Springfield Plant to Be Most Modern in Northwest, Says Manager of Company.

POWER WILL BE ELECTRIC

Corporation Obtains Title to Big Tracts of Timber and Plans to Start Construction at Once on Site of Old Yards.

EUGENE, OR., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—Immediate construction at Springfield of the most modern mill in the northwest was announced today by A. C. Dixon, manager of the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company. The plans will cost approximately $250,000.

Electrical power is to be used throughout the mill and every precaution will be taken to prevent a repetition of the fire of July, 1911, which destroyed the old mill and yards. Engineers will begin laying off the yards within a few days and construction is to start at the earliest possible moment.

"Having received advice that the government has issued the last of the patents covering our Oregon and California land grant lands, which have been in litigation, we are ready to announce the prospective building of a new mill at Springfield, to take the place of the mill which was burned in July, 1911.

"Cut to Exceed 30,000,000 Feet. The mill will be built to cut something in excess of 30,000,000 feet a year and the logs will be supplied chiefly by rail from our camps above Wendling.

"We do not expect to build any power plant in connection with the mill, having arranged with the Oregon Power Company whereby we will furnish fuel from the plant at Springfield for that company, and will buy electrical power from it to operate the mill.

"Our dock room will not be large, but will have concrete base and will be thoroughly substantial. Our plans contemplate the handling of the bulk of the lumber by electricity, partly by suspending cables and partly by tracks placed on the ground where the lumber will be conveyed by cars propelled by an electric locomotive.

"Fire Precautions to Be Taken. The mill will be sprinkled with an automatic system and every precaution will be taken to protect the mill and property against fire. The buildings will be farther apart than they were in the old plant, and much of the lumber will be conveyed to a point several hundred feet from the old yard, both for the purpose of avoiding risk and to give room for expansion.

"We also expect to establish a sawmill yard. The old mill was destroyed on the night of July 28, 1911. The field water system was undergoing repair and the mill plant was soon out of commission. No rebuilding could be done to stay the flames.

"Rebuilding of the plant was entirely completed upon the settlement of the company's title to several thousand acres of timber land which was bought from the Oregon & California Railroad Company. This was accomplished through the action of the act, passed by the previous session of Congress, and under which title to the land has been quieted.

MINES TO BE DISCUSSED

Chairman of Bureau Leaves for Tour of Valley. To further the work of the Oregon Bureau of Mines and Geology, created by the last session of the legislature, its chairman, H. N. Lawrence, left Portland last night to consult with the mining committees of Commercial Clubs in Oregon, and of the Willamette Valley and Southern Oregon.

A month ago Mr. Lawrence sent a circular letter to every Commercial Club in the state, asking that such mining committees be organized. The purpose of these committees is to aid the bureau in obtaining knowledge regarding the mining resources of Oregon and making it available for general publication.

Mr. Lawrence will be absent about a week on his tour, which will be confined to cities along the route of the Southern Pacific. Returning, he will make a similar trip to hold conferences with the mining committees in towns of Eastern Oregon, along the line of the O. W. & N. Company.

Among the towns he will visit in the coming week are the following: each: Oregon City, F. A. Olmstead, chairman; Albany, A. M. Hammer, Walter Anderson and John McChesney; Roseburg, F. B. Ramsey, E. McClintock and A. T. Lawrence; Canyonville, R. L. Cougler, J. F. Simick and C. B. Bales; Grants Pass, A. H. Gunnell, J. B. Harvey and P. H. McKelvey; Eugene, A. J. Collier, E. H. McCuller and H. A. Tromp; Ashland, F. W. Moore, E. E. Phipps and W. H. Goudey. The mining committees are especially interested in having similar committees formed by every one of the nearly 250 Commercial Clubs in the state.

INTERNATIONAL BOND FELT

Municipalities League Meeting at Wintnipeg Viewed as Significant. WINNEPEG, Man., Aug. 7.—The two flags now bound together by love and good fellowship never came so torn and asunder to be rent by shot and shell of war, declared President Ryder of Omaha, one of the principal speakers at the convention of the League of American Municipalities today. Mr. Ryder said the meeting under two flags has resulted in the rejuvenation of the organization.

A paper on new charter and election laws was read by John B. Martin, election commissioner of Wisconsin, and Clement J. Discepol, of the bureau of municipal research, discussed police methods in New York, after reading his paper on municipal efficiency. Milwaukee, Omaha, Gary, Ind., and Charleston, S. C., are trying to secure the next meeting.
