L. F. Morris Admits Making Counterfeits, but Denies Passing Bad Money.

PLANT FOUND ON ISLAND

Secret Service Agent Believes Tale of Prisoner, Who Says This Is His First Offense and Refuses to Name Accomplices.

ALBANY, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Charged with being a member of a gang of counterfeiters who have been operating on Kiger's Island, in the Willamette River, six miles above Corvallis, L. F. Morris was arrested today by William A. Glover, of the Government Secret Service. He was placed in the Linn County jail and a deputy United States Marshal will arrive here tomorrow to take him to Portland to appear in the Federal Court.

Morris came to Albany three months ago and has been working steadily as a sign painter. In his shop when he was arrested were found three spurious dollars.

Several weeks ago the Government Secret Service learned of attempts at counterfeiting on Kiger's Island. Some counterfeit coins and moulds were found by Glover in an old cabin on the island. All of the counterfeiters found were of small denominations. An investigation implicated Morris. At the request of Glover Albany officers have watched him for several weeks. The Government officers today have evidence in the meantime. When Glover arrived today Morris surrendered without trouble.

Glover intimates that at least one of the others implicated will be apprehended soon.

Morris denies that he ever passed or attempted to pass any counterfeit coins, but admits he knew the men at work on Kiger's Island. For six weeks, just prior to coming to Albany, Morris says he was cutting wood on Kiger's Island, and during that time he was involved in some experiments at counterfeiting in a cabin, where the counterfeit coins were found. He asserts that the experiments were a failure and no coins suitable for passing were manufactured. He never tried to pass any himself, and so far as he knows none of the others who worked with him did. He refuses to give the names or number of the men who worked at the cabin. All were amateurs, says Morris. The $3 found in his shop were kept as curios, says Morris. "I never dreamed of any trouble, as I had never tried to pass a single coin."

Glover believes the work on Kiger's Island was an experiment of amateurs. Morris asserts this is the first time he has been in any trouble. He is 34 years old and is unmarried and formerly lived at Hood River. His parents reside in California.

9 INJURED IN SMASHUP

ONE PERSON FATALITY HURT IN ROSEBURG AUTO ACCIDENT.

Owner of Machine, Who Was in Charge, Says One of Companions Made Grab for Wheel.

ROSEBURG, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—That either Fendall Sutherland or Mrs. Helen Wilbanks grasped the steering wheel of his large touring car and thereby derailed it from the road through a near-by fence was the substance of a written explanation made public today by the Roseburg city owner of the ill-fated car and one of the nine persons who sustained injuries as a result of an auto accident this morning. While openly accusing Sutherland or Mrs. Wilbanks of interfering with the steering wheel, Mr. Hildeburn says that the one responsible is excusable on the grounds that they were excited and probably thought that he had lost control of the machine.

While numerous theories as to how the accident occurred have been advanced, Mr. Hildeburn insists that he was driving along the road at a speed not to exceed 15 miles an hour when his dog jumped from the running board and in front of the car. Mr. Hildeburn says he turned the car slightly to avoid striking the dog, when either Sutherland or Mrs. Wilbanks grasped the steering wheel. An instant later the car darted off the road, crashed through a fence and, after ploughing through a dirt for some distance, halted in an orchard 30 feet from the right of way. As the car left the road the occupants were thrown to the ground. Mrs. Gertrude Hildeburn is suffering from a fracture of the nose and concussion of the brain. She will recover. Fendall Sutherland sustained a fractured shoulder blade, a broken jaw, sprained ankle and bruises. Herman Marks was injured about the head and spine. Mrs. Wilbanks, whose recovery is doubtful, sustained a puncture of the chest cavity. Others slightly injured were Roy Rasmussen, James Hildeburn, Maud Wilbanks and Mrs. Frank Brand.

The party was returning from a drive to Oakland at the time of the crash. All are presently in the hospital. Mrs. Wilbanks' mother is expected here tomorrow from California. The car is badly damaged.

CLATSOP RACES SATURDAY

Indications Point to Great Three Days' Meeting at Seaside.

SEASIDE, Or., Aug. 5.—With the Clatsop County Co-operative Cheese Company and the Clatsop County Motor race track, which is to be held on the beach August 9, 10 and 11, and the financial success with which the amusement committee is meeting from the business men, the beach racing events promise to be one of the best ever held in Seaside.

Motorcycle racing men who are stopping at Seaside, Gearhart and Cannon Beach are taking active interest in the races. J. Williamson, who has charge of the horse racing, is in communication with several prominent horsemen, making inquiries about the running events. A number of Portland owners have expressed their intention of bringing their horses down to the beach.

These races will be held at Seaside and Cannon Beach, as some one has spread the rumor.

BOOTH JOINS COMMISSION

Site for Oregon Building at Exposition to Be Chosen at Once.

EUGENE, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—R. A. Booth, chairman of the Oregon Panama Exposition Commission, joined the other members of the Commission at a luncheon and later in the afternoon he will begin his homeward journey.

It is the Bellfountain branch which is in time to be extended into the Alsea River territory and thence to Waldport. The purpose of the extension is development of timber territory, for even now ten carloads of logs a day are being carried on the Bellfountain line and seven cars a day of piling and ties are being shipped.

When Stephen Carver built his Corvallis & Alsea branch from Corvallis he intended to cross the mountains, which at this place are comparatively low, into the Alsea territory, and the line into Monroe was a sort of branch for the accommodation of the Wilhelm flour mills. This little branch from Alpine Junction to Monroe has now become a link in the Portland-Eugene line of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern. The plan of reaching the Coast country, however, has not been given up, and in the course of time the line will reach one of the rich dairying and fishing sections of the Coast country and one of the prettiest vacation spots imaginable.

Sheriff Fears West Will Not Carry Out Threat to Investigate Bandon Affair.

Leach Refuses Assistance of Socialists and Apparently Willing to Leave, Says One of Criticized Officers.

COQUILLE, Or., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—The threat of Governor West to institute an investigation into the attitude of Coos County officers in the deportation proceedings and to remove from office those who were lax in official duties comes as music to the ears of Sheriff W. W. Gage. The Sheriff today stated that he courted a full and complete investigation and only feared that the Chief Executive would not carry out his promise in the matter.

Sheriff Gage says he stands prepared to convince the inquisitors that Dr. Leach refused protection at Bandon on the day of his deportation and also that Leach further declined the good offices of Socialists from whom he desired to telephone the Sheriff in this city for protection upon his arrival here by boat. The Sheriff says Leach paid his own fare from Bandon to Coquille, which he says would indicate that Leach was willing to take his departure immediately.

Upon Leach's arrival Attorney E. L. Cannon, of Salem, wired Sheriff Gage to meet Leach at Myrtle Point, as he desired to return to Bandon forthwith, and give him all necessary protection. To this the Sheriff replied that he would enforce all laws for the protection of persons within the scope of his duties and would give Leach the same protection accorded other citizens, but that he found no warrant of law obliging him to act as an escort to any person. Cannon advised Leach to have any persons threatening him placed under bond to keep the peace.

The Coos County officials want the Governor to make a personal investigation of the so-called mob rule.

C. V. Dymont Joins Department of Journalism—J. P. O'Hara Will Teach History—Dr. Hodge, of Clark, Is Noted Biologist.

J. P. O'Hara

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Three more instructors for the University of Oregon faculty were announced yesterday following a meeting of a committee of the board of regents. These are: Dr. Clifton Fremont Hodge, biologist, of Clark University, to be connected with the extension department; C. V. Dymont, Northwest editor of the Oregon Journal, to be an assistant professor in the department of journalism; and J. P. O'Hara, to be an instructor in history.

Dr. Hodge comes to the university for but a single year, having obtained leave of absence for that length of time from Clark University in order that he may study Oregon conditions. He has headed the biological department of Clark for 24 years. His work in Oregon will be in the extension part of the state to extend the services of the university to the state's municipalities. Dr. Hodge has made a study of the fly nuisance and has been instrumental in a number of Eastern cities, notably Washington and Baltimore, in eliminating the flies by removal of their breeding places. Elimination of rats and other city problems of this nature will come within the duties of the doctor.

Mr. Dymont was graduated from the University of Toronto and began his Western newspaper career in 1900 on the Spokesman-Review. The department of journalism was opened just a year ago with Eric W. Allen, of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, in charge. Mr. O'Hara, an instructor in the department of history, is a member of the State Textbook Commission.
