More than 150 children and a score or more of mothers whose work had kept them from having vacations are now guests in the homes of the people of Silverton and the surrounding country, for "Fresh Asir" party number three, escorted by three members of the Social Service Club of Silverton went down to that cradle of the fresh air movement in Oregon yesterday and joined the 100 that had gone before them in two previous parties.

There were seven women in the party and all of the rest were children; children for the most part who were going for their first real experience with country life, and their eyes were big with the mystery of the coming experiences and bright with eagerness to be started on their way to the won-derland of the country up the valley.

Many Take Delayed Vacations.

"This is the first vacation I have had in ten years," said one of them, "and it will be a wonderful rest to me to get out into the country again."

"I haven't been out in the country since I was married," said another little woman, in whose voice lingered the trace of the soft Southern accent.

Mr. Manning will probably make a trip to Forest Grove today to see what arrangements have been made by the women of that city, who have announced their intention of participating in the movement. contributions when counted The contributions when counted from the late Saturday mail brought the total up to $1950.45, and it is believed that the early mail this morning will carry the total considerably past the $2000 mark. If funds continue to come through the season as they have been coming in the past two weeks, since the movement was started, there will be sufficient not only to care for all of the fresh air parties this season, but to make it possible to begin preparations for a permanent Summer camp to be opened next season for the benefit of working mothers and their children.

ACTION EXPECTED IN OFFICIAL SCANDAL

Armstrong Investigation Is Likely to Be-Renewed on Broader Scope.

Standing of Police Captain Keller, Reduced, Then Reinstated, Is Linked With Case, but His Resignation Is Expected.

Further proceedings in the municipal scandal, centering at present about County School Superintendent Armstrong, will be taken up by the grand fury within the next few days, says Deputy District Attorney Maguire. The prospect is that when the investigation is renewed, it will take a broader scope and will reach depths that have not been probed hitherto.

The cessation of the hearing was caused by a complication of difficulties, in which hot-weather vacations played an important part, but the prosecutor is emphatic in saying that the investigation has not been abandoned. In the interim, hints and tips have been reaching the District Attorney from many directions, and some of these have been found exceedingly valuable.
