

TENARA WINS RICH PAPER MILLS RACE

Kentucky Mare Has No Trouble Taking Four Straight Heats From Big Field.

PURSE IS WORTH $12,000

Geers Drives Frances Graham to Victory, Easily Defeating Favorite, Grand Marshal, in 2:16 Trot at Kalamazoo.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 6.—Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a horse race in Kalamazoo, the Kentucky mare Tenara, driven by Andrew Geers, easily won the $12,000 Paper Mills stake, the feature of today's grand circuit card. The event was held on the four-heat plan, $3000 for each heat, and the drivers drew for positions before each start.

In the first heat Tenara and Judson Girl, who will meet again in the Merchants and Manufacturers' stake in Detroit, raced even to the half, when Judson Girl broke. Reubens and Santos Maid also broke, and Andrew Geers had no trouble in bringing Tenara under the wire an easy winner, with Pan Peach second and Reubens following closely.

Third and Fourth Heats Easy.
In the second heat Tenara lay back until the half-mile post was reached. Then she went out in front and came under the wire eased up. In the next two heats Andrew Geers kept the mare in front all the way.

This is the third rich stake won by Tenara this season, she having captured $10,000 events at both Port Erie and Grand Rapids.

Geers Drives Winner.
In the 2:16 trot, the first race of the day, Frances Graham had no difficulty in beating Grand Marshal, who was expected to have the race at his mercy. Geers driving his mare under the wire first in every heat.

In the 2:10 pace, there were only four starters. Mac Thistle easily won the first heat. In the second heat he was in a pocket all the way round, and View Elder won without serious difficulty. After this heat the judges declared all bets off and Hoffman was given the mount behind Mac Thistle in place of Steadman. The shift had no effect in the result of the race, as View Elder took the next two heats in easy fashion.

"Larry Madden will be one of the features of the Pendleton Roundup boxing carnival," said "Doc" Evans, manager of the Pendleton Athletic Club, who was in the city yesterday. The opponent of Madden is Mark O'Donnell, who is a contender for the world's title.

Whether O'Donnell and Madden can be paired or not, both Jack King, Madden's manager, and Evans declare they will find a partner for Madden. Madden is improving with leaps and bounds and King now declares him to be the cream of all the heavyweights when it comes to clever boxing. Madden is also adding up on his build, which, combined with his boxing, puts him well on the road to become a real fighter.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The National doubles tennis championship title will be won by a California team for another year, irrespective of the result of the challenge match at Newport.

Clarence Griffin and John Strachan, aged 22 and 18, respectively, the clever Pacific Coast pair, by a well-earned victory over the Eastern champions in the National elimination matches today won the right to meet Maurice McLoughlin and Thomas C. Bundy, fellow Californians, for the championship of the United States at Newport August 18.

Outplayed in every department of the game and outgeneraled, the Eastern team—Gustave Touchard and Watson M. Washburne—owes its defeat in more than small measure to a decided lack of teamwork, due, apparently, to a certain amount of discord between the men. Both worked hard, but there was an absence of the unity that usually marks the successful doubles team, and points that ought to have won games were lost through it.

Victory in Straight Sets.
The California youths, who have played together for years, played as one man today, and their teamwork gave them the victory in straight sets, 6-1, 6-6, 6-4.

Of the Eastern pair, Touchard played the better game. He lent active support to Washburne but at times there were periods in the match when he was not at his best.

The attack of the Coast team centered on Washburne, Strachan particularly driving with splendid precision and speed to Washburne's back hand.

Washburne Has to Weaken.
Washburne's drive, supposed to be a complement to Touchard's cross-court smashes, were smothered by clever covering by the Coast pair, and Washburne, given more than his share of the backhand, was unable to take care of weakened under the onslaught. Touchard's smashes, on the contrary, probably saved the Eastern team from an ignominious defeat.

Strachan's service, which closely resembles that of McLoughlin, was most effective, and his cleverly played strokes to Washburne's back hand were remarkable for their pace and accuracy. The Eastern team lost many points through inability to gauge Griffin's strokes. They neglected to play ball after ball in the belief that they were "outside," only to have the ball land within an inch or so inside the back line.

In the first set, the Eastern pair were determined to gain through their opponents from the net, but their lob was smashed to out-of-the-way corners with a persistence which clearly was detrimental to the Eastern team. In the second set, the Coast team played every possible ball to Washburne, broke through his service in the 13th game and won the match 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

The final game with a smash by Strachan, which almost took Washburne off his feet.

Before by points follows:
First set—Strachan and Griffin, 442, 444, 4-28-6.
Second set—Strachan and Griffin, 111, 121, 1-11-1.
Third set—Strachan and Griffin, 774, 424, 150, 454, 6-3, 6-4.
Fourth set—Strachan and Griffin, 344, 144, 244, 4-24-6.
Fifth set—Strachan and Griffin, 516, 242, 400, 1-23-4.
