhurst after a flat fight with her bodyguard of East End youths.

Miss Pankhurst was driven to Holloway jail to serve the remainder of her sentence or to stay until she is again released through a hunger strike.

Several policemen were seriously injured by kicks and blows.

Fire damaged today an outbuilding of the King's College Hospital, which King George formally opened yesterday. The police attribute the blaze to the suffragettes.

Mrs. Emmaline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, is rapidly improving as the result of an operation for the transfusion of blood. The operation was made necessary by the weakened condition of Mrs. Pankhurst, following her hunger strikes.

Many suffragettes volunteered to supply the blood.

OLD OUTLAW DIES FIGHTING

Terror of Douglas County Riders Refuses to Be Conquered. ROSEBURG, Or., July 27.—(Special).—Brownie died today as he had lived—unconquered, unriden and an enemy of the saddle to his last breath.

Brownie was the property of Sam Smith. Docile and gentle in harness, Brownie has been the terror of buckaroos of Douglas County for years.

Sid Steele was in the saddle when the beginning of the end started. Steele has carried away several prizes at the Cheyenne and Pendleton Round-ups. The old outlaw was saddled without incident. Steele mounted to the leather and the blindfold was removed. In a flash Brownie reared, whirled clear around and fell heavily backward. His head struck the ground with a crash. There was a brief struggle and the outlaw "cashed in." Steele slid from the saddle and bounded out of the way as the horse fell.

Steele and a number of Pendleton riders reached here a few days ago to give a buckaroo exhibition at the ball park. Word was passed around that Brownie was to be ridden and 1500 persons filled the grandstand and bleachers.

Other animals, including a wild bull, were ridden by Curly Blanchard, Dr. Foley, Louis Ewing, F. A. Fuller and Henry Nesbitt, all of Pendleton Round-up fame.

Prior to the rough riding the Roseburg outlaws defeated the Sutherland baseball team by a score of 7 to 1.

IDAHO DOCTOR APPEALS

OSTEOPATH OBJECTS TO MANSLAUGHTER VERDICT.

Practitioner Gets Six Months to Ten Years for Starving His School-teacher Patient.

BOISE, Idaho, July 27.—(Special).—Convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to from six months to 10 years in the penitentiary for starving Miss Clara F. Foy, a school teacher of King Hill, who was fasted 49 days, Dr. Charles C. Smith, osteopath, has appealed to the Supreme Court to set aside the sentence.

Miss Foy suffered from stomach troubles and in December, 1912, went to Dr. Smith for treatment. At that time Miss Foy weighed 180 pounds, was strong and robust. Dr. Smith prescribed fasting for what was believed to be gastric ulcers of the stomach.

With the physician's wife her nurse, Miss Foy fasted for 49 days. Then she attempted to break the fast but was unable to retain nourishment. Her weight dropped to 100 pounds and she died February 9, 1913. A coroner's jury pronounced death due to starvation. An autopsy was held and the same conclusion was reached.

Dr. Smith was tried in the District Court for Elmore County and convicted. A motion to set aside the verdict was denied, as was a motion for a new trial. Then Dr. Smith appealed to the Supreme Court and the case is pending.

It was shown at the trial that Miss Foy lost consciousness and became delirious during the last days of her fast. A motion to set aside the verdict was denied, as was a motion for a new trial. Then Dr. Smith appealed to the Supreme Court and the case is pending.

The defense of Dr. Smith is that the charge was vague, uncertain and indefinite and not sufficient.

Dr. Smith was prominent in business and political life of King Hill and owned a highly improved ranch in that section. The state board of osteopathy recently revoked his license to practice.

GLASS ABANDONS PLAN

CURRENCY BILL TO BE KEPT IN CONFERENCE. Administration Now Believes It Can Outvote Insurgents and Keep Measure Intact.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Confronted with apparently irreconcilable disagreement among the Democrats of the House banking and currency committee on the pending currency bill, the Administration again changed tonight its plans for getting the measure through the committee and the House.

The scheme of Chairman Glass to take the unfinished bill out of the hands of the committee Democrats and send it to the Democratic House caucus which failed on Friday was abandoned, after Chairman Glass had conferred with President Wilson.

The bill will be kept in the conference of the committee Democrats this week, according to the new plan, and they will be forced to vote on the essentials of the measure. The Administration supporters believe they will be able to outvote the so-called insurgents by 10 to 4 or perhaps 11 to 3.

Representative Ragsdale, who offered the Henry Ragsdale insurgent amendments to the bill, Representative Eagle, of Ohio, Representative Neely, of Kansas, are the four members listed as doubtful.

The Administration forces apparently were encouraged today and advanced the belief that the President, despite the unhappy outlook, would be able to get his bill through both ends of the capitol practically unchanged.
