At Sewing Time a "Willamette" Rotary Sewing Machine Delights

The many special features of the "Willamette" Rotary Sewing Machines make them the most desired of all, and we know so well their surpassing qualities that we have no hesitation in recommending them to our friends, and are ready to guarantee they will give long and most satisfactory service.

The Automatic Tension, exclusive in the "Willamette," permits the sewing of the sheerest of fabrics, the daintiest of marquisette, to the heaviest of cloth materials.

The Rotary Construction does away with all vibration and lost motion, so noticeable in other machines, and the "Willamette" cannot become clogged—a clever little device attends to that.

Another desirable feature is that all parts are oiled from above, which makes this task a simple one.

Our Binding 10-Year Guarantee Accompanies Any Style of the "Willamette" Sewing Machine. $2.00 with the purchase places a "Willamette" in your home, then $1.00 per week thereafter until paid for. Priced from $32.50 to $45.00.

TARGET RANGE CHANGED

DANGER BELIEVED ELIMINATED ON CLACKAMAS FIELD.

Troops in Future Are to Practice Shooting Against Side of Big Hill.

When the Oregon National Guard marksmen shot in the annual rifle competition on the Clackamas range last week they used for the first time the new range and new target line. The old line of targets, to the east of the one now in use, was abandoned early in June because of complaints from residents living beyond it that they were endangered by ricocheting bullets.

At that time the Twenty-first United States Infantry, stationed at Vancouver, was using the range. The Third Battalion, under Captain Ralph H. Van Deman, practiced in May, and complaints were made that bullets bounded out of the range limits. Later, however, when the Third Battalion under Major Wilson Chase went out to shoot, complaints grew so loud that Colonel

INDIAN TO BE PROTECTED

RIGHT TO OPERATE FISHWHEEL UPHOLD BY OFFICIALS.

United States Attorney Warns The Dalles Firm Not to Interfere With Red.

"Protect Indian rights," said Attorney-General McReynolds in a telegram to United States District Attorney Reames yesterday.

Sam Williams, an Indian, has a fishwheel on the Columbia River, located on Section 26, Township 2, Range 3 East, which land is state property.

According to information received by the Attorney-General, Seufert Brothers, salmon packers of The Dalles, have prevented Williams from operating his wheel.

Deputy District Attorney Johnson wrote letters to D. M. Carr, superintendent of the North Yakima Indian reservation, asking for further facts in the case, and to Seufert Brothers, warning them not to interfere. If they are interfering, with Williams in the operation of his wheel, the Indians are given the right to fish and hunt on their own reservations, and outside of them have the same rights as white men under the fish and game laws.

Therefore, the District Attorney's office holds that Williams has a right to take fish from the river, the same as anyone else, and that he should not be interfered with in so doing.

SWINDLE IS SUSPECTED

REALTY FIRM OFFICIALS UNDER INVESTIGATION.

Members of J. H. Tipton Company Accused by Woman Making Loan to Concern.

Heleen M. Geren, secretary, and J. H. Tipton, president, of the J. H. Tipton Company, real estate dealers, and R. L. Mathison, Mrs. Geren's father, are the subjects of a criminal investigation, commenced by the county grand jury yesterday. They are accused of swindling Mary J. Flynn in a mortgage deal, giving her, it is alleged, a mortgage on lot 7, block 11, Hollywood Addition, in exchange for $2000 cash, when what she wanted was a mortgage on lot 8 in the same block. Lot 8, it is said, is improved with a valuable house, while lot 7 is bare and not worth nearly the amount loaned.

To accomplish this, District Attorney Evans says, an insurance policy covering the house on lot 8 was changed to read lot 7. Mr. Evans declares that he has the original policy issued to Mathison and the copies kept

ARRESTS 13 YEARS APART

Police Character Taken by Coleman After Long Interval.

"Tom Coleman arrested me 13 years ago, and now he's done it again," said John Henderson, asking for a "Hoater," in Municipal Court yesterday. Henderson, once a member of the elite of yeggon, and partner of first-class New York criminals, is now an old man and a "set-up-man," in the parlance of the police. He confessed to being a "two-time loser."

Detective Maloney said there was nothing against the man except that he was a dangerous man to be running loose.

"If that is all, I will not send him to jail merely on his record," said Judge Stevenson. "Are you willing to go to work?"

"Sure!" said Henderson, and he was sent to his way.

CONTEMPT CHARGE FAILS

Robinson May Refuse to Talk to Referee, Says Court.

W. W. Robinson, of the bankrupt clothing firm of Robinson & Co., yesterday was adjudged not guilty of contempt of court by Judge Bean, of the United States District Court. The contempt charge was brought by reason of Robinson's refusal to answer questions asked him by Chester G. Murphy, referee in bankruptcy. Judge Bean ruled that he was within his constitutional right in refusing.

Yesterday's decision does not affect the charge brought against Robinson of conspiring to conceal the assets of a bankrupt, on which he was arrested on a warrant sworn to by United States District Attorney Reames. It is alleged that Robinson, as a director of the company, voted himself extra emoluments, amounting to $18,000, over and above his regular salary of $300 a month.

Clatskanie to Get New School.

CLATSKANIE, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—A new school building is now in course of construction to accommodate the high school for another year. This will relieve temporarily the crowded condition of the school. A modern building will be constructed in a year or two to accommodate the constant growth of the school. At present there is a well-equipped manual training department and a gymnasium, one of the best in the state. The following is the list of the teachers for the coming year: Principal, Jesse McCord; High School, Maybelle C. Higgins, Lillie M. Leitch, grades, Elizabeth Irwin, Clara K. Johnson, Edna McCord, Minnie Trafter, Bertha Pennington, Lena M. Mahn.
